LAYTON FAMILY
OF
MONMOUTH COUNTY, NEW JERSEY

1 WILLIAM LAYTON, an Englishman, with his name spelled six different ways (Laighton, Laiton, Latone, Lattone, Lawton, Layten), was one of the pioneer settlers of Middletown, New Jersey.

1688, Mch. 25. He had a patent for land granted to him which was surveyed June 9, 1688. Jan. 4, 1688, he recorded his cattle-mark. Apr. 30, 1703, John Stout, in a conveyance of land to his son Richard Stout, lying in Middletown, mentioned the lands of Richard Mount and William Layton as abutting properties.

1702, Aug. 17-18, he made his will as William Lawton; proved June 28, 1708, in which he named his wife executrix, and she was probably the Violet Lawton to whom letters of administration were issued, and his six children.

It is possible there was some kinship between John Layton, of Newport, R. I., who deeded land to Richard Tew in payment for swine on Jan. 14, 1674, and William Lawton, of Monmouth County, and perhaps even more likely that a kinship existed between William Layton, of Monmouth County, and Thomas Lawton, of Portsmouth: "Thomas Lawton, of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, to Giles Slocum of ye aforesaid town and province 2 whole shares of land by me purchased of W^m Reape of the place commonly called Narum-sink Narum-sunk and Pootapeek, also land in and near Shrewsbury, April 1, 1672. Witnesses: John Sanford, William Mairs."

Deeds and Patents, Trenton, N. J., Lib. 1, p. 137.

2 WILLIAM LAYTON, son of William Layton, 1, received his father's land in Middletown, as appears under a conveyance in 1710, from Richard Mount to Idea Barrows, wherein his land is mentioned as upon the boundary, and which land we know had been his father's. However, Aug. 10, 1704, he was settled at Freehold, where he conveyed land for £13, to Samuel Layton, which he had by deed from Richard Harshorne Aug. 22, 1690, bounded by formerly Richard Stout, Jr., George Keith, formerly William Scott and the Gully. The witnesses were Thomas Layton, John Lawrence and William Lawrence. By deduction he was born between 1660 and 1670, and came with his father when a mere lad to Middletown.

1731, Apr. 10, he made his will; proved May 15, 1735, calling himself of Freehold, yeoman, and mentioned:

to his "cousin William Layton, Jr., of Freehold, yeoman, all that tract of land I purchased of William Scott;" wife Mary, upon whose death the residue of his estate is to pass to the aforesaid William Layton, Jr. Executors: Jonathan Forman, Esq., William Maddock. Witnesses: James Stanley, George Seckur, Mary Romaine. He made his mark to the will. His inventory was taken Feb. 5, 1734, and amounted to £257,09,00.

The "cousin" to whom he left his property was no doubt a nephew named after him, and probably the son of his brother John Layton, 5, yet he may have been a son of his brother, Samuel Layton, 6.

3 THOMAS LAYTON, son of William Layton, 1, resided at Lower Freehold, where he died in 1741, for Sept. 26, of that year, letters of administration upon his estate were issued to Joseph Williams and Peter Romeyne, of Lower Freehold, yeomen.

Issue

8 Sarah Layton married Joseph Williams

9 Rachel Layton married Peter Romeyne. They had: Christopher Romeyne who died 1748, and whose wife was Rebecca; Layton Romeyne and Samuel Romeyne.

There was a Thomas Layton who, with wife Lydia, sold land on Manasquan River to Christopher Romine, of Bethlehem, Hunterdon County, N. J., Nov. 1, 1742.

Freehold, N. J., Deeds.

4 ANDREW LAYTON, son of William Layton, 1, recorded his earmark in Middletown, N. J., Mch. 11, 1725-6, and this same mark is next found recorded to another Andrew Layton, Dec. 24, 1764, who was the son of John Layton and brother of Safety Layton.

Issue

10 John Layton

5 JOHN LAYTON, son of William Layton, 1, recorded his earmark in Middletown, N. J., Mch. 3, 1719-20, which June, 1761, was passed on to his son William Layton, and still later, June 20, 1765, to William Layton's nephew, and of course John Layton's grandson, Anthony Layton.

Issue

6 SAMUEL LAYTON, son of William Layton, 1, married Janet, daughter of William Oliphant. They were members of the Middletown Baptist Church in 1712, and he was visited by a committee from this church in 1722. He died about 1732, and his wife was still alive April, 1734. From deeds recorded at Freehold, N. J., it appears that May 30, 1732, his widow Janet, signing by her mark, and his son Samuel Layton, as heir to his father Samuel Layton, deceased, conveyed to Andrew Layton his brother (and son of Samuel and Janet), land bounded by Thomas Layton on the North, by John Layton on the East, by Stephen Aumack and William Layton on the South. Again the same individuals were grantees May 30, 1733, to Samuel and Janet Layton's son, Thomas Layton, Jr., of fifty-four acres of land which said deceased Samuel Layton had by deed from John Heritage Nov. 1, 1707. Thomas Layton, Jr., and Samuel Layton, yeoman, conveyed to Andrew Layton, yeoman, part of a tract of land granted to Samuel Layton, the deceased father of the said Thomas, Samuel and Andrew Layton, by deed from John Heritage Nov. 1, 1707.

*Issue

- 13 William Layton, supposed; as both he and the father of Samuel Layton, 6, were christened William, but there is no evidence to prove such a son, except he was the legatee named in the will of William Layton, 2.
- 14 John Layton
- 15 Samuel Layton
- 16 Andrew Layton
- 17 Thomas Layton

10 JOHN LAYTON, son of Andrew Layton, 4, must have stood in this relation, and have married a daughter of Safety Bowne, from the fact that the names of his oldest sons were Andrew and Safety Layton (after their respective grandfathers), and because the earmark of Andrew Layton of 1725-6 is next found recorded to an Andrew Layton in 1764.

1761, Mch. 1, he made his will, which is recorded in Trenton, N. J.; proved May 13, 1761, and refers to "my four eldest sons, viz.: Safety, Andrew, John and William," which implies that he had more, and the will of his son Andrew Layton proves that they were James and Samuel Layton.

Issue

- 18 Safety Layton
- 19 Andrew Layton
- 20 John Layton; probably it was he who had a license to marry Jane Johnston, of Freehold, Feb. 10, 1764. John Layton was then of Shrewsbury, and made his mark, and Andrew Layton was his surety.
- 21 William Layton
- 22 Thomas Layton
- 23 James Layton
- 24 Samuel Layton

*It is conjectured that the following Laytons were either children or grandchildren of Samuel Layton, 6: May 1, 1712, Rebekah Layton, spinster, and Christopher Morris, cordwainer, both of Monmouth County, Samuel Layton, surety; Nov. 23, 1714, Mary Layton, spinster, and Samuel Bowne, minor, Christopher Morris, surety, all three of Middletown; Dec. 15, 1715, Samuel Layton, yeoman, and Sarah Williams, both of Freehold, Samuel Bowne, minor, of Middletown, surety, all had marriage licenses issued.

- 25 Catharine Layton; marriage license to Gershom Cottrell Sept. 12, 1757, Safety Layton, surety, in which she is called daughter of John. Their son Joseph Cottrell married Mary Thickstone and they had Gershom Cottrell.
- 26 Hester Layton; marriage license to John Cottrell Jan. 6, 1762, Gershom Cottrell, surety. His will on record alludes to "my two first wives children £5, viz.: James, Thomas, William, John, Rhody's children, David, Rebecca Ann, Catharine, Hester;" wife Mary to have the use of the estate and after her decease to "my youngest children," Job, Joseph, Sarah, Gershom, Seriah, John and Rachel.
- 27 Hannah Layton
- 28 Ann Layton

12 JOHN LAYTON, son of John Layton, 5, resided at Middletown, N. J., when he wrote his will June 10, 1784; proved Oct. 31, 1789. He married Elizabeth , who died Nov. 16, 1786. He possessed an ample estate, which, after providing liberally for his widow, he divided among his children naming his sons, John, Anthony and Job, executors. He alludes to the Hill Field, the Point Road, my Father's Spring and my Father's meadow, among other landmarks.

Issue

- 29 John Layton born Nov. 12, 1734
- 30 Anthony Layton born May 18, 1739
- 31 Job Layton
- 32 Lewis Layton
- 33 Elizabeth Layton died prior to June 10, 1784, leaving issue.
- 34 Mary Layton; marriage license to W^m Smith Nov. 6, 1762. His will probably at Trenton, N. J., Jan. 4, 1794, proved Nov. 16, 1795, and if so they had issue: Daniel, Abraham, William, Elizabeth, Hannah and Mary Smith.
- 35 Johannah Layton
- 36 Sarah Layton married Ezekial Cooper by license Aug. 28, (Sept. 4), 1766. She made her will Mch. 2, 1817, proved Mch. 20, 1818. Issue: John, Charlotty (married Mr. Mathews), Benjamin, Samuel (who had Sarah Ann and Ezekial), William (who had Sarah) and Thomas Cooper (who had Sarah).

14 JOHN LAYTON, son of Samuel Layton, 6, resided at Freehold, N. J., Dec. 6, 1729, when his father conveyed him land.

15 SAMUEL LAYTON, son of Samuel Layton, 6, resided at Freehold, N. J., and was grantee of lands May 30, 1733, from his brother Andrew Layton, bounded by John Layton, Stephen Aumack and William Layton. He also appears in other land transactions about this date.

16 ANDREW LAYTON, son of Samuel Layton, 6, was of Freehold, N. J., Mch. 5, 1729, when his father conveyed land to him bounded on the North by formerly James Stout, on the East by formerly James Bollen, on the West by formerly John Oaksson, on the South unsurveyed, to which the grantor had right by deed of Richard Osborn dated Oct. 8, 1712.

1729, Mch. 5, his father again conveyed land to him deeded to grantor by Gawen Drummond Apr. 20, 1715.

1729, Mch. 6, he, Andrew Layton, 16, conveyed this last mentioned tract of land to David Clayton, Jr., yeoman, of Freehold, which lay in Freehold near the head of Manasquan River.

He also appears in several other land transactions.

17 THOMAS LAYTON, son of Samuel Layton, 6, as Thomas Layton, Jr., of Freehold, N. J., yeoman, with Lidea his wife, sold land on Manasquan River for £70, to Samuel Layton, of the same place, and which the grantor had title to by deed from Theophilus Bartow June 7, 1735.

In 1742 (Nov. 1), he apparently had moved to Shrewsbury, N. J., for he, then of that place, with Lydia his wife, conveyed to Christopher Romine, of Bethelchem, Hunterdon County, yeoman, the remainder of the Bartow purchase of 1735, on Manasquan River. He appears in other land transactions in 1733 and 1734.

18 SAFETY LAYTON, son of John Layton, 10, was a resident of Shrewsbury, N. J., when he had a marriage license with Christian Fleming, George Harrison, of Shrewsbury, surety.

He was on the Poor Rate and Dog Tax of 1764; was called one of the four eldest sons and named as an executor in the will of his father Mch. 1, 1761.

From his name Safety, I am confident that he was a grandson of Safety Bowne who in turn was a grandson of Safety Grover. He was still residing in Shrewsbury when he made his will Mch. 20, 1790, proved May 8, 1790, in which he left his son James 10 shillings and the remainder of his estate to his wife, daughter Rebecca and sons Joseph, Thomas and Safety, who were not yet twenty-one.

Issue

- 37 James Layton
- 38 Rebecca Layton
- 39 Joseph Layton
- 40 Thomas Layton born Feb. 12, 1777
- 41 Safety Layton

19 ANDREW LAYTON, son of John Layton, 10, took his grandfather, Andrew Layton's earmark, and it passed upon his decease, to his son Isaac. He was named by his father John Layton, second in the list of his four eldest sons in the will of 1761.

Andrew Layton's will was written Apr. 22, 1800, proved July 16, 1800, and in it he said he was far advanced in years, and bequeaths to the "heirs of my brothers James, Samuel and John Layton, $20, as a bar to any Pretensions," and left to Isaac Layton all his lands in Middletown, with reversion to the heirs of Nancy Sowden and Mary Layton, calling the latter "the youngest daughter of Margaret my housekeeper."

1761, Dec. 19, he had a license to marry Mary Wilkison, of Freehold, with John Layton, surety. He probably had no issue by her.

Issue

- 42 Nancy Layton married a Sowden
- 43 Mary Layton born Aug. 23 (1780?); married Feb. 14, 1802, Thomas, son of Anthony and Hannah Layton, born Dec. 4, 1774.

- 44 Isaac Layton probably died intestate, without issue, as the property of Andrew Layton, 19, was sold Dec. 23, 1852, as the real estate of Thomas and Isaac Layton, deceased, by the descendants of Isaac's two sisters.

21 WILLIAM LAYTON, son of John Layton, 10, made his will Mch. 16, 1793, proved Feb. 26, 1807, wherein he mentioned his wife Catharine, his two youngest children, his sons John, Thomas, Walter and William not twenty-one, and daughter Catharine not of age; "all of my children, viz.: Aaron Layton, Mary Brittin, Tunice, John, Thomas, Walter, William and Catharine Layton."

William Layton, 21, was probably he who had a license to marry Nov. 19, 1764, Catherine Van Pelt.

Issue

23 JAMES LAYTON, son of John Layton, 10, was probably named after his mother's uncle. He was apparently the one to whom land was conveyed May 10, 1800, and Apr. 5, 1805, and in other transactions in 1802 and 1811.

29 JOHN LAYTON, son of John Layton, 12, born Nov. 12, 1734; died Feb. 27, 1814, had a license to marry Dec. 26, 1761, Sarah Sonmans Nevill, who was the daughter of John Nevill, Gent., of Perth Amboy, and Frances his wife, born Aug. 30, 1742, and died Apr. 9, 1818.

John Layton was called carpenter in his marriage license and his descendants say he fought in the Battle of Monmouth in Washington's Army, and that he had a grant of six hundred and forty acres of land in Monmouth County, and that his ancestors were located "between Far Hills and Liberty Corner on the place known as the Henry Appgar farm."

40 THOMAS LAYTON, son of Safety Layton, 18, was born Feb. 12, 1777. The attribution of this son to Thomas Layton is largely by elimination, and because he signed as Thomas S., which might stand for Safety, the name of his supposed father.

1837, Aug. 28, Thomas S. Layton and David Layton, with Hannah his wife, of Howell, made a conveyance.

OF

NEW JERSEY

The Tallmans of New Jersey are represented by several branches of the name having a common ancestor in Peter Tallman, 1, who settled in Newport and Portsmouth, Rhode Island, where he died in 1708. Concerning him and his immediate issue, J. O. Austin supplies the following data:

1655. He was a freeman.

1657, June 9. Peter Taalman was on the list of New Amsterdam burghers.

1658, Dec. 18. He bought nine acres in Portsmouth, for 35 shillings an acre, and two days later added six acres more to the first purchase.

1661, May 21. Portsmouth. He was elected General Solicitor for the Colony of Rhode Island.

1661-1662. He was a Commissioner.

1662-1665. He was Deputy.

1665. The Assembly granted him a divorce from his wife Ann.*

1665, July 24. He entered into an ante-nuptial agreement with Joan Briggs, of Taunton, agreeing to give her the land that he had bought in 1658, as also a house to be hers and the heirs born of this marriage. He also gave her a bed and half the household goods, but if she died without issue, they were to revert to his eldest son, Peter Tallman, Jr., and if he died without issue, then to the eldest daughter of Peter Tallman, Sr., Mary, and her heirs. Further, he gave to Joan, absolutely, as a free gift of donation, "three good cows and a breeding mare."

1674, June 7. He was imprisoned, but released at this date for having taken from the Indians lands by deed of gift in violation of the law of Massachusetts, he having surrendered the same.

*The case of Peter Tallman was tried upon petition by the Assembly. Peter Tallman applied for a divorce from his wife on the ground of adultery. The woman brought before the Assembly admitted the charge. The petition was granted at once and then the criminal, upon her own confession, was arraigned for sentence. The penalty was a fine and whipping, and she was accordingly sentenced by the terms of the law, to pay the fine of ten pounds and to receive fifty stripes, at Portsmouth, on the same Monday, and on the following Wednesday, another fifteen stripes, at Newport, and to be imprisoned till the sentence was fulfilled.

Upon her petition for mercy, the Court again examined her as to whether she intended to return to her husband. This she refused to do upon any terms. Her petition was denied and she was remanded for punishment.

She escaped from prison and was gone two years. Upon her return to the Colony, in May, 1667, she was arrested and petitioned the Court for mitigation of sentence. The fine and one-half of the corporal punishment were remitted, and the remainder, fifteen stripes to be inflicted at Newport, was executed.

Arnold's History of Rhode Island, Vol. I, p. 270.

1675, Oct. 20. He sued Rebecca, wife of Thomas Sadler, for breach of the peace and threatening his family.

1680. He was taxed 8 shillings, 6 pence.

1708. The inventory of his estate was presented by his son James Tallman.

1709, May 3. Administration having been given to Jonathan Tallman, he took acquittances, at this date, from his brothers and sisters, William Wilbur, Israel Shaw, Jonathan Tallman, James Tallman, Benjamin Tallman, Mary Pearce, Susanna Beckett, Peter Tallman, Isaac Lawton, William Potter, John Tallman, Joseph Tallman and Samuel Tallman.

Peter Tallman, Sr., married, first, Ann ; second, 1665, Joan Briggs, who died about 1685; third, about 1686, Esther who died before 1708.

19 DOCTOR STEPHEN TALLMAN, son of Dr. James Tallman, 10, was born at Portsmouth, Rhode Island, June 30, 1702, (Town Record), and died at his residence, Pumpkin Point, Shrewsbury, N. J., Aug. 24, 1774, aged 74 (tombstone). These dates are contradictory but are correctly quoted. He married Nov. 11, 1724, Mary, daughter of John and Sarah (Wilson) Potter, born Mch. 2, 1707. See also Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island. Dr. Stephen Tallman was the founder of a large family located in Shrewsbury, N. J. The Tallman blood ran riotously. Through what antecedent strains it was derived, I can only conjecture, but there is ample proof that its fiery character appeared in six generations, commencing with Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19. They were unmoral and irreligious; ugly tempered and defiant of law and social restraint. In these respects they came close to primitive man. They lived the life of landed squires, owning many slaves and much land, and possessed much ready wealth. They were well educated and contributed many members to the medical profession, and a goodly number of natural children to the world at large. During the Revolutionary War the family was split with many more of its members adhering to the Whig than to the Tory cause. In some instances it was brother against brother.

In 1728, Dr. Stephen Tallman was residing in Portsmouth.

In 1731, he was called Esquire, in the same place.

In 1733 and 1738, he was called yeoman, of Portsmouth.

Dr. Stephen Tallman became involved in one of the largest real estate speculations ever initiated in the State of Rhode Island. This ambitious venture failed, and brought ruin to him and his associates. June 18, 1747, Joseph Scott, of Newport, merchant, deposed: that Dec. 7, 1743 there was a vendue of the lands of Stephen Tallman, of Portsmouth, by the Sheriff for a judgment of court, obtained by John Potter, of South Kingstown, in the County of King's, yeoman. Part of the estate was bought by Joseph Scott, aforesaid, for £4,990. This property had furthermore been, in part, mortgaged by Stephen Tallman and others, for large sums of money, at divers times, to the Colony of Rhode Island. The date and the cause of Dr. Stephen Tallman's departure from Rhode Island may largely be determined by this mishap, and it was doubtless at this unfortunate turn in his affairs that he sought a new home in Mornmouth County, New Jersey, whither many of his kindred, and many Rhode Islanders, had long been settled. Even here trouble followed him, for Mch. 24, 1747, he was haled before the Court, sitting at Burlington, N. J., by John Potter, of South Kingston, King's County, R. I., as executor of Sarah Potter, widow, late of the same place, to recover £351, £412 and £5381, evidently monies used in his recent Rhode Island land transactions. Supreme Court Files, Trenton, N. J. The widow, Sarah Potter, was doubtless his mother-in-law, and John Potter his brother-in-law. From the size of the loans, Sarah Potter was, evidently a woman of wealth. It is regrettable that so little is known of the origin, growth and collapse of this business venture, which so strongly appealed to these thrifty people and which resulted so calamitously.

With the remnants of his fortune Dr. Tallman acquired Mch. 23, 1741, from James and Kezia Tallman, one of the largest and most fertile estates in Monmouth County. It lay in Shrewsbury township, on an arm of the Shrewsbury River, and ultimately amounted to seven hundred acres and its devious and indented shores presented about three miles of water front. Here, upon a knoll whose shores sloped to the water, and which was commonly called Pumpkin Point, he settled in Sally Reap's primitive house,* which he shortly, (in 1741), converted into a kitchen, and attached it to the fine and commodious residence he erected on this site. The estate passed from his descendants, in 1837, to the Newbolds, then to the Shermans, and finally, to a land syndicate, for $100,000., it is stated, consisting of William Conover (Black Bill), Stacy Conover and others, who plotted the land, and who still own the property and run the old house as the Potapeck (Port-au-Peck) Hotel.

Upon this estate Dr. Stephen Tallman lived in prodigal fashion until his death. His plantation was worked by his negroes under his supervision and he practiced medicine. He established his sons upon large farms, and they seemingly, had the funds in their possession to pay him for the same, especially so in the instance of his son James, to whom he conveyed the Potapeck property, Apr. 2, 1774, only a few months preceding his death, for the large sum of £3700. It is because of this disposition of his estate during his lifetime that he probably found it unnecessary to make a will. His daughters, it is traditional, received large amounts in cash. Some of his family silver marked S.T.M. (Stephen and Mary Tallman), is now in my (John E. Stillwell, 1915), possession. His professional mantle fell upon his two sons, Joseph and Christopher Tallman, who, with four descendants, through his daughter, Martha Tallman, wife of Col. Thomas Seabrook, and a father, Dr. James Tallman, and an uncle Dr. Peter Tallman, make a total contribution to the healing profession of no less than nine of Tallman blood in six generations.

*William Reap, of Rhode Island, became one of the Monmouth Patentees in 1665. He died not long after this date, and his widow, Sarah, succeeded to his proprietary rights, and soon became an active land investor:

1685, Sept. 22. Sarah Reap, of Shrewsbury, N. J., widow, bought from Jonathan Marsh, of Newport, R. I., merchant, lands in Shrewsbury.

1693, Nov. 20. Sarah, widow of William Reap, and her son William Reap, Jr., sold to Anthony Pintard, merchant, the proprietary lands of her deceased husband, situated in Shrewsbury, N. J.

1703, Feb. 4. Sarah Reap, of Shrewsbury, N. J., conveyed to her grandson William Brinley, of the same place, land lying on Naromson Neck.

1715, Apr. 12. Sarah Reap, by will of this date, gave to her grandsons William Marsh, Gent., of Flushing, L.I., and William Brinley, of Shrewsbury, N. J., her lands.

1716, Apr. 14. William Brinley, of Shrewsbury, N. J., conveyed his interest in the plantation whereon his grandmother, Sarah Reap, deceased, dwelt, to Sarah Reap's other grandson William Marsh, which estate she had willed them jointly.

1720, May. 11. William Marsh, of Flushing, Long Island, Gent., now the sole owner of this estate, conveyed to her, £200, to James Tallman, Gent., 35, also of Flushing, Queens County, Long Island, N. Y., and the property was described as patented lands lying in Shrewsbury, N. J., called Potapeck, whereon Sarah Reap dwelt. That portion lying to the North and East was the part which had fallen in the division of Sarah Reap's estate to William Brinley, and which he conveyed to William Marsh, Apr. 12, 1716. The upland and meadow amounted to three hundred and fifty acres. For some reason there was a confirmation of this title in the following deeds:

1731, Mch. 31. William Marsh, Gent., of Shrewsbury, N. J., for seven hundred pounds, conveyed to James Tallman, Gent., of the same place, the neck of land called Potapeck, lying in Shrewsbury, being the same whereon Sarah Reap dwelt, and some other small parcels of meadow which did not belong to the said Sarah Reap, part or parcel of the said neck containing three hundred and fifty acres more or less, of upland and meadow.

1741, Mch. 23. By a conveyance of this date James Tallman, 47, (and Kezia his wife, son of James Tallman, 35, sold this property to Dr. Stephen Tallman.

(Cherry Hall Papers).

An estate supposedly belonging to the Tallmans, was vigorously sought, for a time, by Samuel Tallman, assisted by his granddaughter's husband Harry C. Newel, of Long Branch, N. J. They interviewed John R. Livingston, a former slave, of whom more anon, copied many records, employed lawyers, addressed the Bank of England, the British Consul, in New York, and the British Minister in Washington, but without avail. They were inspired to this activity by a chain of circumstances which I briefly enumerate.

Samuel Tallman remembered that his uncle Humphrey Williams told him that some day he would inherit great wealth through the wife of Dr. Stephen Tallman, and retained a vague recollection that her name was Mary Morgan, though he may have received the impression of her name from other sources; further, that at various times men came to Monmouth County in search of information concerning the Tallman family, perhaps concerning Mary, the wife of Dr. Stephen Tallman. This first visit was about 1866. About 1870, one, David McAlpine, came to Monmouth County and stated that he was employed by Peter Tallman,* formerly of Canada, to hunt for an English estate and which his researches led him to believe belonged to the heirs of Dr. Stephen Tallman and not to the heirs of Peter Tallman.

It was an easy thing to inflame the minds of many members of the Tallman family, and he entertained them with stories of a very wealthy ancestor, a herdsman, in England, by the name of Morgan, or by another statement that this ancestor was an owner of immense coal mines in Wales, and dying a bachelor, had left his vast property to two sisters, one Elizabeth, who married and settled in the State of Pennsylvania, for whose heirs he had already secured an immense sum, and the other, Mary Morgan, the wife of Dr. Stephen Tallman, whose descendants he had now joyfully located. The English or Welsh properties had been sold and the money placed in chancery, where it was drawing interest to the amount of one million dollars a year. I have little doubt that David McAlpine was a shark working both ends of the line, the descendants of Peter Tallman, in Canada, and the descendants of Dr. Stephen Tallman in Monmouth County.

There was much uncertainty left in the minds of all, when David McAlpine left for his home at Fonthill, Pelham Township, Canada, West, for they took no memoranda of the names and places he supplied them. One person claimed that Mary Morgan's sister settled in Connecticut, and that one Morgan, an assistant at the tollgate, called Lame Morgan, came from that state to Eatontown, N. J., but left and returned to the home of his Connecticut relatives. Another account states that Ethan Allen and his brother Charles Allen, descendants of Stephen Tallman, received private information from Mr. McAlpine, bought him off and obtained the money in chancery. Occasionally letters came from McAlpine or his wife, and then ceased. Members of the family became suspicious of each other, employed various lawyers and finally the whole effort fizzled out for want of exact data and connecting links.

John R. Livingston, the negro previously mentioned as interviewed, was the son of John Livingston, a slave of Barnes Smock, of Middletown, and had married Rosanna Williams, a wench of Dr. Stephen Tallman, of Pumpkin Point. They lived with their respective masters and had born to them (slaves of Dr. Tallman), a daughter Rosanna Livingston, and a son, the aforementioned John R. Livingston, who was reputed to have reached the age of one hundred and fifteen years, in 1878, when he was residing at Branchport, N. J. This would make his birth date, if his age is accurately given, the year 1763, and his age at the time of Dr. Stephen Tallman's death, eleven years. I am precise in giving these dates as I have seen them recorded by certain members of Mr. Samuel Tallman's family, for I doubt much whether a youth of eleven, a black and uneducated, could recite from recollection, accurately, many stories concerning Dr. Tallman, his wife and children, without drawing upon a very lively imagination.

When Livingston was interviewed in 1878, it was stated that he was in the field ploughing, a remarkable fact when you consider his great age, which leads me to believe that his age was exaggerated, and if so, his years, at the time he lived with Dr. Tallman, were necessarily proportionately less. Further, it must be recalled that any testimony from the ignorant and prejudiced slave race, with its persistent animosity towards its severe masters, would hardly contribute truthful and unembellished statements against their former oppressors. However, from other sources in a general way, it has come down that the Tallmans were a fair complexioned and ugly-tempered race, and doubtless Livingston repeated that which he had heard, rather than that which he had seen. From his statements it would appear that Dr. Stephen Tallman handled his slaves severely and even cruelly. They were likely to be whipped if he were angered, and if this failed to curtail their petty rebellion, he would sit them with bare pelts on heated bricks, and when aged, sick and bedridden himself, he would command them to stand by his bed, and with his cane terminating in a spear point, would prick them. Little serious damage was likely to be done, as a slave was a too valuable commodity to hazard his well being or life.

*One of the sons of Oliver Tallman had a son Peter, who became a Royalist and moved to Canada. It was probably in the employ of some of his descendants that McAlpine came to Monmouth County to ascertain whether there was any possibility of recovering the family's forfeited estate by reason of their Toryism.

Dr. Tallman practiced medicine and farming and his fame was a practitioner was extensive, and patients came from far and near.

He was confined to his bed about two months, was attended by his sons the two doctors, and finally succumbed to gout and the infirmities of age. He died in the same room, on the first floor, that his wife had occupied with him throughout their married life and in which she too had died.

After three days his remains were interred, without funeral services of any kind, on his own farm, in what was and still is called the Potapeck, Pumpkin Point and Tallman burying-ground. The attendance was very great as he was esteemed in the community.

It is said that he left a will which was read by its makers and holders, Dr. John Johnson, of Eatontown, and Dr. Samuel Tenbroeck, of Shrewsbury, on the return of the family to the homestead.

Further, upon the recollection of John R. Livingston, he gave to each of his sons, Stephen, Dr. Christopher, John, Samuel, James and Dr. Joseph, the farms they were residing upon, and to the latter likewise his medical belongings. To his daughter Martha, about £100, and to his daughter Sarah, between £100 and £200, discriminating against the former daughter as she was the wife of a very rich man, Major Thomas Seabrook.

In appearance Dr. Stephen Tallman was of medium height and strongly built. He had a clean shaven face and wore his hair powdered white and drawn back into a queue. He was generally considered a fine looking man. His wife, Mary Tallman, was good-looking, though not a handsome woman. She was of medium size, large boned, heavily built and possessed a very fair complexion. She was always very tender and good to her family. She was an eccentric woman, with an easily provoked, high temper and was considered by her slaves, a witch. Rosanna Livingston, a household slave, seemed to have come in for a share of her ill will, for on one occasion when she was setting the dinner table, her mistress threw a handful of knives and forks at her head, with such precision that Rosanna looked as if she were a female St. Sebastian, and the irate old lady held her to her work notwithstanding her suffering. This scene had a tragic ending, for the family were hardly seated at the dinner table, when Mrs. Tallman was stricken with apoplexy. She was carried to her bedroom, remained speechless and paralyzed and was attended by her husband for nine days, when she died.

The remains lay at her residence for two days and the attendance at the funeral was large. The customary eight pallbearers, four bearing the remains one-half the way, and four the remaining portion of the way, carried the corpse, which was interred in the adjacent Tallman plot. Neither Dr. Tallman nor his wife Mary, were apparently members of any church, though they occasionally attended service at Shrewsbury.

Mary Tallman, the wife of Dr. Stephen Tallman, was living as late as 1774, when, with her husband, she joined in making the conveyance to her son James, Apr. 2, of that year; and if the assertion is correct that she died before her husband, it must have been between this date, Apr. 2, and Aug. 24, 1774, when her husband Dr. Stephen Tallman, died. That she predeceased her husband rests entirely upon the doubtful testimony of John R. Livingston. That she died close to the time of her husband's death is likely, as no tombstone marks her burial place, which is a matter for comment and not easily understood.

Personally I haven't an atom of faith in the Mary Morgan tradition and believe that Dr. Stephen Tallman married but once and that the lady was Mary Potter, of Rhode Island.

Only three of the children of Stephen Tallman are supplied with birth dates, and it is doubtful whether the issue is chronologically arranged.

Among the American wounded was Lieut. Tallman. He was shot through the throat and crawled behind the barn to die. Two Soldiers came to his relief; he told them to let him alone as he had but a few minutes to live. They lifted him from the ground and were retreating with him across the orchard in the rear of the Parsonage, when a musket ball passing through the hat of one of them, he hastily abandoned his charge, & ran away. 36 JOB TALLMAN, supposed son of John Tallman, 12, if the name assigned to him be correct, was probably the son his wife was carrying, when John Tallman's will was made, in 1707, and was nearly two years of age when his father died in 1709.

In the migration of John Tallman's (12) children to Burlington County, N. J., he probably joined, for, in 1727, Job Tallman's land was named as on one of the boundaries of Benjamin Tallman's purchase of lands in Mansfield.

It was probably he who had a license to marry dated Feb. 25, 1736, Sarah, daughter of Benjamin Scattergood.

1738-9, 1740. He was Overseer of the Poor of Mansfield Township.

1755. He was Constable of Mansfield Township.

1758, Jan. 6. Will of Job Tallman, of Burlington County, West Jersey, yeoman; proved Feb. 11, 1758, mentioned: £50 to his kinsman Gilbert Smith; £50 to his kinswoman Catharine Watters or Walters; the remainder of his estate to his two daughters Sarah Talman and Martha Talman, equally. Executors: Gilbert Smith and the testator's two daughters.

Issue

60 Sarah Tallman married Joseph Wharton, Jr.

61 Martha Tallman married by license dated Nov. 14, 1759, John Lawrence, Esq.

1763, June 28. Joseph Warton, Jr., merchant, and ux Sarah Tallman and John Lawrence, Esq., of Burlington, and ux Martha Tallman conveyed land to Joseph Tallman, Jr., and in the deed it appears that Sarah and Martha were daughters and co-heirs of the late Job Tallman, of Mansfield. John Tallman, of Long Island, conveyed Dec. 2, 1727, to Job Tallman, then of Long Island, part of the five hundred acre Underhill tract, and Joseph Wharton and Job Tallman, in 1732, bought land jointly from Mary Andrews, which they divided Mch. 16, 1747. Job Tallman conveyed his interest by will, Jan. 6, 1758, to his daughters which they conveyed as set forth above, for £1100.

38 MARY TALLMAN, daughter of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, was born June 19, 1727, at Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and was living and unmarried Apr. 20, 1792, when she quit-claimed her interest in the estate of her brother Stephen Tallman, deceased, to Frances Tallman for £400, to which Stephen had title by deed from his father Dr. Stephen Tallman, and part by will of his brother John Tallman, deceased.

39 STEPHEN TALLMAN, son of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, resided at Shrewsbury, N. J., where he pursued farming.

1759. Stephen Tallman, Jr., was on the delinquent Tax List, of Shrewsbury, N. J., for £1-13-4.

1761. He was fined in Shrewsbury, £5-16-8, for Mary Siccles.

1766. Stephen Tallman, Junior's land was mentioned.

1772, Apr. 3. Dr. Stephen Tallman and wife Mary conveyed to their son Stephen Tallman, Jr., for £800, seventy-five acres of land at Rumson.

1775, Apr. 10. He took a mortgage on the lands of Judah Allen, of Shrewsbury.

1775, May 20. He took a mortgage on the land of William S. Corlies, of Shrewsbury.

1775, Nov. 22. He was administrator of Daniel Halstead.

1785. He was fined for Sabbath breaking, six shillings.

1785, Jan. 22. He conveyed lands to Dr. John Johnson on the Great Road to Monmouth Court House, from Shrewsbury town.

1785, November. Stephen Tallman, for the sum of £2,500, conveyed to Samuel Forman and David Knott, one hundred and fifty-one acres of land on Rumson Neck, and two acres of meadow, about equal to five acres, which was conveyed to the said Stephen Tallman Apr. 3, 1772, by a deed from his father Dr. Stephen Tallman, deceased, for the sum of £800, who claimed it by deed of Joseph Stillwell and Edward Taylor, executors of Mary Seabrook, June 6, 1760.

He died, unmarried, about 1790. His burial services were conducted by the Rev. John Woodhull, the Presbyterian minister, of Freehold and Shrewsbury, at his house and at the grave in the Tallman plot. There were no hearse in those days and by reason of the long distance, his remains were carried in an open farm wagon, with four carriers at the house and four at the grave. Like all funerals about this period, his was largely attended and business in the community for many miles about suspended.

Leaving no will his estate was administered by James Tallman and Thomas Seabrook, with a bond of £1000, dated June 21, 1790.

The inventory of his personal estate amount to £1,500, and included six negroes.

At the time administration was granted, the following representatives of Stephen Tallman renounced, viz.: Rachel Tallman, Martha Seabrook, Polly Williams, Patty Tallman and Mary Tallman, and in 1791, the Commissioners divided his lands among: Sarah Wardell, wife of John; Mary Tallman; Martha, wife of Thomas Seabrook; Joseph Tallman; James Tallman; children of Samuel Tallman, deceased, and Rachel Tallman, widow of Samuel, deceased.

Stephen Tallman had a natural daughter Ann (Nancy) Tallman, who was taken care of by her father until she married Mathias Wood,* an Englishman, who came to America at the time of the American Revolution and who served in the American Army until the close of the war. They resided at Mechanicsville, N. J., and were buried in the cemetery of that place.

From the testimony of John R. Livingston, it would appear that Stephen Tallman was a very "queer" man and severe with his slaves, not infrequently having them whipped till their backs were laid open and the blood ran freely. He was morose and exclusive. It is further said of him that he saw from his room window a woman crossing his orchard, on her way to church, who plucked apples from his heavily laden trees, rather than to lift those equally good, from the ground, which angered him to such a degree that he raised his gun, and with expert aim, cut a limb squarely off above her head.

He was indicted by the Monmouth Grand Jury for various offences, before whom he was accused as an "ill designing and disorderly person and of a wicked & malicious mind," and for having, on the 4th day of September, 1784, killed and destroyed a mare

*Mathias Wood was a short, thick, heavy set man, with dark hair and complexion. Like most Englishmen, he was quite a sportsman. They had issues Ann Wood, who married Brittain, son of Monahan Woodhull, and Rh. Jones Wood.

This stone is erected to Mathias Wood, a native of London, England, who departed this life Feb. 10, 1824, a soldier of the Revolution, aged 72 years. Buried in the Burial of the Soldiers. Peace to his spirit.

Sister to the memory of Ann, wife of Mathias Wood, who died July 10th, 1816, aged 44 years.

belonging to Dr. John Johnson, and for also having assaulted the said Doctor Johnson. At the same session he was accused of having, July 10, 1781, sold flour, Indian corn and oats, to certain persons unknown, in order to send the same to the enemies of this state during the War. To both these charges he plead not guilty and was discharged. Supreme Court Files, Trenton, N. J. It is interesting to note that Dr. Johnson was the friend of his late father.

40 DR. CHRISTOPHER TALLMAN, son of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, was probably born in Shrewsbury, N. J., and died in the fall of 1790.

1767, May 1. Daniel Wainwright mortgaged to Dr. Stephen Tallman, both of Shrewsbury, certain lands.

1767, July 20. Daniel Grandin, of Freehold, N. J., mortgaged to Dr. Christopher Tallman, of Shrewsbury, certain lands.

1768, July 19. Stephen Wardell mortgaged to Dr. Christopher Tallman, both of Shrewsbury, twenty acres of land for £49.

1770, Feb. 5. Stephen Aumack mortgaged to Dr. Christopher Tallman, both of Shrewsbury, certain lands.

1770, May 14. Joseph Dennis and wife mortgaged lands to Dr. Christopher Tallman, all of Shrewsbury.

1770, June 28. Dr. Christopher Tallman mortgaged his lands at Strawberry Neck and Smoky Pond, for £1,368-15-00, to Valeriah Le Conte and Richard Tole, of Monmouth County, Elihu Spencer, of Trenton, and John Berrien, of Rocky Hill, Somerset County, N. J.

1771, Apr. 20. Christopher Tallman, for £375, bought land at Eatontown, from Stephen and Mary Wardell, which Wardell received from his father Eliakim, in his will dated Jan. 16, 1737, who received it by deed of gift June 30, 1725, from his father Joseph, who bought the land Aug. 6, 1718, from Gabriel Steele.

Unrecorded deed in the possession of Dr. John E. Stillwell.

1776. Being a Royalist Dr. Christopher Tallman's lands were sold by the Committee.

Dr. Christopher Tallman's Tory proclivities apparently made him unpopular and unsafe in Shrewsbury, for being sick and apprehensive of death, he made a will dated Shrewsbury, September 19, 1772, to which he appended a codicil August 16, 1778, when he speaks of himself as still sick, late of Shrewsbury, but now of the "narrows on Long Island." His illness was apparently not vital for he lived twelve years thereafter.

He studied medicine with his father who established him on a farm at Tinton Falls, N. J., where he practiced medicine and farming. His brother Dr. Joseph Tallman succeeded to the father's practice at the homestead and the brothers became friendly rivals in the same field. On one occasion Dr. Joe extracted a tooth, which was followed by bleeding to a state of collapse, and in great fright he sent two slaves ashore to his brother Dr. Christopher, who, from the excited blacks got the tale and laconically replied, "tell the man who pulled it to stop it." More humane feelings overcame him, however, and he arrived with the messengers, successfully applied a remedy taken from Dr. Joe's own medicine chest, put it in his pocket, and despite Dr. Joe's protests, carried it away without revealing its nature.

1772, Sept. 19. Will of Christopher Tallman, of Shrewsbury, Doctor, sick, etc., mentioned:

to Mary Crookson £100, and to the child she is big with or supposed to be big with, £400; and to wi-gion for this child under all circumstances; to loving mother Mary Tallman, £100; to brother Stephen Tallman, £100; to brother Samuel Tallman, £50; to sister Mary, £50; to sister Sarah, £50; to sister Martha, £50; to brother James Tallman my blood horses; to Deborah, daughter of Elizabeth Wardell, £50; negro Jack to be set free at the age of forty years; his brothers Joseph and John Tallman, the residue of his estate; his three brothers Stephen, Joseph and John were appointed his executors.

1778, Aug. 16. Codicil to the will of Christopher Tallman, of the "narrows on Long Island," late of Shrewsbury, Doctor, sick, etc., mentioned:

to Lydia, the child born to Mary Crockson, £100 more; to a son of Mary Crockson, now four years of age, £500. Will was proved Oct. 8, 1792, when Joseph Tallman, the only surviving executor, renounced, and James Tallman qualified in his stead with a bond of £500.

Mary Crockson was the housekeeper of Dr. Christopher Tallman. He had by her a number of natural children, among them Elias Tallman,* and Lydia Tallman.

41 SARAH TALLMAN, daughter of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, married, first, 2mo. (Feb.) 28, 1757, Michael Cook; second, Dec. 4, 1759, David Allen; third, John Wardell, boatman, and a farmer of large means, residing at Atlanticville, N. J., by whom she had no issue. John Wardell was a Justice in Shrewsbury, and an associate judge in Monmouth County. He was a Tory and his property was confiscated Mch. 29, 1779. He was a friend of Capt. Richard Lippincott and testified for him in the British court martial, held in New York, June, 1782.

Wardell was in a state of everlasting indulgence and persistent repentance. While under the effects of liquor he broke his leg and no sooner cured than he repeated the drink and the accident, and these again once more. Three breaks were too many for him and he succumbed to his habits and mishaps, leaving his widow, who successfully managed her farm till old age and malignant disease of the throat, after much suffering, ended her life. Her funeral services at the house and the grave were conducted by the Rev. Samuel Budd, a Methodist minister, of Long Branch, and her remains were interred by the side of her husband in the Tallman burying-ground. The date of her demise is not known, but Aug. 9, 1800, administration on her estate was granted to William Sickles and Mathias Wood.

1791, June 21. John Wardell, boatman, of Shrewsbury, conveyed to Hannah Butler, widow, of Brooklyn Ferry, N. Y., in consideration of love and affection and £160, all his interest in the estate of Stephen Tallman, deceased, which he had by virtue of his marriage to Sarah, daughter of Stephen Tallman, Sr., and mother of the said Hannah Butler, etc., etc., and all his interest in the estate of his wife's deceased brother John Tallman, as well as his interest in her deceased brother, Stephen Tallman's, estate, as well as his wife's dower interest in the estate of her late husband David Allen.

*Elias Tallman, son of Dr. Christopher Tallman, married Betsey Ruth, of Albany, N. Y., where he resided after his mother's death, who had removed thither to her relatives upon the demise of Dr. Christopher Tallman. After some years Elias Tallman received an invitation from his uncle James Tallman, to live with him. He left his wife and a child behind him, and apparently forgot that he had them, for he engaged himself to Meribah, daughter of Shalom and Susan Van Dyke, of Pumpkin Point. The neglected spouse, however, arrived at Shrewsbury postoffice in search of him just as his uncle James called for his maid and received notification for the first time from her of his nephew's marriage. His surprise and equanimity equalled each other, for arriving home he said, "Elias you take the horses and wagon and go up to Shrewsbury and bring down your wench and young one," (decent terms then used for women and children), "and then hustle and take care of them, or hear from me," which Elias complacently did and all dwelt at the homestead till time of re-arrangement. Elias moved his family to Wolf Hill, Eatontown, N. J., where, after some years, he died, while in the employ of Edmund West, by an accident while intoxicated. He was survived by his wife and four children. His widow resided with her son-in-law Jesse Cook, at Atlanticville, N. J., and died of old age. Both Elias Tallman and his wife are buried in the Potopuck (Pumpkin Point) graveyard. Issue: Maria Tallman, a single; Elias Tallman married to Albany, N. Y.; Sophrene Tallman moved to Albany, N. Y.; Deborah Mahalia Tallman married May 21, 1848, Jesse Cook, a farmer of Monmouth Beach, N. J.

42 JOHN TALLMAN, son of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19 lived at Eatontown, N. J., where he died in 1790. He was club-footed, a bachelor and a farmer. His funeral services were conducted at his own house and grave by the Rev. John Woodhull. He was interred in the Tallman plot at Pumpkin Point.

1779. He was residing in Shrewsbury.

1782. He was fined for fornication.

1786, Feb. 17. John Tallman mortgaged lands in Eatontown, N. J., to Jacob Corlies and Joseph Parker, for £317.

1790, Mch. 6. John Tallman, of Shrewsbury, N. J., sick, etc., made his will; proved June 21, 1790, in which he appointed Stephen Tallman his executor, and ordered his negro Tone to be freed after four years; gave £110 to Elias, the firstborn son of Mary Croxon; gave £100 to Lydia, the firstborn daughter of Mary Croxon; to Stephen Tallman his brother, the residue of his estate. He signed his name to the will.

His executor, Stephen Tallman, having died, James Tallman and Thomas Seabrook qualified as administrators, with bond of £1,000, on June 21, 1790.

The inventory of his personal estate amounted to £600, and included a half a dozen silver tea spoons valued at £1-10-0.

43 SAMUEL TALLMAN, son of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, was a farmer and resided at Tinton Falls, N. J. He married Rachel, daughter of David and Meribah (Herbert) Curtis, of Squan, N. J., by license dated June 26, 1765. His death occurred during the winter of 1788, as December 8th, of that year, administration was granted to Rachel Tallman and James Tallman, both of Shrewsbury, with a bond of £1,000, upon his estate. Both his widow, Rachel Tallman, and James Tallman, the administrators, signed, as well as Samuel Tallman, a witness. His personal estate, inventoried in 1786, amounted to £370-1-0, and a second appraisal taken the same year, amounted to £560-19-08. His funeral services were conducted by the Rev. John Woodhull, and he was interred in the Tallman burying-ground.

He was a man of integrity, agreeable manners and of domestic virtues, but, like the rest of the Tallmans, he could swear beyond the average amount.

He was an industrious worker and kept his slaves always busy. He was wont to visit his father-in-law, going on horse back through the swamp, where at one particular spot, climbing a tree, he could observe his slaves at work and to their surprise pick out the laggards on his return. This worked well until his overseer, one Andrew McCard, noticing a black speck in a tree not far from where the negroes were at work, discovered its nature and by careful scouting he cautiously removed the neighing mare and her foal which had guided him to the spot, and rode her home. Upon Tallman's descent, minus a horse which he supposed had broken loose, he trudged home with his coat on his arm, foot-sore and weary. To his wife's query as to his condition he answered, "I got off my horse in the swamp for something and she got away from me and ran off." When he subsequently knew the facts he greatly enjoyed the joke at his own expense.

Samuel Tallman, as described by John R. Livingston, was a remarkably handsome man, of slender but good figure, and a noticeably fine complexion. He was never robust, and died, somewhat suddenly, with hasty consumption. His wife, Rachel Tallman, was a very superior, goodlooking woman, with considerable business talent, as she continued to manage his farm after his death.

44 MARTHA TALLMAN, daughter of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, was born 1739; married Major Thomas Seabrook, of the Bay Shore, Middletown Township, N. J., who was an extensive farmer, and carried on a boating business between Keyport and New York, and who was estimated a man of large wealth. He was a Major and a Lieutenant-Colonel in the Revolution, and a Representative of Monmouth County in the Assembly. Shrews Bary, octob^r, 5th 1758.

This is to certify whome it may Consarne, that Thomas Seabrook has my ConSent to Marry my Daughter Martha Tallman as witness my hand.

STE: TALLMAN.

In conformity with the above consent a marriage license was issued to Thomas Seabrook with George Pool, as bondsman, in the sum of £500, Oct. 11, 1758.

Marriage Licenses, Trenton, N. J.

Martha Tallman Seabrook died July 14, 1828, aged 89, 2, o. For references to her issue, see the Seabrook Family in Stillwell's Miscellany.

45 JAMES TALLMAN, son of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, died Apr. 5 [25?], 1827, in the eighty-third year of his age, as appears upon his tombstone at Pumpkin Point, hence he was born in the year 1744-5, and could not possibly have been the son born to Dr. Stephen and Mary Tallman, Aug. 11, 1725, at Portsmouth, R. I. The natural inference therefore is that the first son, James, lived quite a number of years, perhaps fifteen to twenty years, and dying, his father called the next son born to him thereafter, James.

1774, Apr. 2. Dr. Stephen and Mary Tallman, for £3,700, conveyed to their son James Tallman lands at Potapeck, deeded to James Tallman, deceased, by William Marsh, Mch. 1, 1731, and also by deed of Nicholas Chambers to James Tallman, Dec. 17, 1733, and by deed from Jedediah Allen and brother Ralph Allen, to James Tallman, Dec. 8, 1741, to which Stephen Tallman had title by deed from James and Keziah Tallman Mch. 23, 1741.

Upon this estate, in the old house erected by his father and still standing (1914), James Tallman resided with but short intervals, until his death. Occasionally he resided in another house on this property, which, while he was in occupancy, was burned, destroying the family bible, family portraits and other heirlooms.

James Tallman in his old age still stood six feet in his stockings, was very erect, gaunt, eccentric and awkward. He was also a stuttering man, carried with him a long lash whip, for use on man and beast, and possessed of great strength. When too decrepit to move, he substituted for it a spear, made to hurl at his negroes. Among them were Tubs, Rose and Jack, the last of whom subsequently bought his freedom. He died very aged and left a son, who was recently living in Long Branch, N. J. As opposed to this tradition about Jack, is the will of his master, wherein he is set free two weeks after his decease.

While a strict master, James Tallman was kind to his slaves; when in anger, an accomplished swearer; destitute of religion, yet accustomed to read his Bible, and on Sundays ordered his slaves to church to catechise them on the text upon their return.

James Tallman, like the other members of his father's family, bought and sold real estate in his vicinity freely, but there is nothing of interest in these transactions worth recording.

1762, Nov. 25. The Monmouth County Grand Jury indicted him, as "he did procure and had a quantity of provisions, to wit, Pork, with intention to traitorously convey the same to the subjects and troops of the King of Great Britain, and did send the same." The outcome of the indictment is not noted, and it was probably quashed.

Supreme Court Files, Trenton, N. J.

James Tallman had a natural son by Deborah Parker, to whom he was engaged to be married when a youth of seventeen. Among his gifts to her was a pair of gloves bought for the prospective marriage. She died about this time and he retained the gloves until his death, when he requested that they should be placed upon his breast when he was in his coffin, which was done. The boy was brought up by his grandfather Parker and was a wild specimen and died in early manhood in New York City.

Will of James Tallman, of Shrewsbury, written Feb. 24, 1827; proved Apr. 25, 1827.

Therein he states that two weeks after his decease, he wishes his two colored men, Jack and Elias Ryel,* freed, and to the latter he also gave $175, in cash. To his housekeeper, Hannah Pawley or Diamond, he gave his large carpet and a yearling heifer, provided she lived with him; to James, son of William Tallman, Jr., he gave his silver tankard; to William Tallman, Jr., son of William Tallman, tailor, he gave $500.; to the daughters of his brother Joseph Tallman, he gave the following sums: to Elizabeth Miller $100., to Sarah $140., and to Lydia, wife of John White, $140.; to Elizabeth, daughter of George and Meribah White, he gave an old picture hanging over his closet door, an old bureau and $20. He ordered his executors to sell all of his real estate, "except the graveyard on the farm I now live on with a quarter of an acre more added to it, and to stipulate with the purchaser to keep the fence up in good order around the said graveyard." To John, son of Abraham Laign, he gave his wearing apparel and silver buckels, and to Stephen Tallman, the son of his brother Joseph Tallman, deceased, he gave the residue of his estate. Executors: William Brintley, Esq., and Tylee Williams. The inventory of his personal estate amounted, apparently, to $1,871.

46 DR. JOSEPH TALLMAN, son of Dr. Stephen Tallman, 19, married Mercy Allen, of Squan, N. J. He resided on a farm of one hundred and fifty-one acres, on Rumson Neck, Shrewsbury, conveyed to him Apr. 3, 1772, for £800, by his father and mother, Dr. Stephen Tallman and Mary Tallman.

1780. Dr. Joseph Tallman and wife Mary, conveyed lands to Thomas Lloyd, of Middletown, N. J.

3 OLIVER TALLMAN, son of Jeremiah Tallman, 1, was born at Portsmouth, R. I., June 15, 1737. He resided at Long Branch, Monmouth County, N. J., prior to the Revolutionary War, where he owned a considerable estate. This he forfeited by becoming a Royalist. During the Battle of Monmouth, he fought on the British side, while his son, William fought under Washington. At the end of the war his estates were confiscated and sold, and he, accompanied with two of his sons, Peter and Daniel, withdrew to Canada, on the North shore of Lake Ontario, near St. Catharines, where lands were ceded to him for his loyalty to the Crown.

Apparently the confiscated lands did not always find ready purchasers for it was not until Mch. 29, 1799, that the plantations of Christopher and Oliver Tallman, at Tinton Falls, N. J., were sold.

In 1771 and 1773, Oliver Tallman was taxed in Shrewsbury, N. J.

His stay in Canada must have been short because he died in Shrewsbury, in 1788, leaving a will written Nov. 28, 1787; proved Jan. 11, 1788, wherein he called himself of Shrewsbury and spelled his name Oliver Talman, and mentioned:

son Daniel Talman; daughter Jemima; son William Talman; daughter Molly Talman; daughter Hannah; brother Jeames' land, and disposed of several negroes. He signed his name to the will. 1903, Oct. 13. The History of the Graveyard at Pumpkin Point.

Dear Madam:—

Yours of 11th which reached me here this evening was rather a surprise. I would say that you have been entirely misinformed and the tone of your letter is altogether unwarranted. The Tallman burying ground at Port au Peck has not been sold and not one penny has been paid to me or to any body else except to Mr. Mount the undertaker at Red Bank for carefully removing the remains and reintering them at Fairview Cemetery near Middletown, where the stones have been fully restored. The five (5) living heirs of my father, together with Mr. S. T. Bradford, the eldest son of the Bradford family have relinquished their rights in the piece of ground but that does not affect the rights of anyone else that may have any.

The facts are that the burying ground was in a disgraceful condition and myself and brothers had no money to fix it up and care for it. The fences were broken down, cattle and horses roamed through it at will, the stones were overturned and that of my mother broken in twenty pieces. The ground was all overgrown with weeds and briars and young trees. In short it was heartrending to visit it. At Fairview everything will be looked after and cared for forever. Since the burial of James Tallman about 75 years ago, no one has been buried there but my own family's immediate predecessors, viz., my grandfather, wife, sister, and children & my father, wife, sister and children—the last being my father in 1882. Not one of us now lives in Monmouth Co. and are not likely to again. Not one of us has or ever had the slightest desire to be buried at Port au Peck.

As my grandfather Stephen S. Tallman was the sole heir to James Tallman, a bachelor, who established the burying ground, and my father Geo. D. Tallman, Sr., was the sole heir to s^t Stephen and we five children were the sole heirs to s^d Geo. D., and as further, no one but the immediate members of our family ever buried there or took the slightest interest in the plot, we considered we had a right to remove the remains and place them where they could be properly cared for as well as resign what rights we had to the plot, without in any way affecting any body elses rights if any existed.

Yours

G. D. TALLMAN

P.S. As long as I lived in Shrewsbury & had a little means I looked after the plot but later after losing everything I had in the world & moving away I simply was unable to continue, hence the ruin of the ground. I would be glad if you showed this letter to the people who have been talking so unkindly about me.

TAYLOR
OF
MONMOUTH COUNTY*

Among those who very early followed the original Patentees and Associates, in the settlement of Middletown, was Edward Taylor, whose name immediately proclaims him an Englishman. His parentage, whatever may have been claimed to the contrary, is yet unknown, as likewise his English home.

His descendant, the late Asher Taylor, Esq., was a most industrious, conscientious and well-informed antiquary and genealogist, and perhaps, the pioneer in this field in Monmouth County. Boasting, as he did, that he descended from the best of Monmouth stock, it is not surprising that he rescued many interesting facts concerning his progenitors. In tracing out his immediate family, he claimed that Edward Taylor, the founder of the American family, was the son of John, and the brother of Matthew Taylor, a New Jersey Proprietor. That he, Edward Taylor, through this ancestor, John Taylor, was the direct descendant of Baron Taillefer, a follower of William, the Conqueror, who died on the battle-field of Hastings, 1066, and that between the said John Taylor, his supposed father, and the Baron Taillefer, there were eight generations.

The claim to this ancient pedigree rests upon the fact that Matthew Taylor, who died in New York, in 1688, was thought to be the descendant of this family, and supposed to be the brother of Edward Taylor, who settled in Middletown. It is not disputed that Matthew Taylor was of the family above alluded to, but it is impossible to find any evidence that he was in any way related to Edward Taylor, of Middletown. The worthy Asher Taylor cites, in evidence of the kinship of these parties, a will recorded, in New York, that of Matthew Taylor, dated Feb. 20, 1687-8. He claims that after appropriating ten guineas to buy his friend Manning a mourning ring, he, Matthew Taylor, wills the residue of his property to his brother, Edward, residing in London, with reversion to Edward's son George. As a matter of fact, the will states, that, after appropriating twenty shillings for Capt. Manning to buy a mourning ring, and the sum of £20 for his two executors, he leaves the residue of his property to his loving brother Samuel Taylor, residing in London, with reversion to Samuel's son George.

*Many years ago, during the last decade of his life, Asher Taylor, Nov. 29, of this pedigree, allowed me to see his notes on the Taylor family. These constitute a large portion of this Taylor genealogy, and were the result of many years' diligent research. Mr. George F. Davis has also published the Asher Taylor genealogy, with numerous illustrations, in his magazine, The Jerseyman, Vol. VIII, No. 1, and succeeding numbers.

How this error could have occurred it is idle to speculate, and while it destroys the claim to an English pedigree, it still leaves the American family a record rich in fullness, historic interest, and one of which they may well be proud.

If any further evidence is wanting that it was a mistake to assign Edward Taylor as the heir of Matthew, and that it was following Matthew's decease, and in the year 1692 that he came to America, it may be found, in the old Town Book, of Middletown, which records his, (Edward's), cattle-mark, in 1684, and in the Book of Land Patents, at Perth Amboy, in which are recorded grants, Jan. 13, 1692, of two tracts of land of one hundred acres, in Middletown; another tract of one hundred acres, Dec. 28, 1685; another tract of one hundred and sixty acres, July 27, 1686, in Middletown; and in 1687, of still another tract of one hundred and fifty acres.

It also follows that most of his children were born here, and not in the mother country. Of the life of Edward Taylor, the First, little if anything is known. He died in the year 1710, after having accumulated a large estate, principally in lands, which were divided among his children. They were started in life prosperously, and each and all improved his condition, so that the family at once became prominent and opulent. The few writings of the first comer, that are in existence, prove that he was intelligent and educated, and that he belonged to the highest class that migrated to our shores in the early days of its colonization.

2 EDWARD TAYLOR, son of Edward Taylor, 1, was born Aug. 8, 1678, and died in 1733/4, as June 12, of that year, his will was proved. He dwelt at Colt's Neck, in Shrewsbury township, but later moved to Freehold.

Among the items, mentioned in his will, is a silver cup, bequeathed to his son, Edward Taylor, 8, which was not unlikely brought from Old England, and which, by an unlucky thought, was melted down by the legatee's wife into a more modern shape. As such, it is still in the family descending to the Edward Taylor's in succession.

1733. He mortgaged his land to the Loan Commissioners, situated at Colt's Neck, bounded by Nine [Pine?] Brook, John Throckmorton, Esq., and Major Leonard.

He married Catharine, daughter of Thomas Morford, of Middletown, who, after his demise, married John Ashton, Esq., by license dated Aug. 19, 1742.

4 GEORGE TAYLOR, son of Edward Taylor, 1, was born Dec. 16, 1684; married, in 1708, Helena Johnstone, of Southampton, L. I. She was commonly spoken of as "Old Hile." He died, in Middletown, in 1758. There still remains in the family some old silver marked with their joint initials GTH.

In 1710, he was the administrator of his father's estate, and succeeded to the homestead at Garret's Hill, in Middletown, N. J.

1724. George Taylor sued Obadiah Stillwell for a debt of £17-11-4.

Freehold Court Records.

In 1729, he erected, at Garret's Hill, a dwelling of then uncommon size, called the Mansion House, and the same season built the Old Taylor House, now standing on the highway, in the village of Middletown, just East of Christ Church, and a similar, but larger one, long known as the "Old Tavern," in the front of the residence and by the side of the lane extending from the highway up to the house of Charles I. Hendrickson, Esq., deceased, in Middletown.

From 1727 to 1739/40, he kept a tavern and was a merchant, probably conducting his business in the last above mentioned building.

1744, Apr. 5. George Taylor kept a tavern and sold liquor to James Bowne.

George Taylor signed his name Taylor, Talor and Talar; the last, perhaps, being the most common.

It is not unlikely that he remained in the "Old Tavern" until his death in 1758; he was certainly there as late as 1746.

5 WILLIAM TAYLOR, son of Edward Taylor, 1, was born Oct. 25, 1688; married Hannah Grover. He settled at Freehold, N. J.

Asher Taylor, Esq., inclined to the belief that Hannah Grover was a daughter of James Grover. I would assign her to Safety Grover and explain her son's name, Safety, as his namesake and not as Asher Taylor does, who said he was named such after his father's safe return from a voyage to England. Further, Hannah Grover's children were the legatees of James Grover, son of Safety Grover.

1767, Aug. 3. Will of William Taylor, of Freehold, sic, etc.; proved Oct. 12, 1767, mentioned:

wife, Hannah, to whom he gave the use of the dwelling house, etc., and negro Caesar and wench Jean to live with his wife; son, William Taylor, received the plantation; son, Edward Taylor, received £5 to bar him; five surviving daughters, one of whom was Martha, wife of John Shepherd, who received £10; two deceased daughters, their shares to go to their children.

Executors: his friend, John Williams, his brother-in-law, James Grover and John Taylor. The testator made his mark to the will.

6 JOHN TAYLOR, son of Edward Taylor, 1, was born June 17, 1690, or 1691 [record worn], and died, about 1721, in Middletown. He married Sarah, daughter of Richard Hartshorne, the First, born 3, 7mo., 1687, by whom he had his issue.

John Taylor resided at the time of his death, in 1721, on land belonging to the estate of his father, Edward Taylor, the Immigrant, previously owned by Peter Van de Venter, and afterwards, in 1736, owned by George Taylor, merchant. I think the "Old Tavern," nearly opposite Christ Church, in Middletown, was the place, although it was apparently built in 1729.

1722, Mch. 11. James Seabrook made an order on George Taylor to pay William Taylor, of Freehold, £30-8-6¹/₄, it being his portion of the estate of his brother, John Taylor, deceased, of Middletown.

He married Mary, daughter of Samuel Ogborne, who was born June 10, 1711, and died, Dec. 30, 1772, aged 61 years, 6 months and 20 days. Both are buried in the Lippitt Burying-ground, Middletown, N. J.

Edward Taylor, commonly called "Edward Taylor, Esq.," was an active, intelligent man, possessed of a liberal education.

In 1768, 1772 and 1774, he was a Member of the Assembly.

At the commencement of the Revolution, he was among those active in raising supplies to aid the Boston people in their effort to avoid taxation without representation. This activity gained him the animosity of his Tory neighbors, who tried to have him impeached and his property confiscated. For prudential reasons, he then became less active, but was arrested several times and had great difficulty in keeping out of trouble.

first from one party, then the other. He succeeded in navigating through the storm and was eventually able to transmit his large estate to his descendants.

Among other pieces of real estate Edward Taylor owned was $1/320$ of the Province of East New Jersey, which was a Proprietary right bought by him, in 1749, of John Lippit, who succeeded to it, as heir of his mother, Sarah, daughter of John Throckmorton, who was entitled to $1/3$ of her father's $1/10$ of $1/48$ of the said province; and from Thomas Stillwell, Jr., son of Alice, daughter of John Throckmorton and sister of Sarah Lippit, his like share, heired from his mother, which gave Edward Taylor $2/3$ of $1/10$ of $1/48$, or $1/320$ part of the whole province.

Edward Taylor resided in the house erected by his father, in 1729, which still stands on the highway of Middletown, East of Christ Church.

In 1758, upon the death of his father, he succeeded him in the "Old Tavern," where he likewise kept store and tavern. He also built and ran the mill, since known as "Arrowsmith's mill," and his business interests became varied and extensive.

1779, Oct. 20. Will of Edward Taylor mentioned: son, George Taylor; son, John Taylor; only daughter, Ellenor Lyell, and her children Mary, Fenwick and John Lyell.

Executors: Dan^l Hendrickson, son, John Taylor and daughter, Ellenor Lyel.

27 JOHN TAYLOR, son of George Taylor, 4, was born in 1715 or 1716, and died, at Perth Amboy, N. J., Nov. 23, 1798. He married Phebe, sister and heiress of Gen. Nathaniel Heard, of New Jersey. She died, July 10, 1791, aged about eighty-three years, and was buried in the Lippit Burying-ground.

John Taylor was commonly known as "Squire Taylor," to distinguish him from other members of the family.

He owned a farm of some two hundred acres which he sold before the Revolutionary War, reserving about a dozen acres, upon which, in 1752, he erected a large, handsome house, at the head of the Main Street, in Middletown, at the commencement of the Deep Cut, which was denominated by his neighbors as "Taylor's Folly."

In 1782, this house was bought by George Crawford, Esq., from whom it passed to the Beekmans, and recently, December, 1891, was destroyed by fire. It seemingly would have stood for centuries. Its entire frame was of oak, and it showed no signs of wear. General Clinton was a frequent visitor there, during the Revolution, and Dr. Bainbridge, father of Commodore Bainbridge, there wooed and won his future wife.

John Taylor was a Sheriff, of Monmouth County, for many years, as also one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, in Monmouth County, in 1761, and doubtless at other times.

Upon the breaking out of the Revolution, like many office holders, he became a persistent Loyalist, and was appointed, by Lord Howe, on his arrival in this country, to offer terms of reconciliation, "His Majesty's Lord High Commissioner, of New Jersey," in consequence of which, he was hunted by the Whigs. His property, not confiscated, but applied to public use, was paid for in Continental money, which depreciated, until practically of no value, and left him poor, but for this he was recompensed by the British Government.

Capt. Edward Taylor, who was thirty years of age, when Squire Taylor died, and knew all about him, told Asher Taylor, Esq., that his claim, for losses, amounted to £12,000, far in excess of the actual figures, but nevertheless allowed by the British government, which no doubt influenced Burke to say that he was a man of large estate and had made great sacrifices in the Revolutionary War for the Royal cause, and which, Asher Taylor, Esq., commenting upon, with tremendous Whig fervor, says, "was greatly exaggerated and pure gammon."

Warrant to Asher Holmes, Esq^r, for the apprehension of Jno. Taylor, Esq^r, of Middletown, and to convey him before the Council of Safety, at Bordentown, on April 11.

Dated April 5, 1777.

78 COLONEL GEORGE TAYLOR, son of Edward Taylor, 26, was born in 1733, and died, Mch. 4, 1799, aged 65 years, 1 month and 6 days. He married Deborah, daughter of Joseph Carman, by license granted to George Taylor, minor, and dated Nov. 30, 1752. She died, Jan. 15, 1814, aged 82 years, and, with her husband, is buried in the Lippit Burying-ground, Middletown, N. J.

In 1773, Colonel Taylor apparently resided on the old grandfather farm of John Taylor, but during the Revolutionary War, he resided in the village of Middletown, in the house next East of Christ Church, built by his grandfather, in 1729, and now, in 1907, the residence of his great-grandson, Henry Taylor, Esq.

In early life he was an officer in the Militia. On the breaking out of the Revolution, he was in the Continental service, commanding a battalion of detached militia; he refused to take the Oath of Allegiance, and in July, 1776, threw up his commission and entered the King's service, as Colonel, in the Loyal Volunteers.

79 JOHN TAYLOR, son of Edward Taylor, 26, was born Mch. 25, 1740; died, Jan. 29, 1818, aged 77 years, 9 months and 24 days; buried in the Baptist Church-yard Middletown, N. J.; married Mary, daughter of Samuel Holmes, born 1743; died, Feb. 26, 1819, aged 76 years; buried in the Baptist Church-yard.

He resided for many years, in early life, in the house that stood next East, of the Dutch Church, on the North side of the street, in the village of Middletown. It was burnt in 1848, when occupied by Dr. Edward Taylor.

After the Revolution, John Taylor removed to the "grandfather homestead," on the corner of the Main Street and the road running North to Shoal Harbor and Keyport, where he continued to reside until his death. This property continued, by regular descent, in the occupancy of his children, until 1854, when it passed to his grand-daughter, Mary H. Taylor, wife of Joseph D. Taylor, who built a fine mansion near the old residence. Both houses are yet, 1907, standing. The older, occupied by Mrs. Taylor's farmer, contains some fine specimens of hand carved wood, the mantel, in the tap room, perhaps being the most noteworthy. This farm was once part of the estate of Squire John Taylor, 27, who built the old house on it. He sold it to Barnardus Rider, of Long Island, reserving on the Southwest corner, a building site of fourteen acres.

In 1771, Rider conveyed the lands to Edward Taylor, 26, whose son, Col. George Taylor, resided on it in 1773. As conveyed to Edward Taylor, the farm was laid at two hundred and ten acres.

John Taylor, 79, was out several times in the provincial forces, for local duty, in the early part of the Revolutionary War.

In 1777, in conjunction with Daniel Hendrickson, he enlisted a soldier, as a substitute, in the person of Henry Johnson, father of Lambert and Henry Johnson, who lived near Harmony, for a three year's term, in the Company of Capt. John Burrows', First Regiment of Monmouth Troops.

285 ASHER TAYLOR, son of Joseph Taylor, 154, was born, Nov. 3, 1800, in the old house, at the foot of Ruckman's Hill, in Middletown, the site of the Osborne House.

This estimable man was the pioneer genealogist, I believe, of Monmouth County. His incursions into family history provoked amusement, wonderment and ridicule, but he was steadfast in his pursuit, with the result of accumulating much data. Nothing pleased him more than to meet a kindred spirit and discuss his hobby, especially in his declining years, saddened by the loss of members of his family. His life, though a happy one was a tempestuous one. He started, when less than thirteen years of age, in the store of his uncle, Edward Taylor, in New York City, with whom he became a partner, in 1830, and so continued until 1840. Henceforth he became prominent in fire insurance matters, becoming the president of several such organizations, which became insolvent, by disastrous fires. At the time of his death, Asher Taylor was Vice-President of the Exchange Fire Insurance Company, of New York City. He resided at various times in New York City, Niagara County, N. Y., Red Bank, N. J., and finally, in Jersey City.

He was a man of sterling honor, an ardent supporter of the Government, during the late Rebellion, and excessively severe in his arraignment of all members of the Confederacy. This feeling of hostility also shows itself, in his writings, when reviewing the lives of members of his family, who, during the Revolutionary War, espoused the Royal cause. He was genial, upright and downright.

He married, in New York City, June 23, 1832, Sarah, daughter of Capt. Alexander Coffin, Jr., born Sept. 29, 1799, and died Mch. 31, 1869, at 12.30 A.M., and is interred in Fairview Cemetery, Middletown, N. J.

THROCKMORTON
MONMOUTH COUNTY, NEW JERSEY

The Throckmortons trace their ancestry into hazy periods of English history where they very appropriately start with one of the name of Adam Throckmorton mentioned in the Worcestershire Pipe Roll, A.D. 1176. The name itself is a compilation of At Rock Moor Town, a town on a rock, which existed in the vale of Evesham, Fladbury, Worcestershire, England, and which apparently was the home and main seat of the family for some generations. From this common ancestor probably descended a numerous progeny divided into many family groups, including the important branch seated at Coughton, in Warwickshire, all of which bore arms blazoned alike or very slightly differenced:

Arms: Gules, on a chevron argent, three bars gemels sable.

Motto: Virtus Sola Nobilitas; or, Moribus Aequis.

Many of the Throckmortons rose to eminence and had their records preserved by contemporary British annalists, but it has been left to the profound American genealogists, Col. C. Wickliffe Throckmorton, of New York City, and Mrs. George D. Sitherwood, of Bloomington, Ill., to assemble all known English and American data in book form, books recently and independently issued, which give the last word in a magnificent family history.

The founder of the American family was John Throckmorton, a cadet of one of the English branches of the family, but the specific claim that he was the son of Bassingbourne Throckmorton, an alderman and grocer of Norwich, I feel is insufficiently substantiated. The complete absence of the unique baptismal name of Bassingbourne, and the names of Bassingbourne Throckmorton's kindred, immediate, collateral and remote, among the children of John Throckmorton, of Rhode Island and New Jersey, is too powerful a rebuttal of this claim to be ignored if it be not absolutely eliminative. If I were to hazard an opinion I should incline to the belief that John Throckmorton sprang from the line of Job Throckmorton, of Haseley, Warwickshire, an outstanding Puritan of his time, who died 1628.

His advent is chronicled by the mild and kindly Gov. Winthrop, as follows:

"Feb. 5, 1631. The Ship Lyon, Mr. William Peirce, Master, arrived at Nantasket. She brought Mr. Williams, a godly minister, with his wife, Mr. Throckmorton, Perkins, Ong, and others with their wives and children, about twenty passengers and about two hundred tons of goods. She set sail from Bristol, Dec. 1, 1630. She had a very tempestuous passage, yet through God's mercy all her people came safe, except Way his son, who fell from the spit sail yard in a tempest and could not be recovered, though he kept in sight for a quarter of an hour; her goods also came in good condition."

May 18, following his arrival, he was admitted a Freeman in the town of Salem, Mass., and, though he had moved, his hog house was mentioned as a landmark in the town records as late as April 15, 1639. Further his name was perpetuated here in an application to a cove on Salem Harbor about two miles west of Peaches Point.

He became a Baptist and followed the footsteps of Roger Williams, his fellow passenger in the Lyon, into Rhode Island, in the summer of 1635 or 1636.

1637, June. Later settlers, at Providence, R. I., had lands laid out for them "as fully as the former portions appropriated to our neighbor Throckmorton, neighbor Greene, neighbor Harris, Joshua Verin, neighbor Arnold and neighbor Williams," etc.

1638, Oct. 8. Roger Williams conveyed to John Throckmorton, as one of twelve individuals, an equal interest, with himself, in his Indian purchase, covering the site of Providence, and on April 22, 1639, sold him an interest in Chibachuwest, now called Prudence Island. The removal of John Throckmorton from Salem was not a compulsory act, as was Mr. Williams', but his strong notion of personal rights and religious freedom would soon have caused his expulsion. For his disaffection and estrangement from the Church, and his adoption of Baptist views, he was excommunicated by the Rev. Hugh Peters, who, writing July 1, 1639, to the Church, at Dorchester, said that John Throckmorton, his wife, and others have had "the greatest censure passed upon them in this our church," as they "wholly refused to hear the church, denying it and all the churches in the Bay to be the true churches."

1640, July 27. He, with thirty-eight others, signed an agreement for a form of government at Rhode Island.

1643. He made application to the Dutch to settle within their jurisdiction which was granted:

Whereas Mr. Throckmorton, with his associates, solicits to settle with thirty-five families within the limits of the jurisdiction of their High Mightinesses, to reside there in peace and enjoy the same privileges as our other subjects, and be favored with the free exercise of their religion; having seen the petition of the aforesaid Throckmorton, and consulted with the interests of the Company, as this request can by no means be injurious to the country, more so as the English are to settle at a distance of three miles from us, so it is granted. Mr. Throckmorton, with thirty-five English families, are permitted to settle within three miles of Amsterdam.

Albany Records from 1638 to 1642.

Upon the 6th of July, 1643, the following "land brief" was granted to Jan Throckmorton:

We, William Kieft, director general, and the council, in behalf of their high mighty lords, the States General of the United Netherlands, his highness the Prince of Orange, and the noble lords, the managers of the General Incorporated West India Company in New Netherlands residing, by these presents, do publish and declare that we, on this day the date underwriter, have given and granted unto Jan Throckmorton a piece of land, (being a portion of Vredeland,) containing as follows, along the East river of New Netherlands, extending from the point half a mile, which piece of land aforesaid is surrounded on one side by a little river, and on the other side by a great kill, which river and kill on high water running, meet each other, surround the said land, as will more clearly appear by a map of the same which has been made and marked off by the surveyor, with the express conditions and terms that the said Jan Throckmorton, or they who by virtue of these presents shall succeed to his action, the noble lords, the managers aforesaid, shall acknowledge as their lords and patroons, under the sovereignty of the high and mighty lords, the States General, and unto their director and council here, shall in all things be confirmed as all good citizens are in duty bound; provided also that the said Jan Throckmorton and his company (associates) shall furthermore be subject to all such burdens and imposts, as already have been enacted by the noble lords, and hereafter may yet be enacted. It is furthermore made an express condition that the aforesaid Jan Throckmorton, according to promise, shall settle on the aforesaid lands as many families as may offer in the same manner, constituting over the said Throckmorton and his company, in our stead, in the real and actual possession of the aforesaid piece of land, lying on the East river aforesaid, giving them by these presents the full and irrevocable might, authority, and special permission the aforesaid parcel of land to enter, cultivate, inhabit and occupy, in like manner as he may lawfully do with other his patrimonial lands and effects, without our, the grantors in quality aforesaid, thereunto any longer having, reserving or saving any part, action, or control whatever, but to the behoof as aforesaid, from all assisting from this time forth and forever, promising moreover this transport firmly, invariably, and irrevocably to maintain, fulfil, and execute, and to do all that in equity we are bound to do. Done in Fort Amsterdam in New Netherlands, this 6th day of July, 1643.

WILLIAM KIFFIT

By order of the noble lords, the directors and council of the New Netherlands. Cornelis Tienhoven, Secretary. Albany Records, G.G., 98. Idem, 173-4.

This grant, subsequently called Throckmorton's Neck and Throg's Neck, embraced the eastern part of the present town. It was bounded on the north by Eastchester neck, on the east by Eastchester bay and Long Island sound, on the south by the East river, and on the west by the Westchester creek.*

Throckmorton's settlement had a short existence and was obliterated by the Indian uprising in the fall of 1643, when it was set upon by the savages and every vestige of it destroyed. Eighteen persons were killed and those who were so fortunate as to escape death, made their way to the Fort at New Amsterdam and "some that escaped from the Indian attack went back to Rhode Island," says Winthrop. Among those who returned was John Throckmorton.

In 1647, John Throckmorton was living in Providence, and was asked to pay fifteen pounds, in wampum, for a house.

1647, Feb. 27. He was granted the house and land of Edward Cope, provided he satisfied the Deputies of Providence, the amount of a certain lien against said property.

1650, Sept. 2. He was taxed £1-3-4, at Providence, R. I.

In 1652, he was Town Moderator, at Providence, R. I.

*Upon the extremity of the point is now, in course of erection (1878) by the United States government, a very strong fortification, called Fort Schuchter. It is calculated, when complete, to defend this entrance and protect the city of New York from foreign invasions, in connection with the formidable works of a similar character erected at the Narrows.

Distarnell's Gazetteer, of New York.

Upon the 24th of April, 1652, John Throckmorton petitioned the director general for leave to transit at Throckmorton's neck. In October following permission was granted, whereupon he conveyed the same to Augustine Hermans.

Albany Records, Court of Assize, Vol. 2, p. 57.

On the 5th of December, 1656, Governor Stuyvesant ordered that Throckmorton's and Cornhill's neck (Classon's Point), might come into their jurisdiction if they please.

Albany Records, Court of Assize, Vol. 1, p. 60.

Augustine Hermans, soon after his purchase, conveyed fifty morgen of land situated on Throckmorton's neck, to Thomas Hunt. In 1665, the town of Westchester asserted "that she had always enjoyed Throckmorton's neck."

Albany Records, Court of Assize, Vol. 2, p. 40.

On the 7th of January, 1667, Richard Nicholls granted to Roger Townsend "a certain parcel of land lying on the neck side of Throckmorton's neck"

In 1669, thirty acres of land on Throckmorton's neck were granted to Mrs. Micah Spicer.

Upon the 12th of January, 1669, Spencer's, Buckett's necks, commonly called the grove farms, were confirmed by letters patent, under the great seal of the province, to Thomas Hunt. . . .

At a court of assize held November 5th, 1669, Mrs. Micah Spicer sued for thirty acres of land on Throckmorton's neck.

Albany Records, Court of Assize, Vol. 2, p. 27.

In 1668, William Barnes and Marchant, wife, conveyed land on Throckmorton's neck, situated on the west of Rye Neck, to Thomas Redent. Albany Records, Lib. A, p. 230. New York's History of the State of New York, Vol. 2, p. 171, 172.

1654, June 26. He sold his interest in Prudence Island, R. I., to Richard Parker, of Boston.

In 1655, he was on the Freeman's List, at Providence, R. I.

1659, Apr. 24. He sold sixty acres to William Carpenter.

1659, June 20. He entered three ankers of strong waters.

1664. He became interested in the development of East Jersey, and shortly thereafter became one of the Monmouth Patentees.

In 1664, '65, '66, '67, '68, '70, '71, '72, '73 and '75, he was a Deputy in Rhode Island.

1666, May 31. He took the oath of allegiance to Charles II, at Providence.

1672, June 14. John Throckmorton, of Rhode Island, conveyed to his son John Throckmorton, land in Middletown. Town Book of Middletown, N. J.

1672, July 18. He wrote a letter to Roger Williams upbraiding him for a letter to George Fox, in which Williams proposed a joint discussion touching Quakerism. He addressed two other sharp letters to him.

1675, June 15. He, still of Rhode Island, sold one hundred and forty acres at, to Daniel Abbott.

1677. He was Town Treasurer; also in the same year a member of the Town Committee.

In 1679, he was taxed 7s. 6d.

In 1687, his ratable estate was two house lots and four shares of meadow.

1687. "Estate of deceased John Throckmorton" taxed 3s.

John Throckmorton was gentlemanly born, well educated and possessed of wealth. He became a trader or merchant in his new home, and likewise was the owner of vessels doubtless used in his commercial enterprises, which carried him to Virginia, up the Delaware River, and to Manhattan. The ships were probably operated by others, as he was never, to my knowledge, spoken of as Captain Throckmorton. His trips in them, however, were the means of his acquaintance with the desirable lands in Westchester County, New York, and the Monmouth Tract in East New Jersey, into whose colonization he entered. By deduction he was born about 1605, and arrived in this country when close to thirty years of age. He died an octogenarian, while visiting his sons John and Job Throckmorton, at Middletown, N. J., between Mch. 17 and Apr. 25, 1683-4, and was interred in a plot of land, set aside by and mentioned in the will of his son John Throckmorton, which later became known as the Lippit Burying ground, and then the Taylor Burying ground, and now is incorporated in the Morford estate on the main highway of the village of Middletown, N. J.

John Throckmorton's wife was Rebecca, as appears from the Rhode Island County Records, Vol. 1, p. 26, and Middlesex Court Files, contributed by the most profound and generous student of the Throckmorton family, Capt. G. Andrews Moriarty, whose descent is through the emigrant's daughter Patience, wife of Deputy Governor John Coggeshall. This Rebecca was probably the wife who accompanied him from England, and is alluded to by Winthrop, and again in one of Roger Williams' letters.

Edward Covill, gent., of Bradwell, in Essex, made his will in 1678; proved Feb. 9, 1679-80, wherein he left a legacy of £6, to his kinsman John Throckmorton, of Middle-Towne, in New England. There is no evidence to determine whether this gift is to the emigrant John Throckmorton, or to his son John Throckmorton, Jr. Both were living in 1678 and there was a Middletown in Rhode Island, as well as one in New Jersey, and the term New England, was so loosely applied in those days that it could easily cover both places. If I were inclined to speculate I should tend to the belief that the reference was to the emigrant. Should it apply to his son it might unravel the surname of his mother Rebecca, wife of the emigrant; and it has been suggested that the name Covell is a misreading of Cornel which would account for the intimate association of the Throckmorton and Cornell families.

2 FREEGIFT THROCKMORTON, son of John Throckmorton, 1, was apparently the eldest son. He died relatively young and unmarried.

1667, Sept. 1. Capt. Thomas Salter, of Jamaica, commanded a privateer which captured a Spanish vessel laden with Campeachy wood. He made William Smith its master with directions to sail the prize to Jamaica, instead of which Smith sailed the vessel to New York. Thereupon Samuel Mosely, acting for Salter, employed John Rider to sue Smith and his associates in the Court of Admiralty.

Smith, styling himself, Commander of the good ship William, had in the Bay of Campeachy, apparently arrogated to himself ownership and set up Articles of Agreement Sept. 1, 1667, with Freegift Throckmorton, Thomas Barnes, Symon Jones, Samuel Smith, Thomas Davis, John Haytor and Abraham Keelings, by which it was agreed that each man was to have his proper share of the vessel and a proportionate share of the Campeachy wood then on board, with the Captain having two shares; that no one was to sell his interest except to one of the others; that if any one deserted the ship he forfeited his share and that all prizes were to be equally divided except that the Captain was to have two shares. Throckmorton's and Keeling's participation in the venture apparently arose from provisioning the ship after it was taken over by William Smith. No decision is recorded.

New York Wills, Vol. I, p. 303.

1669, Nov. 6. John Throckmorton, Jr., of Middletown, in East Jersey, who, with his father was the lawful heir and next of kin of his late deceased brother Freegift Throckmorton, who died intestate, gave a power of attorney to his father, Mr. John Throckmorton, of Providence, Rhode Island, in New England, to sue for sums due the estate of his late brother Freegift Throckmorton, from Richard Berris [?], of Watertown, or Judah Bidedes, in his daughter's possession. Witness: Jonathan Hullmes, son to obadiah Hulmes off road Island.

3 PATIENCE THROCKMORTON, daughter of John Throckmorton, 1, was born 1640; married December, 1655, John Coggeshall, the Second, of Rhode Island, and died Sept. 7, 1676. Her husband was born 1618 (?) and died Oct. 1, 1708. He was a son of John Coggeshall, Sr.; was an eminent person in the early history of Rhode Island, and resided at Newport. He was wealthy and left a will dividing his property between three sets of children, by various wives, of which the following are the offspring of his second marriage:

4 JOHN THROCKMORTON, son of John Throckmorton, 1, was probably born in this country, or if not, was an infant when he reached here. He dwelt, successively, in Salem, Mass., Providence, R. I., Throg's Neck, N. Y., and Middletown, N. J. After the massacre at Throg's Neck in 1643, he returned to Providence, but joined in founding the settlement of Monmouth County, whither he removed and abided till his decease in 1690. His earliest record is that which connects him with Providence, R. I., where, in June, 1668, he engaged allegiance. It was shortly after this that he moved to Middletown, where, in December, 1667 (if it be not his father that is meant), he had assigned to him town lots. Shortly after his arrival in Middletown Dec. 12, 1670, he was married, or as the ancient record expresses it, "was coupled together," by Edward Smith, Constable, to Alice, daughter of Richard and Penelope Stout, of Middletown.

If he was not already the owner of lands he was speedily put in the possession of such by his father, who, by deed of Mch. 3, 1672, conveyed one of his two shares of land acquired as a Patentee, to his son John, while the other he conveyed to James Ashton, the husband of his daughter Deliverance Throckmorton. From the fact that Job, a younger brother, drew town lots with the father in 1667, it may be inferred that John Throckmorton, 4, had not yet withdrawn from the Providence Plantations, and that his interests were only such as his father primarily secured, and which were later conveyed to him. However, he soon added, by grants and purchases, to the lands conveyed him by his father and died seized of a large realty.

1685, July 20. For £375, Pennsylvania currency, he bought of Robert Turner, one of the twelve Proprietors, of East Jersey, 1/48 undivided part of the Province of East Jersey, it being 1/2 of said Turner's 1/2 of Thomas Rudyard's undivided 1/2 of the Province conveyed by Rudyard to Turner in 1682.

1685, Dec. 4. John Throckmorton conveyed to James Bowne, Job Throckmorton, Joseph Throckmorton, James Ashton, Joseph Grover, Lidia Bowne, and Edward Smith, each, 1/10 of his 1/48; and to Benjamin Borden, John Smith, John Stout and Jonathan Holmes, each, 1/20 of his 1/48, of East Jersey. In consideration of the forgoing purchase and claim, the Proprietors on June 25, 1688, granted and released to the said John Throckmorton four hundred and eighty acres at Crosswicks, in Monmouth County, "beginning at a Walnut tree standing on the South side of the Burlington path."

1688, Mch. 28. John Throckmorton sold to James Bowne 1/20 of his 1/24. Later, Sept. 22, 1699, James Bowne, as heir, conveyed this conveyance to his brother John Bowne who sold the 1/20 of 1/24 to James Alexander.

John Throckmorton drew in the first division of lands in Middletown: lot No. 24, Dec. 30, 1667, and lot No. 18, Dec. 31, 1667.

1668. He recorded his cattle-mark.

1668, June. John Throckmorton, Jr., engaged allegiance in Providence.

1670, Aug. 31. He was a fence viewer.

1671, Nov. 18. He was elected a Deputy to the General Assembly.

1672, June. He was appointed Ensign.

1673, July 7. He was chosen Constable.

1673, September. He was appointed by the Dutch, a Justice.

1675, Jan. 1. He was a Grand Jurymen for the year.

1675, June 29. He, with others, was appointed to determine the town boundaries.

1675, Nov. 2. He was elected a Deputy to the General Assembly, at Elizabethtown.

1677, Jan. 1. He was appointed one of the Deputies to meet the Governor, at Elizabethtown.
Records, Middletown, N. J., Vol. I.

1688, May 14. He was appointed one of two Deputies from Middletown, to the Assembly.
Records of the Governor and Council of East Jersey, p. 146.

John Throckmorton was a man of eminence. He served as a representative in the Assembly 1675 to 1688; was the Town's representative to meet the Governor in 1677; was long a Judge in the County courts, and was one of the Committee, who, with the sheriff, was appointed to build the first Monmouth County jail in 1684.

His lands amounted to several thousand acres and his purchases are too numerous to mention in their entirety.

He died after an active and useful life, in the Summer of 1690, leaving a will recorded in New York and Trenton, N. J., which mentioned the following persons:

his wife Alice, who received his dwelling and orchard at Garret's Hill, in Middletown, and one hundred acres adjoining, and twenty acres of meadow; his son Joseph and daughter Rebecca, who received the balance of his uplands and meadow, lying within ten miles of his residence, at Garret's Hill, and to them likewise, upon his wife's demise, the bequest made to her. The rest of his lands and proprietorship he willed, equally, to his four other children, who are likewise to have one-half of the estate "that both by right belong to me by reason of my brother Joseph's will." Finally, he reserved for burial purposes, a one-quarter acre lot "where my father is buried in Middletown." The will was written July 17, 1690; proved Aug. 22, 1690. Witnesses: Richard Hartshorne and Job Throckmorton.

Alice Stout, the widow of John Throckmorton, married, second, Robert Skelton, by license dated Oct. 30, 1611, by whom she had:

Susanna Skelton who married Barnes Johnson, and had: Skelton Johnson and Alice Johnson, who married John Debow, who died 1749-50, leaving a son John Debow.

Alice Stout married, third, Mr. Jones.

1704, Apr. 13. Letters of administration were granted to Alice Jones, mother of Joseph Throckmorton, lately deceased, intestate, and again, May 15, 1704, an inventory of the estate of Robert Skelton was filed in New York, which was of large size and which was attested by Alice Jones, his relict and administratrix.

In 1692, Robert Skelton was Foreman of the Petit Jury in Monmouth County, and April, 1696-7, both he and his wife were living in or about Middletown.

In 1700-1703, Robert Skelton was a Vestryman of Trinity Church, New York City.

In 1717, an Alice Skelton was a witness at the marriage of a kins-woman, Patricia Lippet to John Wooley, of Shrewsbury. She was, perhaps, Alice Stout, widow of Robert Skelton, or if not, she must have been her daughter. It is certain that Alice (Stout) Throckmorton and Robert Skelton had one child, viz.: Susanna; for, in 1730, it is set forth in a deed, recorded at Freehold, that Susannah Skelton, wife of Barnes Johnson, in 1726, was a "sister of the half blood" of Joseph Throckmorton, her brother, and that he, said Barnes Johnson, and wife Susanna Skelton had a son Skelton Johnson.*

The name Skelton appears in Bucks County, Pa., where Robert Skelton, in 1748, was not infrequently alluded to in property transactions.

Who Alice Stout's third husband, Mr. Jones, was, I have not discovered.

5 JOB THROCKMORTON, son of John Throckmorton, 1, was born in the year 1650, (Sept. 30), probably in the State of Rhode Island, and was likely the youngest of the children. In 1667 he came to Middletown, and was allotted lands in the village and outlying country.

1667, Dec. 30. Job Throckmorton drew, in the first division of lands in Middletown, lot No. 22, and on Dec. 31, 1667, he drew lot No. 36.

In 1668, he recorded his cattle-mark.

In 1670, he owned a large tract of ground, in Middletown, to which he added a grant from the Proprietors, Nov. 18, 1676, which he subsequently exchanged for land at Colt's Neck, Jan. 7 [20], 1700, owned by Nathaniel Leonard, who was joined in the deed by his wife, Susannah Leonard. Each family thereupon took permanent residence upon their newly acquired domain, and the Leonards gave to their land the name of Leonardsville. These sites have remained in the respective families and have been their homesteads for over two hundred years. In 1700, when this transfer took place, Job Throckmorton was residing at Shrewsbury.

*1726, Oct. 2. Rebecca Stillwell, of Staten Island, widow, and John Coward, of Freehold, Seal Greengrass. It is set forth that the Proprietors of East Jersey, did convey to Joseph Throckmorton, now deceased, son of John Throckmorton, deceased, one hundred and thirty-seven acres of land, of the head of Middlebrook Creek, Freehold Township, and that the said Joseph Throckmorton died without issue, and the land descended to his sister's heirs, as follows: John Coward, having the senior right of descent, Patience Lake, deceased, and a quit claim to Susanna, wife of Barnes Johnson, of Middletown, "sister of the half blood" of the deceased Joseph Throckmorton, deceased," etc. These lands he, John Coward, conveyed to John Reid, lot at Freehold, who received them by patent, Aug. 8, 1721, and who sold them, with warranty, March 11, 1723, to Richard Watson.

In 1750, Col. John Reid, son of the late John Reid, bought out the rights of the heirs of Joseph Throckmorton, for which he paid £137, and William Watson, the successor of Richard Watson, paid, towards the same, £100, as appears from the following:

1752, May 7. Skelton Johnson, son and heir of Susanna Johnson, deceased; John Lippet, son and heir of Sarah Lippet, deceased; and Thomas Stillwell, Jr., son and heir of Thomas Stillwell, deceased, all of the County of Bucks, in the State of Pennsylvania, and Col. John Reid, of Freehold, presented to Joseph Throckmorton, deceased, John Reid, 1721, 1723, 1726, 1727, with warranty, and whose lands passed to his five sisters and heirs, viz: Rebecca, widow of John Reid, deceased; John Reid, deceased; William Lippet, deceased; Patience; wife of Hugh Coward, and Delia, wife of Thomas Watson, who are all deceased.

June 18, 1752. Then Received of James Morrow one of the Executors of James Bawn, Deceased, the Sum of three Pounds ten Shillings and four Pence in full of all accounts from James Bawn, Deceased to John Reid, Deceased and Ann Decker, his Wife and Per Nic 1690, Aug. 18. Job Throckmorton appointed his brother, Samuel Leonard, attorney, in re his brother, Joseph, deceased.

1705. Job Throckmorton and Sarah, his wife, of Shrewsbury, conveyed lands to Daniel Applegate.

1705. Release of this date; recorded in 1714, in which Job Throckmorton, of Shrewsbury, released to John Stillwell, Thomas Stillwell, Moses Lippit, and Hugh Coward, property of his late brother, Joseph Throckmorton. Recorded before Jeremiah Stillwell, Justice.

Job Throckmorton rose to eminence in the community, and filled many positions of trust.

Job Throckmorton and Sarah Leonard were married by Peter Tilton, at Middletown, Feb. 2, 1684-5.

She "died Feb. 5, 1743-4, aged 83 years, 8 months and 6 days," [born May 30, 1662], and her remains were interred in Christ Churchyard, Shrewsbury. The site is marked with a brown stone with the preceding inscription and is surrounded today by the graves of many of her descendants.

Job Throckmorton died Aug. 20, 1709, aged 58 years, 10 months and 21 days, and was buried in the Lippit or Taylor Buryingground, in the heart of Middletown village. The brown stone slab that marked the site of his grave was badly broken and fallen, but is now repaired. He left a numerous progeny from whom all of the name of Throckmorton in the United States at this day, descend, except the descendants of John Throckmorton, of Virginia.

Job Throckmorton, of Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., died intestate, and letters of administration were granted to Sarah Throckmorton, widow, of Monmouth Co., and John Throckmorton, of Monmouth Co., June 8, 1711. The inventory amounted to £99-00-01, and was made by Henry Leonard, David Killy and William Leeds, Jr.

6 DELIVERANCE THROCKMORTON, daughter of John Throckmorton, 1, married at Providence, R. I., James Ashton, Jr. He was doubtless the son of James Ashton, who was a Commissioner in 1652, '58, '59 and '63, and a Deputy in 1665, in Rhode Island.

In 1667, James Ashton, Jr., located upon the Monmouth Patent, in the vicinity of Freehold. He was apparently a divine, for he is spoken of in old documents as the Rev. James Ashton, yet it is likely that he was not ordained. Be that as it may, he was the first who ministered to the spiritual wants of the infant settlements in Monmouth County, which were of the Baptist persuasion. He was held in great esteem and filled numerous responsible positions. See Ashton Family. His children, so far as is now known to me, are:

- 34 James Ashton, of Freehold; of age in or before 1693; died probably 1731.
- 35 John Ashton, of Cream Ridge; died 1744.

7 JOSEPH THROCKMORTON, son of John Throckmorton, 1, was an early property holder in Middletown. He was a trader and mariner and the owner of two vessels, perhaps more. He never married, so far as is known, or if so, outlived his marriage and issue, if any.

His will, recorded in New York, Lib. III, p. 185, declares that he is a mariner, "being about to go to Sea," and that he devises his property to his namesake Joseph, the heir male of his brother John Throckmorton, yeoman, of Middletown, East Jersey, whom he constitutes executor of his will and trustee of the bequest to his nephew Joseph. The will was written Dec. 2, 1689, at Burlington, West Jersey.

Joseph Throckmorton, Mariner, bound for the West Indies, made a nuncupative will, in Philadelphia, Pa. Alice and John Throckmorton gave a power of attorney to Richard Hartshorne to settle the affairs of "Joseph Throckmorton decd." His vessels were lying off Burlington, in Delaware River.

Trenton, N. J., Wills, Lib. 10 of E., p. 257.

1690, Sept. 2. Alice Throckmorton gave a power of attorney to Richard Hartshorne. She signed by her mark. Recited that Joseph Throckmorton had ketches, "Hannah" and "Sarah," at anchor off Delaware.

John Throckmorton, 4, died prior to his brother Joseph, 7, leaving his [John's] wife Alice, his executrix; whereupon as such, she applied for letters of administration upon the estate of Joseph Throckmorton, which were granted, in New York, Oct. 13, 1690. In the probate proceedings she is spoken of as "Mistress Ails" and "Mistress Alte Throckmorton."

8 THROCKMORTON, daughter of John Throckmorton, 1.

On the 30th of Oct., 1667, John Throckmorton wrote a letter to the Assembly, of Rhode Island, concerning the estate of his daughter Taylor, which was referred to the Town Council. She was possibly then recently deceased. No other information has been obtained concerning her that I know of.

9 There were probably other children who were murdered by the Indians in their youth, while living at Throg's Neck, in 1643. Mr. Winthrop wrote in his diary that the Indians killed "such of Mr. Throckmorton's and Mr. Cornhill's families as were at home."

Extermination of the whites was an easy matter, for Winthrop further says, of these settlers, that "these people had cast off ordinances and churches, and now at last, their own people, and for larger accommodations, had subjected themselves to the Dutch and dwelt scatteringly, near a mile asunder."

19 REBECCA THROCKMORTON, daughter of John Throckmorton, 4, became the second wife of John Stillwell, of Staten Island.

John Stillwell, the husband of Rebecca Throckmorton, 4, was sheriff, of Staten Island, in 1693; Justice in 1702, and a Member of Assembly 1710, to the date of his demise. His wife was living in 1724, when he died. The property she brought him by marriage, he bequeathed to his sons—to John, the estate at Garrat's Hill, and to Joseph, the lands in Nutswamp; both situated in Middletown, N. J.

The heirs of John Throckmorton set forth their claim to the Turner Patent. In the application for a warrant to survey it, it is stated that Deliverance Throckmorton died single; that Elze married Thomas Stillwell, and that her son and heir was Thomas Stillwell, appears by the deposition of Richard John Powell, her first husband, died June 8, 1728, aged about 40 years. By him she had one son William Powell who died November, 1721, in his eighteenth year. Both father and son are buried in the Lippit Burying ground, Middletown, N. J., close to her father, Job Throckmorton, and their graves marked with headstones.

The origin of John Powell I do not know, but there were Powells in Woodbridge and Burlington, N. J.

Among such executions was one of Rebecca Throckmorton, the wife now of Samuel Ellit; another was of Alice Throckmorton, now dead, who died some little time after her brother Job, died, and another was of Mary Throckmorton, [77], now widow of Eden Norris.

113 COL. JOHN THROCKMORTON, son of Joseph Throckmorton, 60, was born Mch. 4, 1752; baptised June 14, 1752, and died Jan. 21, 1836. He married Margaret White born July 19, 1760; died Apr. 30, 1829, in Toronto. Both were buried at St. James' Cathedral. He espoused the Royal side during the Revolution, and subsequently moved to North Norwich, Ontario, where he died and where his estate is still occupied by his descendants.

Tradition says that when he left Monmouth County he went to Prince Edward's Island, where a tract of land had been granted him; later, he sojourned in New Jersey a while. He travelled in France, where he was taught "the sword exercise." Margaret White, the wife of Col. John Throckmorton, was reputed the daughter of a sea captain and was one who by frequent trips with her father, had become an expert sailor herself. Once while on a voyage, when the captain and the mates became intoxicated, she promptly had them locked in their cabins, and, taking the helm, herself, sailed the ship through many dangers into port. Her portrait gives her a fine, strong face.

The Council taking the affair into Consideration, were of Opinion that they could not form any Conclusion respecting a Prisoner without having him first before them, and therefore as they cannot redeem Time sufficient for the Purpose at present, they deferred the Determination to some future Time."

Joseph Phillips died Aug. 1, 1820, aged 34 years and 9 months, though I find a doubt expressed as to the age, on his tombstone. Ursula Throckmorton died Sept. 15, 1824, aged 62 years. Both are buried at Christ Church, Shrewsbury, N. J.

1820, Jan. 17. Joseph Phillips, Esq., of Freehold, made his will; proved Aug. 14, 1820, in which he mentioned his wife Ursula.

1791. Ursula Throckmorton was a witness to a marriage, in Shrewsbury.

1804, Sept. 19. Will of Samuel Throckmorton, of Freehold; proved Nov. 10, 1804, mentioned:

wife Ursula; nephew Samuel, son of brother John, not of age; nephew John, son of brother John; nephew Thomas C., son of brother James; nephew Joseph, son of brother William; sister Jane Forman, wife of Thomas Forman, "now of Kean Tuckey," and her son Samuel Forman.

He apparently died without issue.

1811, Feb. 19. John and James Throckmorton, as executors of Samuel Throckmorton, brought suit for $100., at the house of Jacob Hart, Innkeeper, of Shrewsbury, before Justice Joseph Vanderveer against Barnes H. Smock and Doctor Anderson. The former was served by a summons by William A. Wykoff, Constable, and at the request of Archie Smock, for his father, the case was adjourned, but judgment later was taken by the plaintiffs and execution granted and given to Richard Sutphen, Constable, to collect. No property of Lloyd's was found and attempted collection was then made against Dr. Anderson, who put up bonds, (Smock having removed), and appealed to the Supreme Court. The Throckmortons filed a bill of details (extracted) as follows:

Purchases begin 1802, July 3rd. Among them: Muslin, Gimblers, piece Tape, 1 Skean Silk, 1 Gall. Mola/ses, 1 Qt. Wine, Crackers, Tobacco, "To Sundries, as p^r Bill of Abraham Bucklew, £2-4-3," 12 panes Glas/s, £0-8-0, 1 lb. sousing Tea £0-8-0, 1 Vial Pepper Mint £0-8-0.

Purchases end Dec. 18, 1802. Credits end Dec^r 1, 1802. Total bill £9-8-6.

Dr. (James) Anderson counterclaimed and among the reasons given to set aside the judgment of Joseph Vanderveer, Esq^t, Justice of the Peace, Monmouth County, is that the plaintiff is mentioned as Doektar Anderson and his Christian name is omitted.

*Christopher Vought was the son of John Vought and Mary, daughter of John Grandin.

TILTON OF NEW JERSEY*

The first Tilttons in America were established at Lynn, Massachusetts, as early as 1640-1. Two of them were contemporary, William and John, and a great divergence in their years leads one to suspect that the two may have stood in the relation of older and much younger brother, unless we give to John a father of like name, which we are disposed to do because of an allusion in the Court records to the wife of a John Tilton, Jr., whose name appears in the presentments of 1642, for non-belief in and contempt of the ordinance of baptism. If we accept the existence of a John Tilton, Sr., he would be on a parity in age with William Tilton, and there would then be no need to strain the ages of William and John, Jr., in order to bring them into the same generation, even though there is no proof of the supposed John Tilton, Sr.'s, having come to this country.

That this supposititious John Tilton, Sr., is of the closest kin to William Tilton, of Lynn, and, supposedly his brother, may be justly inferred because of the identity of names in the descendants of the two men, viz.: Peter, Samuel, Daniel, Abraham, as children of William Tilton, of Lynn, which names likewise appear among the six sons of John Tilton, the grandson of the supposititious John Tilton, Sr., of Lynn.

John Tilton's history and movements more intimately concern us, as he was the ancestor of the Tilttons of New Jersey.

How long John Tilton may have sojourned in Lynn prior to 1640, I know not, but it was shortly after this date that, actuated in all likelihood by the same feelings of religious unrest as possessed Lady Deborah Moody, he migrated, probably with her and her followers, to New Amsterdam, to secure a place for settlement among the Dutch. He

*This genealogy of the Tilton family was compiled by me many years ago and revised for me by my friend, the late Rev. William White Hance, just prior to his death. Mr. Hance was well qualified to render me this service. His long penetration into the history of the Tilttons was a profound and continuous labor of many years and a matter of pride and love. In November, 1907, Mr. Francis Theodore Tilton commenced the publication in serial pamphlet form (still in issuance) his History Of The Tilton Family in America, a work so exhaustive in character that I have hesitated to proceed with printing my own manuscript. However, upon reflection, I feel that its omission in Volume VI, would be an abridgment of the Historical and Genealogical Miscellany's value to many whose family histories have been published in the preceding volumes and who are connected by various ties with the Tilttons. I have strenuously avoided all comparison of Mr. Tilton's work with my own, and with the possibility of even unjust comparison. I do not know what any differences will occur in the facts we present, but should such a situation arise I would require a prompt acceptance of Mr. Tilton's statements as precedence to my own, as I recognize him as the legitimate historian of the Tilton Family. Mr. Tilton incorporates much information concerning the family alliance and the epochs in which they live, which, with the personal history he reports, has depicted a reality that lives on. Every one may be proud of his Tilton blood and Mr. Francis Theodore Tilton's work will grow invaluable as time goes on.

apparently married while residing at Lynn, and had born to him there two children at least, John, in 1640, and Peter, in 1642. In 1644, Sarah, his daughter, was born, perhaps in New Amsterdam or Gravesend, though the latter had not yet become a place of organized settlement, or was at least too much exposed to the hardships of early life to harbor any except the most hardy settlers.

John Tilton was one of the first settlers of Gravesend, of which place he was the Town Clerk from 1643 to 1662, and again from 1668 to 1681.

1646, Feb. 20. In the first division of distribution of farms called Plantations, and of lots called Garden Spots, John Tilton was assigned one of each.

1652. As agent for Mr. William Bell he bought a farm in Gravesend of Robert Scott.

1655. Jacobus Van Curler and other Dutch settlers of Gravesend wrote to Director Stuyvesant stating their "daily fears that the strange reports from Hempstead and Newtown that the Savages intended killing the Dutch among the English; that the Savages had demanded of the English of Gravesend that they should separate from the Dutch so that they might not be in any danger; that Tilton and the Magistrates of Gravesend have advised the Dutch that it were best they moved away, but if the Dutch would not move the English would do the best they could for them, which they think is poor consolation if the Savages should come; that if they leave Long Island is no longer inhabited by the Dutch; that the English continually communicate with each other; that yesterday Tilton and the Sheriff of Newtown came; today they went away again." And they conclude by asking for a moderate force, else an armed vessel to carry them, their families and possessions away.

1656, May 14. Letter of John Tilton, Clerk, to Director Stuyvesant in answer to a complaint of Anthony Johnson in respect to intrusion on his, Johnson's, lands. In this letter, written for his fellow townsmen of Gravesend, John Tilton alluded to Anthony Johnson as a Mohammedan, and a troublesome person, . . . in troublesome time when the whole country seems to hang upon uncertainty, and all our lives in jeopardy as by the great supplies Indians have of arms and ammunition. It would appear that Johnson charged the Gravesenders with encroaching upon the boundary lines of his farm, while they countercharged that he invaded the bounds of Gravesend, and accused him of being a liar, and called him likewise Anthony the zibi, which means the skunk.

When the first evangelists of the Quaker persuasion came to New Netherlands, the Governor, Peter Stuyvesant, it appears, received them kindly, but soon after showed a spirit of bitter hostility to them as well as to the Lutherans of New Amsterdam and the Independents of Middleberg. And Feb. 1, 1656, an ordinance was enacted against those who held conventicles here and there within the Province, and against unqualified persons in such meetings who assumed the ministerial office without being called or appointed thereto by ecclesiastical or civil authority, and penalties were framed for any infraction of this ordinance. So far as regards its application to the Lutherans of New Amsterdam, this intolerant law was vetoed, June 14, 1656, by the authorities in Holland, and while the Director was therefore restrained from interfering with them, the English of Gravesend and other towns were not protected in like manner, and were little likely to find favor with the home authorities, and consequently might safely be proceeded against. Hence, in 1658, on the 8th of January, an order was issued to furnish the Sheriff of Gravesend with a copy of John Tilton's answer to the charge of entertaining a Quakeress; and two days later (Jan. 10) he was sentenced for harboring some of "the abominable sect of Quakers," and fined £12. and costs.

On the morning of Jan. 10, 1661, the under schout of New Amsterdam and Nicholas Bayard came from Jamaica to Gravesend having heard there was a Quaker meeting at the latter place. Arriving at the house of Samuel Spicer, they learned that George Wilson, a Quaker preacher, had just held a meeting there, but being informed of the approach of the officers had made his escape by so precipitous a flight as to leave his cloak behind. This the officers seized and also arrested Samuel Spicer, who, with Mary, the wife of John Tilton, had attended a Quaker meeting, at Jamaica, the day previous; and on the 20th of January, John Tilton, "for being at the Quaker meeting January 9, and at a Quaker meeting at Gravesend January 10th," was sentenced to be banished from the Province, but, through the influence of Lady Moody, he was pardoned.

This experience, however, does not seem to have at all intimidated this courageous couple, and, September 19, 1662, the Director and Council notified the magistrates of all the English towns on Long Island to assist Resolved Walldron in arresting "all persons who attend unlawful or prohibited meetings." At the same time complaint was made against John Tilton, for attending meetings of Quakers and harboring persons of that persuasion, and against Mary, his wife, for "attending meetings of that abominable sect called Quakers." They were both arrested and imprisoned, and, October 6th, were sentenced to banishment from the Province. The sentence, however, was not put into execution until the following May, influence having apparently been brought to bear on the Director to postpone the carrying of it out until the rigors of winter should be passed. But, May 7, 1663, the Fiscal was ordered "to take an inventory of the estate of John Tilton, sentenced to banishment," and, May 17th, a warrant was issued to the Sheriff, commanding him to remove John and Mary Tilton out of the Province. In this emergency kind friends (Anthony Wright and others), at Oyster Bay, offered the banished couple a home, which they gladly accepted, and that place, outside the Dutch jurisdiction, became their residence until the hurling of the despotic Stuyvesant from power, in 1664, made it possible for them to return home.

Upon the banishment of John Tilton, the office of Town Clerk became vacant, and William Gouling was elected as his successor. John Tilton and his wife removed back from Oyster Bay to Gravesend in 1667, and, in 1668, he was again made Town Clerk, and annually re-elected to that office till 1681, when John Emans succeeded him.

1664, Jan. 1. Among those to whom land was deeded by the Indians at Shrewsbury, N. J., we find the names of John Tilton, Sr., and Jr.

1665. Samuel Spicer and John Tilton, having become owners of Barron Island, sold it to Elbert Elberts (Stothoff).

1665, Nov. 1. George Baxter sold to John Tilton, of Gravesend, lot No. 19, in Gravesend, formerly owned by Thomas Greedye.

1670, Jan. 5. In the partition of land on Garretson's Neck and Guisbert's Island, into thirty-nine lots, John Tilton was assigned two of them.

1672. John Tilton and John Tilton, Jr., were among those who held land in the West meadow, Gravesend.

1675, Sep. 6. He was commissioned one of the Justices of the Peace of King's County.

1676, June 26. John Tilton and John Cook, who had been chosen Overseers of Gravesend, being Quakers, refused to take the oath of office, and the Court of Sessions dispensed with it, directing them "to give their engagements to Mr. Justice Hubbard to perform their duties as overseers, under penalty of perjury."

1681, Apr. 15. John Tilton, of Gravesend, sold his rights in two acres of land, lot No. 7, on Guisbert's Island, to John Carsonson, of Gravesend.

1683. John Tilton, of Gravesend, was assessed on twenty-nine acres of land, one horse, five cows, nine sheep, and two hogs.

1688/9. John Tilton was among those who received land in Gravesend, in the public division of the same.

The maiden name of Mary, the wife of John Tilton, is to me unknown. She was apparently the mother of all his children. And it was probably she who appeared, lacking a Christian name, but described as the wife of John Tilton, Jr., in the presentments of Dec. 14, 1642, for maintaining that baptism was no ordinance of God.

She was a woman of strong religious convictions, and was not afraid to assert them. The inevitable result was that this arrayed her against the authorities both in New England and New Amsterdam. And since she, as well as her husband, was a follower of George Fox, she was much persecuted.

"Goody Tilton was not so much condemned for assisting at Conventicles as for having, like a sorceress, gone from door to door to lure and seduce the people, yea even young girls, to join the Quakers."

She died, May 23 [29], 1683, at Gravesend, and was no doubt interred in the plot her husband later left in his will for burial purposes.

John Tilton died, 1688, at Gravesend, leaving the following will:

- 2 John Tilton born [4. 4mo.] June 4, 1640; married, first, Mary Coates; second, Rebecca Terry.
- 3 Peter Tilton born [in ye 11th mo., 1641] January, 1642; died Dec. 10, 1699/1700; married Rebecca Brazier.
- 4 Sarah Tilton born [4. 3mo.] May 4, 1644; married John Painter.
- 5 Ester Tilton born 1647; died Sep. 24, 1703; married Samuel Spicer.
- 6 Abigail Tilton born 1650; married, first, Ralph Warner; second, William Scott.
- 7 Thomas Tilton born [1. 1mo.] Mch. 1, 1652; removed to Delaware.

8 Mary Tilton born [in ye 11mo.] June, 1654; married Henry Bowman. It has been thought his name was Carman, but in the will of his father-in-law it seems to have been spelled boman, with a small letter "b" instead of the capital. While the name Carman is found in Monmouth Co., at a little later date, Henry Bowman appears to have paid Quit Rents on land that had been recorded to him in 1681, and which adjoined some of Peter Tilton's land.

2 JOHN TILTON, son of John Tilton, 1, born 4mo. (June), 4, 1640; died probably early in the year 1704, his will having been probated April 17th of that year. He married, first, at Oyster Bay, L. I., 8mo. (Oct.), 10, 1670, Mary Coats, and second, at Flushing, L. I., 3mo. (May), 12, 1674, Rebecca Terry, by whom he appears to have had all his children. She died, in Middletown, N. J., 10mo. (Dec.), 18, 1715. This date for her death is found on the Shrewsbury Quaker Meeting Records, on the same page as, and following after the names and dates of birth of the children born to Walter and Sarah (Tilton) Herbert. And Sarah Herbert was her own daughter.

1658, Oct. 10. Thomas Greedye, born in Devonshire, England, in his will of this date; proved Nov. 4, 1658, devised to his loving friend John Tilton, of Gravesend, his estate, out of which the said Tilton was to pay his debts, and the remainder he bequeathed to Peter Tilton, son of said John Tilton, excepting only one small sum the which I have given unto John Tilton, Jr.

1662, Nov. 16. Order for John Tilton, Jr., to deliver up a boat he had secured.

1664, 1mo., 25. John Tilton, Jr., and his brother-in-law, Samuel Spicer, were among those named in the first purchase of land, in Monmouth Co., from the Indian Sachem Popomora. This deed was acknowledged April 7, 1665, and is on record in the Secretary of State's Office, at Albany and in Trenton, as well as in the Proprietors' Office at Perth Amboy.

1683, Aug. 13. John Tilton, Jr., of Gravesend, sold to Martin Petersen (Wykoff) a plantation in Gravesend.

1684, Mich. 26. John Tilton, Jr., named as executor in the will of Obadiah Wilkins.

1691/2, Mch. 8. John Tilton, of Gravesend, sold to Cort Stevenson, of Flatlands, all his Gravesend property, for £295, reserving the use for twelve months to remove therefrom. About this time he would seem to have left Gravesend to reside in Monmouth Co. And this deduction is further sustained by the fact that his brother, Peter Tilton, and wife Rebecca, were the only Tiltons whose names appear in the Quaker Records up to 1692.

1694, September. He was one of the Grand Jurors independent enough to indict one of the Judges then sitting on the bench, and to present another.

1700, October. He was committed to the custody of the Sheriff for "subscribing a seditious paper."

1700, 9mo., (Nov.), 23. Will of John Tilton, of Middletown; proved Apr. 17, 1704. In it he makes no mention of his son Abraham Tilton, probably because he was dead at the time of its being made. Neither does the testator refer in it to his youngest daughters, Mary and Hester. But he does distinctly declare that he had a son Peter Tilton, who is not of age, and yet this Peter's name is not given with those of the other children in the Shrewsbury Quaker Records, nor in the Friends Records of New York and Vicinity, which gives his children and their birth dates, as I append them.

To son, John Tilton, five shillings; to son Samuel Tilton eighty-five acres of upland and three of meadow, and to his heirs; to daughter Sarah Tilton one cow; to my wife, Rebecca Tilton, after my decease, my dwelling house, etc., and all my farme, after her decease. It is to go to my son Peter Tilton and his heirs, not yet 21; in case of his death, then to my son Daniel Tilton, and his heirs if he die before he come of age, then to my son Thomas Tilton, and his heirs. If Peter live to be 21, then he is to pay unto his two brothers Daniell and Thomas Tilton, fifteen pounds to each; if he die, Daniell shall pay 30 pounds to Thomas. Residue to my wife Rebecca Tilton, my Executrix, and after her death, to be equally divided amongst my children. Friends, Thomas Hillborn & John Lippincott, will be helpful to my wife to see my will performed.

3 PETER TILTON, son of John Tilton, 1, born, January, 1642, at Lynn, Mass.; died, in Middletown, N. J., Dec. 15, 1699/1700. New York marriage licenses show that he married, Apr. 22, 1665, Rebecca, daughter of Henry and Susannah Brazier, born April, 1648; died, in Middletown, Oct. 6, 1700.

7 THOMAS TILTON, son of John Tilton, 1, born Mch. 1, 1652; removed to Delaware.

1678. Thomas Tilton was witness to a deed in Gravesend, L. I.

In direct descent from this Thomas Tilton, 7, who removed to Delaware, was James Tilton, a reputed son, but undoubtedly he was a grandson instead, as records on file at Washington, in the Pension Department, state that he was about sixty-nine or seventy years of age, in 1813, and died May 14, 1822. This would make him to have been born about 1743 or 1744, and his alleged father, Thomas, would have been about ninety-five years of age at his birth, which demonstrates that he was a grandson rather than a son of the said Thomas.

It is further shown by the records of the War Department, at Washington, that James Tilton, surgeon, Colonel John Haslett's Delaware Regiment, Revolutionary War, was commissioned, Jan. 13, 1776, and was honorably discharged at the expiration of one year; that he was appointed physician and surgeon-general, United States Army, June 11, 1813, and was honorably discharged June 15, 1815. He was pensioned for disabilities contracted during this service.*

It has likewise been stated of him that he was a Member of Congress.

Dr. James Tilton appears to have made some efforts to trace his relationship with the New Jersey line, and to have given to members of it some items concerning his own. To him is ascribed the statement that Thomas Tilton, 7, had

"If any of the said three sons die before they reach the age of twenty one years." "each of my six children." 13 PETER TILTON, son of John Tilton, 2. He is not mentioned with the other children of John Tilton, 2, on the Quaker birth records, but is called son, by him in his will, and said not to be of age at the time will was made. He is called brother, in the will of John Tilton, 9, and named by him as one of his executors.

1705, June 5. He signed, with the rest of the relatives, as a witness at the marriage of his brother, Samuel, 12, to Patience Allen.

1717, Nov. 6. His name occurs again in this same prominent position, as a witness, when his brother, Daniel, 14, marries Elizabeth Powell. And it was at his house, in Middletown, that his sister, Esther, married William Lawrence Oct. 15, 1719.

His second intentions of marriage were published, in the Shrewsbury Monthly Meeting of Women, Nov. 5, 1722, with Lydia Bills. I suspect she was a sister to that Elizabeth who joined with Peter Tilton, as his wife, in conveying land, Dec. 2, 1717, when the witnesses to the deed were Thomas Bills, David Allen, Thomas Bills, Jr., and John Louis Pintard, in other words that this Peter Tilton, 13, married, first, Elizabeth Bills, and second, in 1722, her sister, Lydia Bills. But that is merely a supposition.

Thurlow Swyny, in his will, dated March 5, 1683 '4, makes him the legatee of his house and land, in Middletown township, in case his own son, John, then under age, should die without issue.

1695/6, Jan. 29. He recorded the earmark that had belonged to his father, Joseph.

Joseph Grover, his father, in making his will, Dec. 7, 1688, names his wife, Hannah; this son, James; his daughters, without giving their names, and speaks of an expected child. N. J. Arch. Vol. XXI, page 168.

On page 322 of the same volume, their names are given as Mary, Hannah, Elizabeth, Rebecca, Susannah and Deborah.

18 REBECCA TILTON, daughter of Peter Tilton, 3, born Sep. 6, 1667; married, first, intentions published Shrewsbury Women's Monthly Meeting, Dec. 7, 1686, Daniel son of Thomas Applegate, Sr., and wife, Johanna, of Middletown, and grandson of Richard Gibbons.

He died, probably, in 1710, his will being dated Oct. 15, 1709, and proved Sep. 7, 1710. In it he calls himself Daniel Applegate, Sr., of Middletown, names wife, Rebecca; eldest son, John; and children Jacob, Bartholomew, Ebenezer, Susannah, Hannah, Mary and Rebecca.

After his death, Rebecca married, Jan. 9, 1710/11, William Leeds,* whose record in Christ Church, Shrewsbury, reads that he died April 27, 1739; this is on the fly-leaf of the cover of the minutes of that Church.

In his will, dated June 20, 1735, and proved Nov. 20, 1739, he refers to his wife, Rebecca, and leaves his personalty, after that wife's death, to Rebecca Gracey and Ebenezer Applegate, children of the said wife. Then follows a legacy to Abigail Applegate, daughter of Richard Applegate, that leads me to think Richard was a son, and Abigail a grand daughter of Daniel and Rebecca (Tilton) Applegate.

19 JOHN TILTON, son of Peter Tilton, 3, born March 11, 1669; married Elizabeth

1708, Nov. 2. John Tilton, carpenter, and Elizabeth, his wife, convey land to his brothers, Henry and Samuel Tilton, sons of Peter Tilton. Freehold Deeds.

20 PETER TILTON, son of Peter Tilton, 3, born Apr. 10, 1672; is called an Innholder, of Middletown, June 15, 1699, when he mortgages one hundred acres of land that had been conveyed to him by his father on the 28th of the preceding March.

His earmark is recorded March 2, 1695/6, in the Middletown Town Book, and he is called uncle, by Benjamin Carmin when the same mark is taken up by him, Jan. 19, 1734/5.

He is a witness at the marriage of his cousin Sarah Tilton, 12, to Walter Herbert, June 2, 1704, as is also Elizabeth Tilton, who may possibly have been his wife, since the other Elizabeth Tilton then present and signing was doubtless the wife of his brother, John, 19.

1709, Nov. 10. He conveys land to his brothers, Henry, Samuel and John Tilton, in a deed wherein his brother Daniel is not mentioned.

*The original certificate for this marriage, issued by Obadiah Bowne, is in the possession of Dr. J. F. Stilwell.

1731, Mch. 4. Administration was granted on his estate to Abel Tilton, son and heir and administrator of Peter Tilton, late of Freehold, Millwright.

1733, May 4. A deed is on record, from Abel Tilton, of Freehold, and Martha, his wife, to William Vaughan, of Middletown, when there signed as witnesses to the transaction Abraham Wilder, Peter Tilton, Benjamin Carman, Sylvester Tilton, and Joseph Tilton. On account of there being so many Tilton witnesses to this deed, it seems most likely that they were the brothers of Abel Tilton, the grantor and heir of Peter, 20.

1731/2, Feb. 26. The inventory of his estate was taken £89-10-10½.

In the Shrewsbury Quaker Records the date for their marriage is given as 10mo., 31, 1745, the same as that of the marriage of Stephen West to Sarah Lippincott, a sister to William Lippincott, Jr., at the house of their father, William Lippincott, in Shrewsbury. But it is evident that the marriage of Esther Tilton did not take place at that date, probably because the other one did occur then and the family could not be at them both on the same date. Evident, for the reason that, in the minutes of the Monthly Meeting, the committee appointed to attend their marriage, reported to the Meeting that the marriage had not taken place up to the time of their report, Jan. 6, 1745; asked to be continued; and then reported, Feb. 3, 1745, that it had been done in an orderly manner.

- 181 SILVESTER TILTON, son of Silvester Tilton, 123; married, first, Mary (Hull?); second, July 11, 1818, according to the records at Freehold, N. J., Mary Falkinburg, widow of Caleb Falkinburg, and daughter of Samuel Woodmansee. Salter, in his History of Monmouth and Ocean Counties, says she was born in 1799, and that Caleb Falkinburg died Jan. 8, 1815, and signed his will in 1817. It is evident that Salter is mistaken both in the date of Mary's birth, and also either in the date of Caleb's making his will or of his death.

1831, Sep. 30. Silvester Tilton, of Dover, and Mary, his wife, convey to Amos Falkinburg and Reuben Tilton one piece of land that adjoined land, formerly belonging to Gabriel Woodmansee; also the one quarter part of a Cedar Swamp that formerly belonged to Gabriel Woodmansee, deceased, had been allotted to his heirs, and had been conveyed by Samuel Brinley and wife to the said Silvester Tilton, by deed dated Aug. 1, 1814.

1832, Apr. 28. Reuben Tilton and Amos Falkenburg and Rebecca, his wife, convey this property to Samuel Parker.

Silvester Tilton, with his wife and part of his family, moved to Ohio, and settled in Highland Co. He made his will there, signing it with his mark, Feb. 13, 1847, and it was proved May 6, 1847. In it he calls himself of Fairfield township, and mentioned:

my loving wife, Mary Tilton; my daughter, Rebecca Johnson; my son, John Tilton; my son, Reuben Tilton; my son, James Tilton; the heirs of my daughter, Mariah Kennedy, deceased; the heirs of my daughter, Charrrity Gravatt, deceased; the heirs of my son, Sylvester Tilton, deceased; my daughter, Lydia Ann Hansell. 201 REUBEN TILTON, son of Jeremiah Tilton, 135, "born June 28, 1779; died, May 9, 1826, aged 46 years, 10 months and 12 days;" married Mary Holoway, "born Oct. 25, 1784; died, Apr. 25, 1827, aged 42 years, 5 months and 28 days." These are the exact readings of their tombstones.

Reuben Tilton was probably born in Monmouth County, and from there removed to Little Washington, near New Brunswick, N. J., but returned to Monmouth County, and made his home at Morrisville, near Holmdel. He was a cooper by occupation, and was killed by the falling of an apple tree on his farm at Morrisville. Originally he and his wife were buried at Middletown, but afterwards his daughter, Eliza Shellard, had their bodies removed to Keyport, N. J.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Morris, of Glendola, has stated that "My great-grandfather, Jeremiah Tilton, had a daughter, Lydia Tilton, a sister to my grandfather, Reuben Tilton, who was my father's aunt; she married Richard Bowne, and lived to be nearly an hundred years old."

Mrs. Mary Ann Borden, of Red Bank, N. J., a grand-daughter of the Lydia referred to in the last paragraph, says "Aunt Polly, the wife of Reuben Tilton, was a half-sister to my grandmother, Lydia Wright."

Mrs. Sarah Bowne, wife of George Crane, another grand-daughter of the said Lydia, but by her second husband, Richard Bowne, says "We used to call Charles Tilton, son of Reuben Tilton, 'cousin,' because he was related to us on my father's side."

There seems very good reason, therefore, to suppose that Lydia was in some way related to the Tilton family, but she could not have been either sister or half-sister to Reuben, for the dates of their births are only six months apart. And, furthermore, she is called Lydia Taylor, the wife of Richard Bowne, on her tombstone; and it was as "Lydia Taylor, the daughter of the wife of Lewis Hall" that she was married, first, to Thomas Wright, Mch. 6, 1800, by John Smock, J. P. Both names are spelled erroneously in the record at Freehold of her second marriage, which reads Richard Bound [Bowne] married Lydia Right [Wright] at Middletown, Aug. 17, 1806.

UNCONNECTED LINES

I am indebted to Mr. Josephus S. Tilton, Jr., of Norwalk, Ohio, for all the data concerning the following family. He is positive that it is descended from the New Jersey Tiltons, because one of his uncles, "an elder brother of my father, living in Monticello, Ind., and a lawyer," told him that he had gone back to New Jersey to look at titles to real estate there thought to belong to heirs of the family, but he found it had been all properly deeded away.

2 JOHN TILTON, son of Joseph Tilton, 1, the eldest son of this family, married Susan, who was of New Jersey, before coming to Ohio. He settled in Ohio before it was legal to do so, it being yet Indian territory. In consequence, the United States troops were sent against him; his house was burned; his orchard destroyed, and he driven forth. He returned, though, and had a son born there who is credited with being the first white child born in the Northwest Territory, to whom was given the name of Caleb.

The late Henry M. Walter, of Washington, D. C., 424 Eleventh St., N.W., endeavored, but in vain, to connect the family of Tiltons into which he married with the New Jersey line.

From the records of the Pension Department he learned that Peter Tilton, the earliest of the line to whom he could trace, "served as a member of Captain Samuel Clark's company of New York State Troops, in the Revolutionary War, this company having been 'selected from the militia of Ulster County for the defense of the State of New York, by order of the convention of the said State dated July 16, 1776.' His name appears on the muster roll of the company, not dated, with record as follows: 'Day of enlistment, July 31, Day which marched, Aug. 4, Time of enlistment, till last day of Dec. When mustered, Aug. 4, 1776. Age, 36 years, born in Jersey, a carpenter. Height, 5 ft. 10 in. Fair complexion, brown hair blue eyes.'

"It also appears from the records that one Peter Tilton served as a private in Captain Philip D. Bevier's company, 5th New York Regiment, commanded by Colonel Lewis Dubois, Revolutionary War. He enlisted March 1, 1777, to serve three years, and was discharged January 20, 1780. It further appears from the records that one Peter Tilton served as a private in Captain Jonathan Piercy's company of Colonel Albert Pawling's regiment, New York Militia, Revolutionary War. His name appears on a list of certificates issued by the Treasurer of the State of New York, with remark showing that the soldier received a certificate for services in 1781 in the regiment mentioned."

One branch of the Tilton family lived, generally, at and around Bakersville, Bargaintown, and Absecon, near Atlantic City. Among the descendants the impression quite generally obtains that they are descended from the inevitable three brothers, one of whom settled on Long Island, one in Monmouth County, and the third, from whom they get their descent, at Absecon.

CAPTAIN CLAYTON TILTON, the Tory, of Shrewsbury, together with Aaron White, was one of the prisoners exchanged for Daniel Randolph and Jacob Flemming, who had been captured with Captain Joshua Huday, at Toms River. It is supposed that he accompanied the British when they evacuated New York City. And Mch. 30, 1794, twenty-four hundred and forty-two acres of land were granted at Musquash, New Brunswick, to John Mount, Ebenezer Scott and Clayton Tilton. In 1906, I am informed, there stood upon the Tilton grant the Musquash School House, the Church of England Rectory, the Shore Line Station House, and several residences.

Volume 2 of the Second Series of the New Jersey Archives relates that the properties of Ezekiel Tilton, and John Tilton, late of Middletown, and of Clayton Tilton, late of Shrewsbury, were confiscated after the Revolution.

1774, Mch. 25. A mortgage is on record at Freehold, given by Thomas and Francis Chadwick and their wives Elizabeth and Huldah, which shows that the land mortgaged was bounded on the east and south by Samuel Pintard and Clayton Tilton, on the west by a highway, and on the north by the North or Navesink River.

Clayton Tilton had a brother John Tilton, who was also a Tory, and by some it has been supposed that they were brothers to the Deborah Tilton, born May 7, 1754; died June 1, 1850, who married William White, of St. John, New Brunswick. But there would seem to be little more than conjecture to this.

Clayton Tilton married, first, Catharine, daughter of Samuel and Almy (Borden) Scott; and, after her death, he married, July 30, 1805, Elizabeth, the widow of Thomas Green, of Musquash; died, Nov. 30, 1827, aged 64 years.

"There was at Fort Howe (St. John, N. B.) in Garrison in 1808, a regiment which had been recruited largely out of the British prisons in the exigencies of the French War. It was the 101st of the line, and was frequently referred to as the 'Hundred and Worst.' The officers were capable men but the rank and file were a hard lot. There were frequent floggings, and the Colonel said of his men that they were 'bad everything, except bad soldiers.' On the Battle field they were all right.

Now for the tragedy. Henry Baldwin, James Lannon and Patrick McEvoy, privates in the 101st regiment at Fort Howe, deserted Oct. 17, 1808. A party sent to Musquash in pursuit of them failed to find them. On the 23rd of Oct., the deserters called at the house of Ebenezer Scott, at Musquash, to inquire the way to Dipper Harbor. Clayton Tilton, living about two hundred yards from Scott's, concluded it his duty to arrest the deserters, and with two men, his own servant, Frederick Storm, and Burdett, his neighbor Scott's man, attempted to stop the deserters. In the attempt Clayton Tilton was shot and killed by Henry Baldwin with his musket. The deserters then took to the woods and made their escape, but were captured some days afterwards on an island in Passamaquoddy Bay, on their way to the United States, by a party of the Charlotte County militia, and carried before a magistrate of that County, by whose order they were sent to St. John for trial. The prisoners were found guilty and sentenced to be executed. Patrick McEvoy was recommended by the jury for mercy, he being a youth between 18 and 19 years of age, and having taken no active part in the murder of Tilton; and his comrades having testified that he had been persuaded by them to desert.

Baldwin and Lannon were hanged near the Block House Hill, corner of King and Wentworth Streets, on the 23rd November, just one month from the day the crime was committed. Justice was swift in those days. At the execution, the rope broke with each of the prisoners, and the unfortunate men had to remain standing under the gallows till the messenger went to the South Wharf (half a mile away) and returned with a new rope. Some few years since some street laborers, digging about the place, turned up some bones and fragments of red cloth to which military buttons were attached, evidently the remains of these two unfortunate fellows who were buried under the gallows."

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

1808, 4th, 2mo. Will of Lydia Tilton, of Middletown; proved Mch. 28, 1812, mentioned: sister, Hannah Lippincott; Lydia Woolcott(?), daughter of my deceased sister, Abigail; Lydia Roggers, daughter of my deceased brother, Daniel Tilton; legacies to Robert Tilton, son of Obadiah, and Meriam Tilton, daughter of Obadiah.

John C. Tilton, of Headens Corners, near Middletown, N. J., born 1839; died, June 29, 1880, leaving a widow, Lavinia, born 1854, and a daughter, Annie Frances, born 1876.

Deeds on record at Freehold, N. J., show that one, Samuel Tilton, married Micah, daughter of Cyrenious Van Mater, prior to June 5, 1802, when they convey to her brother, William Van Mater, the life interest which was theirs in property that had been left to her son, Cyrenious V. Tilton, by his grandfather, after whom he was named. Cyrenious V. Tilton and his sister, Mary Tilton, were left a legacy by their aunt, Mary Van Mater, in her will of 1813. It would seem as though they were of Middletown. And probably it was he whose name appears in the New York City Directories for 1834 to 1839, as Cyreno Tilton, mariner, and Tyreno Tilton, mate.

In the burying ground of the Methodist Church, at Little Silver, N. J., are stones to the memory of Elizabeth Bennett, daughter of Samuel and Martha A. Bennett, and wife of Edward Tilton, and to their two infant children, Ida and Sammie Tilton. Elizabeth (Bennett) Tilton was born Jan. 25, 1845, and died June 9, 1871.

On record at Trenton, N. J., is the will of a Peter Tilton, supposed by some to have been 83, of Middlesex Co., N. J., dated the "twetieseventh day of September in 1794," which was proved before Anthony W. White, Surrogate of Middlesex Co., May 25, 1801, and letters issued to Robert Tilton and Robert Karson. In it he mentioned:

Peter Tilton Smith, to whom he left a "walking cain with Ivery head." All the rest of his estate to his five children viz.: Elizabeth, Robert, Rebeckah, William and Lidia. Executors: son, Robert, and Robert Karson. Witnesses: John Smith, Sarah Nixon, Mary Smith.

There were resident in Holmdel township in 1880, when the Census was taken, Benjamin Tilton, born 1843, and Rebecca, his wife, born 1847, with their children, Elisa B., born 1869; Francis, born 1870; Joseph, born 1872; Alice, born 1875, and Ada born, 1877. Along with their names was that also of Elisa W. Tilton, born 1806, who was doubtless the mother of Benjamin Tilton.

PETER and GARRET TILTON, of Englishtown, N. J., were brothers, but I have been unable to learn the name of their father.

1 PETER TILTON, of Englishtown, made his will July 15, 1871; proved Feb. 11, 1879; which he signed by his mark, and in it declared himself to be of Monroe township, Middlesex Co. He named his wife as Deborah, and his sons as Jacob, Peter, Charles H., Pree Baird and Garret L.

WILLIAM TILTON, of Lynn, had at least two wives. By the first he had issue a son, Peter Tilton. He married again, one Susannah , who, upon his demise, married Roger Shaw, and moved with him to Hampton. This is well proven by the following assertion; that "Roger Shaw and last wife Susannah that Roger Shaw should give the children she had by her first husband, as follows, to Samuel Tilton, her eldest son, £30 at age. Samuel Tilton acknowledges receipt from Joseph Shaw, executor of Roger Shaw, June 12, 1661." Also Roger Shaw agreed to pay Daniel Tilton, son of William Tilton, of Lynn, deceased, £10. And Samuel Tilton, guardian of Daniel, acknowledges the receipt of same from Joseph Shaw, executor, Apr. 13, 1663.

William Tilton was an old resident of Lynn, about 1640, and was then, apparently, somewhat advanced in years, for, in 1646, the Essex Court records state that William Tilton was freed from training but was to keep his arms fixed. And, again, in 1649, William Tilton was freed from training on account of his age. From this data I am inclined to deduce the birth of William as having occurred about 1580, and of his son Peter, approximately about 1605-10. Presuming these dates to be correct, the migration of father and son probably took place not far from 1635.

During his residence at Lynn, William Tilton was an appraiser of the estate of Abraham Belknap, in 1643; appraiser of the estate of Francis Lightfoot, in 1646, and administrator of the estate of Edward Lewis, in 1650.

"In 1861," writes Mr. William P. Tilton, of Boston, "my uncle had careful examination made of the records in England, and again in 1873, my great-uncle, General William S. Tilton, had an advertisement placed in the London Times, offering a reward of £5, for proof of the births and baptisms of William, Peter and John Tilton." No success followed these efforts. But data was obtained, shedding light upon the early English family bearing the name of Tilton. These extended references are in the possession of members of the New England family. Two items alone, of what I have seen, suggest any means of connecting the American with the English family, viz.: (a) "In 1639," writes William P. Tilton, "Rev. Ephraim Huet, the minister of a church in Wroxhall, Warwickshire, with several members of his church, among them Peter Tylton, settled in Dorchester, Mass., being prosecuted for non-conformity, by the Bishop of Worcester. Warwickshire is an adjoining county to Leicestershire, and Leicestershire is the original home of the Tiltens."

(b) "A quo warranto was issued by Charles II, in 1683, against the Governor and Company of Massachusetts, in which he is styled Petru Tylton, Armiger." Vol. V., Mass. Col. Records, and Whitmore's Heraldic Journal, p. 23. These serve to connect him with the family in Leicestershire.

1 WILLIAM TILTON died in 1653. His will is missing from the probate files of Salem, but the date of the inventory of his estate, as shown by the records there, was Feb. 16, 1653. He married, first, ; second Susannah

2 PETER TILTON, son of William Tilton, 1, probably settled at Windsor, Conn., between 1635 and 1640; he married there, May 10, 1639, Mary ; and if this was a first marriage, it was somewhat belated for his years. In 1659, he was of Hadley, Mass.

Peter Tilton was a man of great prominence in New England; he was a Representative to the General Court for many years, and an Assistant, for seven years. He was largely concerned with Mr. Rogers and Mr. Saltonstall, in concealing Goffe and Whalley, the Regicides, and was cited to appear before the British Parliament for befriending them, and it is supposed that one of them was buried in his garden. See Stiles' History of the Judges.

WALL

MONMOUTH COUNTY

1 WALTER WALL was born in 1619, and came to America from Wiltshire, England, between the years 1635-1640.

He, seemingly, was the Walter Wall, aged sixteen, transported to St. Christopher's, in 1635. Hotten's List of Emigrants, p. 126.

He was a resident of New Amsterdam for an uncertain period, and then joined in the settlement of Gravesend, L. I. On the Town Record appear a number of allusions to him:

1645, Aug. 10. He received a plantation.

1654, Sept. 22. He purchased lot No. 14.

1657. He had seven and one-half morgens of land in tillage in Gravesend.

1658, Nov. 9. He purchased lot No. 1.

1659. Walter Wall named at Hempstead, L. I., Onderdonck's Hempstead, p. 104, was doubtless the same individual.

Ann Wall, alluded to below, I have not identified, but suspect she was the wife of Walter Wall, as he had one of that name.

SIR HENRY MOODY VS ANTHONY JOHNSON VAN SALEE

The complainant alleges that Johnson Van Salee came to his house and used abusive language. Annetje Wall testified that she was scouring pewter there and Johnson Van Salee asked her what she did there and commanded her to take it away, calling Sir Henry Moody, at the same time, a dog, a rogue and a "skellunime," (i. e. a scallywag—Dutch word), and abused her with evil language. The court fined the defendant 10 guilders, and enjoined him to behave better or fare worse. Gravesend Court Records. Quoted in the pamphlet on "Lady Deborah Moody," by Mr. Girard.

1665. He was one of the Associate Patentees of the Monmouth Patent, and as such, paid £4.

1666 or 1667. He moved to Middletown, N. J., and located upon a farm about two miles to the west of the center of the village, the title to which, in the early part of 1800, was vested in John Stout and Daniel D. Hendrickson.

1667, Dec. 30. Walter Wall, of Middletown, N. J., was awarded lot No. 4; also lot No. 32, outside, in the Poplarfield.

1670. Walter Wall was stated to have paid for shares of land in Middletown, N. J.
1676, Jan. 10. He paid quit-rent of £0-10-2, on two hundred and forty-four acres, in Middletown, N. J.

1677. He paid on two hundred and forty acres in Shrewsbury, N. J.

1679. He also paid quit-rents.

1686. He also paid quit-rents, but the quantity is not mentioned.

1688, May 10. He paid quit-rent of £0-6-0, on one hundred acres, in Middletown, N. J.

1702. He died somewhere about this date, or earlier, as his cattle-mark was then transferred to another, which he originally recorded, in 1668, in the Town Book, of Middletown, N. J., as follows: "a half moone cutt out of the under side off both eares."

1702, Sept. 26. This earmark was recorded to James Cox; 1712, July 21, to Walter Wall, and in 1791, to Cornelius Hendrickson.

Walter Wall signed by his mark.

Issue

Walter Wright died intestate 1698, estate being administered by Thomas Cox, with Garret Wall as his bondsman.

Susannah Wright, a minor in 1690, asking for the appointment of Captain John Slocum as her guardian.

6b Probably a daughter who married Thomas Cox, 2.

William Leed's letter to Cox, written I think between 1716 and 1736, says, referring to his rights in a dispute about the title of lands he held; "a little time after we came to Swimming River, Tho^s Wright and his wife died, and my father planted the land then as Wright had cleared and Jarrat Wall was in a pucker. He would arrest my father for a trespass, ay that he would, but Samuel Leonard met with him and showed him it was out of Stout's power to make a lawful title for any land at Swimming River, the 22 of June, 1676, and so Jarrat had done and we heard no more for several years, but at last it came into his head that he would get the articles of agreement or writing acknowledged and recorded and so let it lye"

3 MARIA or MARY WALL, daughter of Walter Wall, 1, is the person probably alluded to below.

1663, June 12. "The corte having heard the difference between Walter Wall and Nathanyel Britton concerning Mary Wall cover [illegible] servant to Nathanyel Britton for two [illegible] years and complaint wase made to the courte of Gravesande but nothing could [illegible] be proved neither from the servants nor by witnise, whereof the corts orders is the sayde servant shall live with her sayde master during her full time, and that sayde Nathanyell doth promise to use the childer well and to find and provide all things convenient for her and at the expiration of her time to give her two suts of clothes and a cow calfe: this in the presence of Will Wilkins, John Cooke, Charles Mergan, Will Goulding, Clarke."

Gravesend, L. I., Court Records.

It is likely that Walter Wall had become a widower, and had bound out his daughter, Mary, a mere child, for her better bringing up, to Nathaniel Britton.

4 JOHN WALL, son of Walter Wall, 1, was, probably, born between 1640 and 1650.

1670. John Wall appeared in Middletown, N. J.

As an Associate Patentee, in the purchase of the Monmouth Tract, he paid £3-10.

By exclusion, I believe him to be a son of Walter Wall, 1.

5 JARRAT WALL, son of Walter Wall, 1, was probably born between 1640 and 1650, and resided in Middletown, N. J.

1676, May 22. Gerard or Jarret Wall was a witness to a deed from the Indian chiefs to Richard Hartshorne. Book C., Deeds, p. 11, Freehold, N. J. Court Records.

It is possible the first Jarret or Garret Wall may have had the English name, Gerard, transformed by the early settlers into the Dutch—Garret.

1680, Apr. 21. He paid a quit-rent on one hundred acres of land, in Middletown, N. J.

1684, Nov. 28. Garret Wall recorded his earmark.

1685, June 5. He paid quit-rent on one hundred and seventy acres of land, on Manasquan River, Shrewsbury, N. J., which amounted to £0-7-1.

He was quite prominent in Monmouth County: Petty Jurymen in 1693; Receiver Taxes, January, 1697, and Foreman of the Grand Jury in 1699.

1696. He recorded his brand-mark.

1700-1701. He was among those who resisted the encroachments of the Proprietors; was arrested, but liberated by the people, from the Sheriff's custody, and, in 1700, he aided in the rescue of prisoners, arrested for like offences.

1709. Jarrat and Lydia Wall, [by her mark], deeded land to Daniel Hendrickson. Witness: Walter Wall.

1715, May 5. His cattle and brand marks were conveyed to his son, John.

Lydia, wife of Jarrat Wall, died Apr. 12, 1732. Baptist Church Record, Middletown, N. J. She was a member of this church in 1712.

1711, Mch. 10. Jarrat Wall made his will, which was proved Nov. 10, 1711-12, and which mentioned his wife, Poolen, alias Lydia Wall, whom he made executrix, with John and Walter Wall, executors, and mentioned his children.

The wife of Jarrat Wall, 5, was probably Pauline, daughter of Clement and Peula or Poulin Masters, of Shrewsbury, N. J.

1675, Nov. 2. Clement and Poulin Masters had one hundred and twenty acres of land and meadow at Shrewsbury, N. J.

1689. Thomas Wainwright, John West and Clement Masters were presented by the Grand Jury, at Shrewsbury, for "playing at nyne pins on ye first day."

"Mary Pew's mother was a French lady named Peula Masters," said Asher Taylor, Esq., but this I consider an error, and the allusion is probably to Mary Pew's mother-in-law.

1713, Oct. 21. John Masters, son and heir-at-law of Francis Masters, late of Shrewsbury, made a conveyance to Francis Masters, son of Clement Masters, of Shrewsbury.

In the records of the early Court of Sessions, at Freehold, is the following:

1687, Dec. 29. Richard Mount, plaintiff, versus John Johnston, defendant, in a plea for "trespass." "Garret Wall for evidence sayeth the mare as he sopoeth to be the mare he gave to his sister Rebecca, Richard Mount's wife, was the same mare," etc. Verdict by the jury for the plaintiff; damages £8. The Governor and Proprietors allowed an appeal to be taken by Johnston to the Court, at Amboy.

7 JOHN WALL, son of Jarrat Wall, 5, was born circ. 1680-1685, and probably died in the vicinity of 1752, when his son, John, claimed his cattle-mark.

1711, May 8. John Wall, Blacksmith, sold land to Daniel Hendrickson, yeoman.

1712. He was a member of the Baptist Church, Middletown, N. J.

1713. In a deed with his brothers, Walter, Garret and Humphrey, of this year, he calls himself the son and heir of Garret Wall.

1715. John Wall, yeoman, and wife Mary, sold to Elizabeth, daughter of Joseph Grover, and wife of Gershom Stillwell, for £300, the plantation on which Wall lived, and which he received from his father, in 1709, and more from his brother, Jarrat, in 1715. This is now Hendrickson property.

1720. He was a merchant, and on the Grand Jury, in Monmouth County, N. J.

17 MARY WALL, daughter of John Wall, 7.

In the Dutch Reformed Church Records, Freehold, N. J., are the following entries, which may refer to this Mary Wall.

Niclaas Wykhof and wife Maria Waal had issue:

Jacobus Wykhof baptized Jan. 11, 1738. Witnesses: Elias Covenhoven, etc.

Jan Wykhof baptized May 16, 1742

20 MARY WALL, daughter of Jarrat Wall, 8.

Despite the assertion that this Mary Wall married Col. Ludlow, the following deduction seems to me plausible.

Oct. 31, 1751. John Willet had a license issued to marry Mary Wall; they had a daughter, named Lydia, born Mch. 28, 1752, who married Samuel, son of Samuel and Mary (Passel) Tilton, and named one of their sons, Humphrey Tilton. Undoubtedly Humphrey was indebted for his name to the Wall family, as his mother Lydia if she were the daughter of Jarrat Wall, 20, as appears to have been the case, had a brother and an uncle Humphrey Wall.

22 HUMPHREY WALL, son of Jarrat Wall, 8, was born 1720; died, Apr. 11, 1795, aged 74 years, 9 months and 28 days; married, by license dated Mch. 6, 1765, Elizabeth Ogborn, who was born 1720, and died, Mch. 26, 1800, aged 79 years, 8 months and 9 days, or 79 years, 3 months and 3 days. He was murdered in Burlington County, and "Old Si" was hung for it.

1773. He recorded his earmark, in Middletown, N. J.

1763, Aug. 25. Humphrey Wall, of Monmouth County, had a license to marry Elizabeth Tilton, of Burlington County. She was Elizabeth Thorne, widow of Abraham Tilton, and was born 3mo., 5, 1725. They had an only son son Joseph Wall from whom descended Wall, the New York baker.

1780, November. Humphrey Wall was a member of the jury in Monmouth County.

1785, Jan. 5. Humphrey Wall, of Nottingham, Burlington County, sold to Joseph Wall, of the same place, for £2045, lands which he had bought of Samuel Stevenson in 1775.

"the age and death of our sister burdge. She was born y^e 3 day of September 1725, and departed this Life the 2 day of Feb. 1752."

The dates do not agree exactly with those given on page 302, Vol. 2 of Historical Miscellany, but there can be no doubt whatsoever that we have, in the two entries, reference made to the one individual, viz.: Susannah Wall, the wife of Richard Burdge, and the curious thing about it is, that while there is a difference of two years between the epitaph and the Church record, for the date of her death, there is none at all as regards the date of her birth; hence the Church record should probably read 1754 instead of 1752, and this is the more likely as the entries of various years in this record are oft times not clearly separated one from the other.

In this connection it will perhaps be well to note another error, relating to Hannah the daughter of the preceding Susannah (Wall) Burdge.

She is stated to have been born Feb. 15, 1744, and died Aug. 26, 1807, when she would have been 63, 6, 11, instead of 63, 7, 11.

After the death of Susannah, Richard Burdge married, for his second wife, Feb. 22, 1757, Hannah Huff.

Walter and James Wall, reputed sons of Humphrey Wall, came from New Jersey, and settled on a neck of land, called "The Forks," lying between the Monongahela and the Youghiogheny Rivers, about sixteen miles South of Pittsburgh, in Alleghany County, Pa. For years this locality was known as The Jersey Settlement, by reason of its numerous settlers from New Jersey, especially from Monmouth County. In 1769, after having cleared land and built houses, they brought their families. The records of these Walls were destroyed, by accident, many years ago, and I am strongly inclined to believe that instead of Walter and James Wall being the sons of Humphrey Wall, they were the children of James Wall, as appears from the following will:

1750-51, Mch. 13; will proved Apr. 4, 1760, to which he made his mark. James Wall, sick, of Middlesex County, mentioned:

wife; four daughters: Martha, Rebecca, Abigail and Neomia, each, £10; two sons, Walter and James, the residue of his estate. All of the children were minors.

Executors: Friends, John and Joseph Story.

It is said Rebecca Wall, sister of James and Walter Wall, married Benjamin Applegate born 1725; died May 21, 1823, whose sister Alice Applegate married Walter Wall. Allen Wall, of Washington, D. C., has a complete list of their descendants.

Many years ago J. Sutton Wall, Esq., Chief Draughtsman, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa., informed me that he was the son of Capt. Brisben Wall, who was the son of Garret Wall, who was the son of James Wall and that the last named James Wall emigrated from New Jersey in 1766, to Pennsylvania with his brother Walter Wall. It is possible that James Wall was No. 31 in this Wall History.

MONMOUTH COUNTY, NEW JERSEY

Upon the authority of Austin's Rhode Island Dictionary there was residing, as early as Jan. 22, 1651, in Providence, R. I., a Thomas Walling, at which date Roger Williams, of Narragansett, writing to the town of Providence, probably alluding to him said "I understand that one of the orphans of our dear friend Daniel Abbot is likely (as she herself told me) to be disposed of in marriage. 'Tis true she has now come to some years, but who knows not what need the poor maid hath of your fatherly care, counsel and direction. I would not disparage the young man (for I hear he hath been laborious)," etc. He desired the town, however, to have some assurance that the young man will "forsake his former courses." Thomas Walling married, first, Mary Abbott, who died 1669; second Margaret White who first married Robert Colwell, by whom, in 1667, she was divorced and thereupon married June 19, 1669, Thomas Walling and following his death (Margaret White) married, third, Dec. 25, 1678, Daniel Abbott and died in the year 1717.

3 GERSHOM WALLING, son of Thomas Walling, 1, was born probably about 1655-60. Jan. 27, 1667, he was apprenticed in Rhode Island, until of age, to Nathaniel Mowry.

In 1688 he received from the Proprietors of East Jersey land which was probably the two hundred and forty acres of land he held in Middletown in 1688.

In 1688 he recorded his earmark.

1688, Apr. 16. Gershom Walling received payment from the estate of John Clark, of Freehold, N. J.

Mrs. Jewett, the sister of Mrs. Seabrook, is the authority for the statement that Gershom Walling had once a headstone in the oldest family graveyard, which was broken and which stated that he died in 1727. Mrs. Jewett was then a mere child.

The Wallings located near Centreville, Monmouth Co., N. J., and the locality was dubbed Wallingtown.

WALLING NOTES

There were Wallings in Burlington, Cumberland, Hunterdon and Salem Counties, New Jersey.

In South River, Middlesex County, is a large group of Wallings descended from Monmouth County ancestry.

Some of the Wallings had Indian blood in them through Anthony Smith. Mrs. Theresa W. Seabrook.

Lewis Daniel Cook, Esq., of 328 South Smedley St., Philadelphia, Pa., is interested in the history of the Craven family and the Walling family of Monmouth County, N. J.

One of the Gershom Wallings adopted a person by the name of Tibby. This adopted individual was known as Gershom Tibby Walling. He, Gershom Tibby Walling, married and had a son John Gershom Walling who in turn married and had issue as follows:

Gershom Walling married, first, Mary Bedle; second Deborah Walling.

He received the farm left by Gershom Walling to his adopted son Tibby Walling.

John Walling married Mary Roberts

Elisha Walling married and had issue
Isaac Walling married Mary Bailey
Abraham Walling married Anne Bailey

This family, to distinguish them from the true Wallings, were called Tibby Wallings, Tibby John, Tibby Bill Walling, etc.

WATSON

MONMOUTH COUNTY

There were, apparently, two distinct families of this name, among the early settlers of Monmouth County, N. J. James Steen, Esq., a painstaking investigator, thinks differently, however, and inclines to the belief that Peter Watson's cousin, John, to whom he wrote, in August, 1684, urging his removal to East Jersey, is represented by Capt. Abraham Watson, of Middletown, who died 1756, which would make the two families of kin. I have never seen anything to sustain this belief.

John Watson, the early settler in Monmouth County, had a previous residence in New York City, where he had his children baptised in the Dutch Church:

1685, June 3. Jan Watson and wife, Sara, had Lysbeth baptized. Witnesses: Vincent Smith and Jannetie Jans.

1688, Jan. 4. John Watson and wife, Sara Hidding, had Abraham baptized. Witnesses: Willem Estin and Grietje Kermer.

Some time after this, he settled on the Bay Shore, in Monmouth County, where he died in 1708.

"Changarores the 11th June, 1708.

Then appeared before me, Edward, Viscount Cornbury, Captain General and Governor-in-Chief in & over the Province of New Jersey, New York, &c., Captain John Bowne, principal Creditor of John Watson, of Changarores, lately dec^d & praying for administration," etc.

Trenton Records.

In Hotten's List of Emigrants is mentioned "Abram Watson, 1635, at Gravesend, aet. 19," which I cite because of the name, but do not attempt to connect with the New Jersey Watsons.

John Watson had, seemingly two wives; the first, Sara Hidding [Hedden?]; the second, Elizabeth Bockworth, a widow.

Att y^e Instant Request of Elizabeth Watson, widdow, y^t this Court of Sessions would bind out her son, James Bockworth, an Apprentice, to some man, to Learn a trade, accordingly y^e Court doth bind him out an Apprentice to James Bollen, as per Indentures bearing date herewith.

Issue

- 2 Elizabeth Watson born 1685
- 3 Abraham Watson born 1687
- 4 John Watson; supposed.

2 ELIZABETH WATSON, daughter of John Watson, 1.

In 1724, Elizabeth and John Watson were witnesses to the will of John Stout, of Middletown. Whether this Elizabeth Watson was the sister or wife of this John Watson, I am uninformed, but incline to the belief that she was his sister, and a daughter of John Watson, 1.

3 ABRAHAM WATSON, son of John Watson, 1, was baptised, Jan. 4, 1688, in the Dutch Church, in New York City.

His tombstone, in the defunct Presbyterian Churchyard, in Middletown, N. J., states that CAPT. ABRAHAM WATSON died, in 1756, at the age of sixty-seven years. The discrepancies in dates, so commonly occurring in tombstone and bible records, are seen here. They were not infrequently simply an approximation. Again the computation may have been with the birth date in old style and the death date in new style.

Capt. Abraham Watson is reputed to have had two wives, Mary and Elizabeth, who was probably the Elizabeth Watson, whose marriage license, to Thomas Walling, of Middletown, was issued May 9, 1759. Thomas Walling also had been married, widowed, and was along in years like his future spouse.

Abraham Watson was a sea captain of many years experience. He sailed the sloops, "John & Samuel," "Happy Margaret" and "Mary," from Perth Amboy, to and from Boston, Newport, and other ports, in the years 1723, 1724, 1725, 1726, 1729, 1730, 1733, and 1734. In the last two years, he was accompanied by his son, John, whom he was doubtless training for a similar vocation.

1712, Feb. 20. Derick Tyson, of Middletown, yeoman, and Antje, his wife, sold land to Abraham Watson, boatman.

1717, May 20. Humphrey Wall, of Middletown, sold to Abraham Watson, planter, land, which "s^d Wall had from his father, Jarret," lying on Conascunk Creek.

1717, Aug. 21. Abraham Watson, of Middletown, yeoman, and Elizabeth, his wife, conveyed land to Thomas Kearney. She made her mark. Witnesses: Gershom Mott, John Mott, John Wall and Humphrey Wall.

Abraham Watson and Elizabeth Wright had an illegitimate child.

Freehold Records.

1756, May 31. Will of Abraham Watson, yeoman; proved Aug. 11, 1756, mentioned:

Wife, Elizabeth; three grandchildren, Abraham, Sarah, and Elizabeth Watson, who share alike.

Witnesses: Thomas Walling [his mark], Joel Bedle, Edward Taylor.

Executors: John Burrowes and W^m Hendrickson, Esq., of Middletown.

He signed his name: ABRAM WATSON.

5 John Watson

4 JOHN WATSON, supposed son of John Watson, 1.

In 1721, John Watson, evidently a sea captain, bore a letter from Thomas Paul, of Edinburgh, Scotland, to James Paul, his brother, residing in Middletown, N. J., and, in 1724, John Sout [Stout?], of Middletown, made his will to which John Watson and Elizabeth Watson affixed their signatures as witnesses.

1730, Oct. 10. John Watson, William Bowne and James Bowne, Jr., were witnesses to the will of James Paul, miller, of Middletown, N. J., on this date. James Paul left all of his property to the four youngest children of Obadiah Bowne. The executors of the will were Jeremiah White and John, son of Obadiah Bowne.

This John Watson I conceive is the supposed son, John Watson, above mentioned.

He was, probably, the John Watson, ship-master, sailing his vessel from Perth Amboy, N. J.

5 JOHN WATSON, son of Abraham Watson, 3, died prior to 1749, for, in that year, his widow, Hope, became the wife of John Burrows, of Middletown. She was born, Hope Taylor, in the year 1721 and died 1792, and was buried, in the yard of the defunct Presbyterian Church, Middletown, N. J., next to her second husband, John Burrows, and adjacent to her father-in-law, Capt. Abraham Watson.

Tradition has it that Capt. John Watson, her husband, was drowned at sea, and I judge it was between 1747 and 1748.

The following record is from an old Bible, owned by Mr. Asher Holmes, of Wickatunk, N. J. Where the elipsis appears, the original record has become much worn and illegible.

6 Samuel Watson born 1738; died an infant.

7 Sarah Watson born 1740; died 1830; buried in Holmdel Baptist Churchyard; married Col. Asher Holmes.

8 Elizabeth Watson born 1744; died 1826; buried in Baptist Churchyard, Middletown; married John Stillwell, of Garrat's Hill.

9 Abraham Watson born 1747; died 1767.

9 ABRAM WATSON, son of John Watson, 5, was born in 1747 and died in 1767. 1756, Dec. 9. Abram Watson recorded the cattle-mark of his grandfather, Abram Watson, in the Middletown Town Book. At this date, he was but nine years of age and it was probably, entered by the order of his guardian. Later, this mark was conveyed to John Burrows.

1787. Samuel Dorset took oath that Sarah and Elizabeth were the granddaughters and only heirs of Capt. Abram Watson.

The following memorandum probably refers to Abram Watson.

Hope Burrows lost her only grown son. A letter, of great beauty of expression and pathos, written by her, was found, some years since, among the effects of Cyrus Bruen, whose daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Conover, of Marlboro, N. J., had it for some time. She loaned it to the late Judge Bennington H. Randolph, of Jersey City, who dying, it was lost, or mislaid, among his numerous papers. The substance and text of it, as recalled by Mrs. Conover, is:

Today I have written thus that if in the future any of my children or grand children shall see this paper they will know the sufferings of my heart. This is the anniversary of the death of my son John [Abraham?], who died at the house of his master, in New York," etc., etc.

It is my impression that the son alluded to, was Abram Watson, her son by her first husband. The statment that he was at the house of his master, in New York, may have referred to a marine master, i. e. shipmaster or owner.

The other Watson Family, in Monmouth County, descended from:

1 PETER WATSON, probably a Scotchman, who came to Perth Amboy, August, 1683, as an indentured servant, to serve four years. New Jersey Archives, Vol. I, p. 465.

In 1686, Peter Watson and James Reid are mentioned, as part of the "stock," belonging to the Proprietors. New Jersey Archives, Vol. I, p. 512.

In 1700, Peter Watson was in Monmouth County, where he, with other Scotchmen, bought land on Matawan Creek.

Peter Watson was one of the founders of the "Old Scots," (now Tennent), Church. 1708. He was one of the trustees of that church, and was the Rev. John Boyd's executor.

1710, Aug. 14. Peter Watson bought land of W^m Hoge, being the plantation and land where William Hoge then lived, together with stock, crops, goods and chattels, paying therefor £250. This land was one of the Wickatunk lots, and was formerly John Reid's. The Hoge plantation remained in the Watson family until 1762, when it was deeded to Agnes (Watson) Freneau. It is still called The Freneau Place, and is at Freneau, N. J.

1715, May 3. Peter Watson bought land from John Johnson, near Lochiel's tract.

1715, May 18. Peter Watson, of Freehold, sold his share of land, on Matawan Creek, to John Drummey, which Peter Watson, and others, had purchased of Thomas Warne, Mch. 22, 1700, and Feb. 8, 1707.

1718, Jan. 3. Peter Watson bought land, on Millstone Brook, where the Indian Path crosses the Brook, from his son, Richard Watson, and Martha, his wife.

Freehold Records, Lib. C., p. 168, Lib. E., pp. 131, 157 and 339.

1725/6. Peter Watson made his will, which was probated in 1727, and wherein he called himself of Middletown, and mentioned:

wife, Agnes, (who was probably his second wife); sons, William, the eldest, Richard, Gawin, David, Peter; deceased.

Agnes Watson, widow of Peter Watson, dying in 1728, left all of her property away from the Watson family and among her friends and relatives, hence it does not seem as if she were the mother of Peter Watson's children. It seems as if his first wife's name might have been Euphemia, as his four sons each had a daughter by that name. James Steen, Esq., of Eatontown, N. J., states, positively, that Peter Watson married the daughter of Alexander Napier, who, in his will dated Feb. 7, 1744, speaks of grandchildren:—David, Margaret, Agnes and Elizabeth Watson, but as these names do not correspond with the names of the children mentioned in Peter Watson's will, and as the dates of the wills are so far apart, I am inclined to think that it was Peter Watson's son, David, who married Napier.

WHITE*
NEW JERSEY

It was previously assumed that Thomas White, the immigrant, was the father of Samuel White and of Peter White, and grandfather of Thomas White and of Samuel White, who married Elizabeth Wardell, and of Amos White, the first mentioned Samuel White being the father of these three sons. This was deemed to be the relationship between the different individuals mentioned, because real estate that had been acquired by the elder Samuel, as oldest son of Thomas, the immigrant, is found in the possession of the second Thomas, and presumably it could only have gotten there by the law of primogeniture. In reality the law referred to was strictly carried out, but, through the death of the son Joel White born to Samuel White, the property next went to Thomas White as brother and not son of Samuel White.

There is no proof whatever that there were two Samuels, the one of the second generation having been the father of that Samuel who married Elizabeth Wardell. In fact, the evidence at hand, and particularly the expression made use of in the will of Peter White, appointing "cousins Samuel White and Thomas White as supervisors and assistants to their Aunt," requires that we regard Thomas White, the immigrant and Peter White as brothers.

Who the parents of these men were we do not know.

Issue of an Unknown Father

- 2 Thomas White died 1684/5; married
- 3 Peter White died 1697/8; married Mary Worthley.
- 4 William White (possibly) married, by license dated Aug. 23, 1669, Katherine Dower, or Downs.

2 THOMAS WHITE, brother to Peter White, 3, was a carpenter, and bought land of Thomas Potter and Judah Allen, 6th month (Aug.), 1675. The tradition is that he was from Deal, Kent Co., England, and settling on the Jersey shore named the place after that from which he had come.

*The late Rev. William White Hance was connected by blood ties with the White family of Monmouth County, New Jersey. He made their genealogy his intensive study. The addition of my own White data to Mr. Hance's has resulted in this voluminous family history.

1684, 5, Jan. 21. The inventory of his personal estate was made by Thomas Potter, Samuel Dennis and Symon Charles, amounting to £140-2-0.

- 74 Deberah White married, by license dated Apr. 21, 1758, Joseph Wardell; each of Shrewsbury.

27 LEAH WHITE, daughter of Thomas White, 6, born 1688, according to a pamphlet giving the Tucker genealogy. This is probably based upon a mistaken reading of the Quaker records of Shrewsbury, that says she died, 2mo. (Feb.) 18, 1767, aged 78 years, which properly deciphered is 73 not 78 years. This would have made her birth to have occurred about 1694. She married, first, about 1713, (Samuel?), son of William Wilbur, born Feb. 17, 1691; died between 1714 and 1717; second, Oct. 3, 1717, James, son of John and Ruth (Woolley) Tucker, born Aug. 27, 1691; died Sep. 29, 1776.

Thomas White and James Tucker were among the first settlers along the seashore, of the place that is now called Deal, N. J., and it is said that it got its name from the fact that the Whites came from Deal, Kent Co., England; likewise from the Tuckers having come from the same place. At any rate the Tuckers seem to have had an estate here in New Jersey three times as large as that of the Whites, the one having perhaps twenty-five hundred acres to the others eight hundred. And, further, the name was applied to the place at an earlier date than would appear to correspond with the coming of the Tuckers from New England to New Jersey, there being a deed on record at Trenton, dated May 12, 1683, in which "Thomas Potter, of Deale, near Shrewsbury, N. J., planter," conveys land in Fenwick's Colony to an inhabitant of Rhode Island.

1710, Oct. 1. Leah White is a witness at the marriage of her sister, Rachel, to Isaac Hance.

1714, Oct. 7. Sam Willbur and Leah Willbur are witnesses at the marriage of her sister, Elizabeth, to Thomas Lippincott, they signing together and immediately after Isaac and Rachel Hance.

Uriah was taxed, in 1759, and Valeriah Lippincott, in 1760 and 1768, thus indicating that Uriah probably died in 1759 or 1760.

31 LEVI WHITE, son of Thomas White, 6, died 1784; married, (Mch. 13?), 1733, Ann, probably the daughter of Robert Lippincott. First, as regards the date of her marriage, and then about her parentage. The records of the Quakers, at Shrewsbury, state that Levi White and Ann Lippincott were married, 1mo., 13, 1733, which, according to the chronology of that time, would be March and not January. But the minutes of the Mens' Monthly Meeting distinctly declare that their first intentions were published, 9mo. (Nov.), 5, 1733; their second intentions, 10mo. (Dec.) 3, 1733, and that the committee reported, 11mo. (Jan.), 7, 1733, that they had been married in an orderly manner. Hence it is evident that their marriage occurred at an earlier date than the records give them credit for, although in the latter part of the year 1733.

These same records also show the following entry: "Thomas & Christian White's son, George White, married Ann, daughter of John Lippincott, whose son Benjamin White, born 12 ["4" in lead pencil] of 12mo., 1755," etc., etc.

This Benjamin White wrote a memorial of his life, in which he states that he was "born on the 4th day of the 12th month 1755. My father George White son of Thomas and Christian White, my Mother Anna, daughter of John Lippincott she dying when I was young, I have but a slight remembrance of her."

Plainly the correction in the records for the birth of Benjamin was made from the manuscript. But the confusion arising from the making of the same woman to have been the wife of two different men must be accounted for on other grounds. It has been stated in the genealogy of the Lippincotts that Levi White married Anne the daughter of John and Sarah (Huet) Lippincott; and it has been declared by more than one genealogist that it was George White, son of Thomas and Christian, who married this same Anne Lippincott.

To my mind there is no doubt that George, and not Levi, White married Ann, the daughter of John and Sarah (Huet) Lippincott, because her own grandson, Benjamin White, 98, says she was John's daughter; because George and Ann White name their oldest children, John and Sarah, after the maternal grandparents; and because she would have been only fourteen years of age at the time of her marriage to Levi, if we accept the date as given in the Quaker Records, having, as they show, been born 11mo. 5, 1719/20.* Furthermore, the signatures of John, Thomas and Jacob Lippincott, as witnesses, when Levi and Ann were married, can be readily accounted for as those of her uncle and his two sons, if we suppose her to have been the daughter of Robert Lippincott, mentioned but not named in the will of her grandfather, John Lippincott, whose wife was Ann (Barber), after whom each of these granddaughters received the name of Ann. This John Lippincott, the grandfather, refers to her as "the daughter of my deceased son, Robert Lippincott."

1784, Aug. 4. Will of Levi White, of Shrewsbury; proved Sep. 13, 1784, mentioned: wife, Ann; son, Thomas, the land where he now lives; son, John White, £100; granddaughter, Phebe; son, Joseph White, to have the remainder of his real estate. Executors: son, Joseph White, and daughter-in-law, Sarah White. Witnesses: Jeremiah Bonham, Jr., David Burk, Timothy Corlies.

*Since writing the above I have consulted the original of the Shrewsbury Quaker Records, and find that the date of birth, 11mo. 5, 1719/20, is not applicable to Ann Lippincott at all. Her name is crossed out, and the space for the date of her birth is vacant. Immediately after her name appears that of another daughter, Sarah Lippincott, born, in Shrewsbury, and with the date of birth as above given, but with a pen mark of erasure carried through all but the date.

77 JOHN WHITE, son of Levi White, 31, born Jan. 1, 1745.

1807, January Term Orphans Court. Account of Jacob White, (Quaker) administrator of John White, credits himself for 13 months board of John H. White, son of John, deceased, intestate. To this is attached a note saying that the real estate of the deceased consisted of a small lot, near Eatontown, on which there are some small buildings very much out of repair, and that Judge Little could give the Court further information.

1807, January Term Orphans Court. Jacob White appointed as Guardian of John Hedger White, under 14 years of age; Britton White and Francis Borden, sureties.

1826, Nov. 13. Thomas White, of Brooklyn, N. Y., conveys to James and Gabriel West, seven acres of land, adjoining a small lot of land that belonged to George White, "weaver," which appears to have been inherited by him under the reversionary clause of the will of his uncle, Thomas White, 75.

1827, Oct. 26. Thomas White, of Kings Co., N. Y., conveys to John T. Corlies, of Shrewsbury, twenty-two acres of land, which is described as "being a part of the real estate of James Smith, deceased," and adjoining George White.

78 JOSEPH WHITE, son of Levi White, 31, born Aug. 27, 1749; died prior to Oct. 5, 1799; married, Dec. 13, 1770, Sarah, daughter of Ephraim and Constant (White) Parker, 51.

1799, Oct. 5. George Van Pelt, of Shrewsbury, and Elizabeth his wife, convey to Jacob White, also of Shrewsbury, all right, title and interest to the one-sixth interest in the land whereon Joseph White dwelt, by virtue of being one of the heirs of said Joseph White, deceased. Witnesses: Samuel and Elizabeth Brees. This deed, acknowledged as well as signed on the above date, was not recorded until Dec. 24, 1821, the same date for the recording of the next two deeds also.

1809, Jan. 4. Quit claim deed from Joseph Fleming and Lydia, his wife, to her brother, Jacob White, all of Shrewsbury, for her one-sixth interest in the one hundred and sixty-eight acres where Joseph White dwelt. This land is described as being bounded on the south by land of Timothy Corlies, southwesterly by the main road, westerly and southwesterly by John White's lot, and westerly by Thomas White's land.

1811, July 1. John D. Goodrich, of New York, and Sarah, his wife, convey their one-sixth interest in the same land, describing it in the same way, except that Timothy Corlies is called "deceased."

The following is an absolutely accurate copy of a paper in the possession of Mrs. John Livingston Conover, of Wickatunk, N. J., which was made March 28th, 1908. The words with asterisks had lines drawn through them in the original, those in italics were interlined, without any indication as to where they belonged.

It is difficult, if not impossible, rightly to assign the dates of death as given in this document. It was not Joseph White who died in 1812, for his daughter Elizabeth Van Pelt is giving a deed for her share in his property in 1799. It was not the date of death of Lydia, the daughter of Joseph, for she died in 1829. Nor am I at all confident that the date 1819 belongs with Jacob Fleming, it might just as well apply to Stephen from its position in the manuscript.

138 Sarah White married, Aug. 22, 1809, John D. Goodrich.

Miss Jane White, of Eatontown, N. J., told me verbally, that the following were children, or under 141, grandchildren, of Joseph White, but it does not seem likely, since no one of them joins in deeding the homestead property to Jacob White.

139 William White died, unmarried, while learning his trade.

141 Amos White married Ann *

80 PETER WHITE, son of Amos White, 33, born Aug. 11, (19?), 1746; died Mch. 26, 1798; married Patience, daughter of John and Patience (Allen) Lippincott, born 3mo., 27, 1757, as given in the Quaker Records, in one place, while in another these same give the date as 8th mo., 12, 1757.

1796, Aug. 23. Peter White and Patience, his wife, convey to Hannah Lippincott, widow, and Lydia White, single woman, land that was situated on the Rumson Highway, and also on the Highway from that to the North River, which was evidently the same as was mortgaged, by Amos White, 33, to James Mount, June 2, 1769, and was part of that which had been bequeathed to him by his father, Amos White, 7.

1798, 1mo., 27. Will of Peter White, of Shrewsbury; proved June 30, 1798, mentioned:

wife, Patience; sons and daughters, as named, some of whom were not yet eighteen years of age:—Amos, Mary, Sarah, Hannah, Phoebe, Peter, Allen, Elizabeth and Jane. Executors: William Hartshorne, and son, Amos. Witnesses: John White, Mary White, Samuel W. Ten Brook.

1802, Apr. 3. Nicholas Van Brunt, and Addrean (Audria?), his wife, convey to Eseek White, seventy-two and a half acres of land at Rumson, on the north side of the main road from Black Point to the Falls, "which, with more, the said Nicholas Van Brunt claims by virtue of a deed of sale for the executors of Peter White, deceased, dated Mch. 27, 1800."

*A careful and painstaking comparison of the names signed as witnesses to the marriage of Amos White and Ann White shows, quite completely, to my mind, at least, that Amos White was the son of Peter and Patience White, and Ann White was probably the daughter of Joseph, 78, and Sarah (Parker) White. In this way the signatures immediately following those of the bride and groom would be accounted for as:

Sarah White, the mother of the bride.

Patience White, the mother of the groom.

Lydia White, the sister of the bride, who later on married Joseph Fleming.

Hannah White, the sister of the groom, eighteen years old.

Sarah White, the sister of the groom, twenty years old.

Jacob White, the brother of the bride who had married, in 1769, Catharine Howland.

John White, an uncle of the bride.

Nathl. Parker, a relative of the bride's, on the mother's side, who was the grand daughter of a Nathaniel Parker.

Catharine White, sister-in-law of the bride.

*I have reason to suppose that the article in a number of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record refers to this family, when it gives the children of Julia and Elizabeth White as Benjamin White born Dec. 18, 1782; Ann White born May 30, 1797; George White born Feb. 4, 1799; died Oct. 9, 1847, aged 57; and Sarah White born Oct. 5, 1792.

†Weekman's Early Dutch Settlers of Monmouth Co. shows that John Bowne, eldest son of Obadiah Bowne, had a daughter, Catharine, who married Wilbur, son of George Crawford, and they had a daughter, Esther, who was given a legacy in her grandfather's will, which was proved Jan. 13, 1776.

‡1831, 11mo., 8. 227 POLLY WHITE, daughter of John White, 112; married Jacob, son of John White.

I am unable to place this last mentioned John White, but it seems very probably that he was identical with the John White, "sawyer," mentioned in deeds below.

1800, Apr. 10. Simeon Babcock and Jane, his wife, convey thirty-four and forty-two hundredths acres of land on Jumping Brook to John Lippincott, which was bounded on the south by lands of the said John White, and on the east by lands of Charity, the wife of James Tallman, Jr., and daughter of Jacob White, (67).

1800, Aug. 11. Richard Wikoif and Hannah, his wife, she having been one of the daughters of Jacob White, (67), late of Shrewsbury, convey seventy-five acres of land, to John White, of Shrewsbury, bounded east by James Tallman, south by Thomas White, (63), west on Jumping Brook, and north by John Lippincott. This tract was the one referred to in the previous deed given by Simeon Babcock, although of an earlier date, and was deeded by John White, "sawyer," and Mary, his wife, to Jonathan Youmans, June 3, 1813.

John White, "sawyer," and Mary, his wife, convey, at this same time, another tract of land to Jonathan Youmans, of five acres, which adjoined the first, to which he claimed title by deed of sale from Thomas White, dated Mch. 20, 1797, but which is not on record. The beginning point of this five acre tract was "in the Forge Pond, forty-four links north of the middle of the bridge that crosses the flood gates;" thence the line ran to "a small run or swamp that puts into Jumping Brook," and down the swamp to the brook. Two of the courses, together with their distances, coincide with what can be found in a deed for one hundred and eighty-six acres, from Thomas Stillwell and Phebe, his wife, to Abraham Van Dyke, he claiming title by virtue of a deed which, likewise, is unrecorded, from Thomas White, (63). This tract is described as being in Shrewsbury, on the east side of Jumping Brook, beginning "about seven chains below the saw mill of John White's and Daniel White's on Jumping Brook, at the mouth of a small run that empties in said brook, it being the corner of John White's lot that he purchased of Thomas White." It may be that Daniel White in the above description is a mistake for Amos White, for, once in the body of the deed there is certainly such a mistake made, and twice the name Amos is used properly.

1804, Mch. 31. Peter Knott and Lydia, his wife, convey fourteen and one-quarter acres of land, at Poplar Swamp, to John White and Jacob White; grantors claiming title by virtue of a deed from Anthony Woolley and Sarah, his wife, dated, April 1790.

1812, May 11. John T. White (112) and Mary, his wife, convey fifty-one acres of land to John White, "sawyer," which John White "sawyer," deeds to Thomas Rosell, Dec. 12, 1816.

1813, Apr. 5. John White, "sawyer," and Mary, his wife, convey a part of the tract purchased of Peter Knott, to Hendrick White.

1816, 2mo., (Feb.) 28. Will of Jacob White, of Poplar; proved Jan. 31, 1817. Made mention of his wife, Mary, and appointed Jacob Woolley and Daniel Williams as his executors. Witnessed by John W. Woolley, Edmund Robinson and John Woolley, Jr.

1822, January Term of the Orphans Court. Settlement of the account of Jacob Woolley and Daniel Williams, executors of the estate of Jacob White, deceased.

1832, Mch. 5. Mary White, widow of Jacob White, sells the balance of the Knott tract of land to Elias Truax, who had previously come into possession of the part purchased by Hendrick White.

312 EDWARD WHITE, son of Thomas White, 224. The Lippincott manuscript in the Historical Society's Library, at Philadelphia, makes the assertion that Benjamin White, No. 117, had two sons named Edward and James. If such were the case, they do not join with the daughters of Benjamin in conveying property after the deaths of Benjamin and his wife, Abigail. And without proof to the contrary, it would seem as if they had been confused with two of the sons of Thomas White, No. 224, although some evidence can be procured to sustain the view that the Lippincott manuscript is correct. As, for instance, Mr. James Edward Borden, of Eatontown, N. J., the last remaining Quaker of the Shrewsbury Meeting, says that he can recollect an Edward White, who died unmarried, and was probably a nephew of Jacob White, No. 115. While Mr. Isaac C. Kennedy, a lawyer of Asbury Park, states distinctly that Edward White was a son of Benjamin White, No. 117. Still another old resident of that section of the country, "who knew Edward White's father well," says the father's name was Benjamin, and that he owned property at Deal. He likewise says that the James T. White, No. 311, who owned the property on which Joseph Truax was living in 1902, came from Burlington Co., (as was actually the case), and returned there after his father's death; and that the family to which he belonged was a branch of the Deal family.

1828, July 4. Edward White, of Hanover township, Burlington Co., deeds to James T. White, without giving any full description, "all my share in a lot of land in Shrewsbury township, that belonged formerly to my father Thomas, deceased."

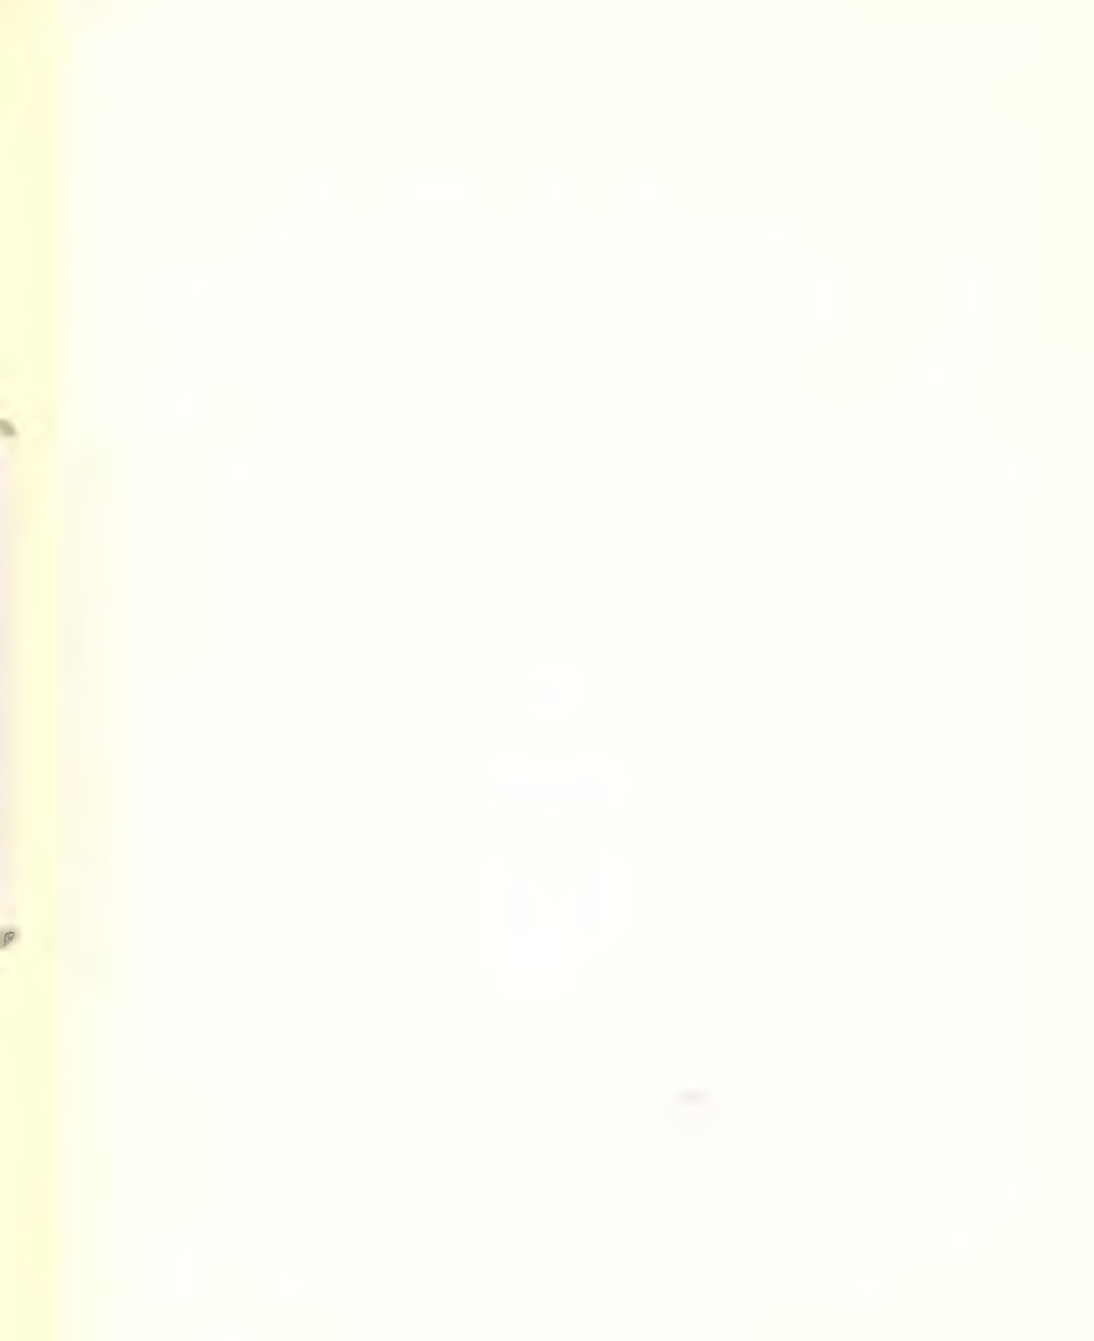

1836, Sep. 1. Edward White conveys to John Ireland seventeen acres of land adjoining Jacob White, the Ocean, Jacob Corlies and Corlies Pond.

1836, Oct. 22. Edward White conveys to William Wright, three acres of woodland, adjoining the County Poor House land, near Shark River.

1838, Jan. 23. Edward White conveys to William White nine acres that adjoined the last mentioned tract of woodland.

1 Internal evidence, in the will of Robert White, seems to be sufficient to assure us that he was the father of the Robert White, 2, who went to Monmouth County. And from the occurrence of the name of Peter among his sons, it has been thought that he was closely related to the Peter and Thomas White, brothers, whose descendants are enumerated in the foregoing pages.

All the knowledge I have been able to obtain of him is contained in the record of his will, as printed by the New York Historical Society, Volume 1, Page 283.

1696/7, Feb. 2. Will of Robert White, Sr., of New York, joiner, mentioned: eldest son, Robert White; sons, Peter and John, each to have one-half his working tools. Executors: wife, Elizabeth, and Mr. William Bickley, merchant.

Major Bickley, in his will, dated Aug. 27, 1716, and proved June 17, 1724, refers to his wife, Elizabeth, and leaves one-half of his New Jersey property to Elizabeth White, Jr., "whom my wife hath brought up and will continue with us."

Issue

- 2 Robert White eldest son
- 3 Peter White
- 4 John White
- 5 Elizabeth White
- 6 Mary White married, Aug. 31, 1694, John French.
- 7 Martha White married Hendrick Van Hoofden; and perhaps, married, second, Peter Bant.

2 ROBERT WHITE, son of Robert White, 1, married, first, Nov. 28, 1690, Jacomyntje Van Rollegon; second, Aug. 31, 1694, Frances Stanley.

1684/5, Feb. 4. The inventory of the estate of Thomas White, of Monmouth Co., shows his estate as a debtor to Robert White as of this date, the debt having been paid sometime between 1684 and 1686, by Samuel White, the son and administrator of Thomas. Possibly this was Robert White, 1, but it would seem more likely to have been his son, as he is known to have taken a wife in Monmouth County.

The Reformed Dutch Church records, of New York City, state that:

Robert White, young man, of London, England, married, Nov. 28, 1690 Jacomyntje Van Rollegon, young maiden, of New York; and also that their child Elizabeth, was baptised July 1, 1691.

The New Jersey Historical Society have, in their Library, at Newark, as presented to them by Charles S. Boggs, of the United States Navy, the original license issued for the marriage of this Robert White to his second wife, which differs in a remarkable way from the record of the marriage itself. The license has the names:

Robert White, "joyner," of New York, and Frances Stanley, of Province of East Jersey, have license dated Aug. 29, 1694.

In Book "B" of the record of Deeds at Freehold, N. J., is to be found the following:

"These are to certifie all whom it may concern, that on this the last day of August, Anno one thousand six hundred ninety and four, Robert White, of the city of New York, and Frances Wales,* of the Province aforesaid, was lawfully Joyned in holy-Wedlock, and this to be their sufficient Testimoniall. Given from under my hand at Tinton Manors this day and date hereof. Signed L. MORRIS."

1694, the last day of August 1694, at Trenton Manor, Mary White married to John French. The date for this marriage is given as Oct. 21, 1694, in the Supplementary List of Marriage Licenses, issued by the State Library Bulletin, in April, 1898. But the earlier date, occurring on the same day and at the same place as when Robert White was married, is found on the records at Freehold.

1695, July 21. Elizabeth, daughter of "Robert White and Frankje Sandery," baptised. Tryntje Rollegon as a witness.

1697, Apr. 25. The Reformed Dutch Church of New York gives the record of the baptism of Jacquemyntje White, daughter of Francina Standing, with Bartholomeus La Roux and Tryntje Rollegon as witnesses.

1705, Jan. 18. Preserve Lippincott and Elizabeth, his wife, convey fifty acres of land, in Shrewsbury, to Robert White, "cooper," bounded by the West and North Highways, Francis Borden and Preserve Lippincott, that had been deeded to the present grantor, "by my loving father, John Lippincott, Dec. 13, 1700;" Peter White, one of the witnesses.

- 12 Abraham White married Mehitable, daughter of John and Mary (Bills) Scott.
- 13 Stanley White

*There is no doubt that the wife of Robert White, (2), was Frances Stanley, and not Frances Wales; of this there is a superabundance of proof. It has been suggested that the Monmouth Co. record of this marriage was meant to read Frances Stanley, not Wales. Though we have some knowledge of the Stanleys in Monmouth Co., there is no proof of their Welsh origin, but to the contrary, the name, Stanley, is probably English.

A baptism of Nov. 1, 1691, shows that Bartholomew La Roux married Gertrude Van Rollegon.

12 ABRAHAM WHITE, son of Robert White, 2, married Mehitable, daughter of John and Mary (Bills) Scott, born Jan. 16, 1706.

1735, Nov. 27. She signed as a witness of the marriage of William Scott, her brother, to Mary Runnels, immediately after the groom and bride.

1735, Dec. 18. They were witnesses of the marriage of his nephew, Thomas White, "weaver," to Elizabeth Lippincott.

1741, July 8. Abraham White was one of the witnesses to the will of Preserve Lippincott, and owned lands adjoining his.

Reference to them and their descendants can be found in Cooley's Early Settlers in Trenton.

- 18 John White married, first, Catharine Olden; second, by license dated Oct. 11, 1782, Mary Smith.

13 STANLEY WHITE, son of Robert White, 2. But very little evidence is afforded for the existence of Stanley White and his place here in this pedigree. His name alone is sufficient to show his parentage. And his signature has been found upon receipts in the possession of the late James Steen, Esq., of Eatontown, N. J., of about 1730, one being for the year 1731, whereon the name of Daniel Lippincott also appears, who was, I surmise, his brother-in-law. It was the mother of this Daniel Lippincott who refers to her grandchildren in her will as Vincent and George White.

1745, 9mo., 12. Will of Elizabeth Brinley; proved June 7, 1748. She signed it by her mark, and was the daughter of John and Elizabeth (Allen) Williams, and widow of Preserve Lippincott, marrying as his second wife, Sep. 19, 1739, William Brinley. In this will she refers to:

my grandsons, Vincent and George White, as not yet twenty-one years of age, and left to them all money due me from Thomas Holmes on his bond, and also the interest of the same. If they both died the above legacy was to go to the children of my son, Daniel Lippincott; Vincent White was to have a chest marked "V.W."; to grand-daughters, Elisabeth, Audrea and Anne Lippincott, the clothes that I had before I married William Brinley. While Elizabeth was to have my Great Bible, Audrea was to get the sheets marked "E.A.L." Executors: Cousins, Joseph Corlies and Hez^b. Williams. Witnesses: John Webley, Stephen Wardell, Sarah Williams.

Issue

- 19 Vincent White married, first, Grace Jeffrey; second, Rachel Green.
 20 George White
 21 Peter White, probably; married, by license dated Jan. 22, 1747, Huldah Tabor.

15 THOMAS WHITE, son of Robert White, 10. He married, 10 month 18, 1735, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (White), 28, Lippincott, when his father and brother, each of the name of Robert, sign as witnesses in the most prominent positions. She was born May 3, 1717.

The will of Thomas White is referred to in a deed on record at Freehold, in Book W, page 22, dated July 22, 1813, but although an extended search has been made for the same no trace of it could be found. It may be that it was to this Thomas White reference was made in the settling of the account of "Thomas White, executor of Thomas White, deceased." January Term of Orphans Court, 1791.

He is the Thomas White, "weaver," spoken of in the will of Thomas White, of Deal, No. 24; and is called "Thomas White, of Shark River, deceased" in a deed given by James Talman, Jr., and Charity, his wife, April 7, 1798.

An old Bible, in the possession of the late Timothy M. White, of Little Silver, N. J., gave the entries which are appended herewith, and would seem to indicate that Francis and Elizabeth (Lippincott) White left no issue, as no mention of any is made in it.

20 GEORGE WHITE, grandson of Elizabeth (Williams-Lippincott) Brinley, and probable son of Stanley White, 13.

It would seem as though it were this George White who was purchaser of an acre of woodland from Thomas Little and Elihu Chadwick, executors of George Smith, Nov. 12, 1800. This same parcel was sold by Deborah and Elizabeth White to Richard S. Poole, Jan. 25, 1833. 1792, June 4. This date, on the lower half of a sheet of note paper, seemingly indicates that the letter written upon it, and of which it was part, was received prior thereto. It reads:

Alfred Smith, a great-grandson of Jane Miers, by her third marriage, had in his possession, in 1882, the certificate of her marriage to Philip White, which he had found among his father's papers. It reads as follows:

"Jane Myer was born the fourteenth Day of December in the year 1775."

"This may Certifie all such as it may Concern that Philip White & Jane Miers have been lawfully joined in holy Matrimony by me October y^e 29 1773

(Signed) CHARLES MACKNIGHT."

The Reverend Charles Mac Knight was pastor of the Presbyterian Church, in Shrewsbury, about the time of this marriage. But the early records of that Church have been destroyed or lost for many years.

Mr. Smith had also in his possession a paper that gave the dates of birth of the two children of Philip White, as given beyond.

New York Historical Society, Wills, Vol. 9, page 324.

According to Sabine's History of the Loyalists, George Taylor Dennison, Jr., tried to make Philip White to have been a son of Amos (No. 25) and Esther (Tilton-Borders) White. But there is not a particle of evidence to show that this couple had any child by what was a second marriage on the part of each of them. And other reasons showing Mr. Dennison's mistake have been set forth by the Reverend William White Hance in an article he published in the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, for July, 1905.

In hunting over some old newspapers for the time, the following was obtained from a copy of the Pennsylvania Journal, of the date of May 1, 1782:

"The circumstances attending the death of the above mentioned Philip White were as follows: On Saturday the 30th of March last, he was surprised by a party of our people, and after he had laid down his arms, in token of surrendering himself a prisoner, he again took up his musket and killed a son of Col. Hendrickson: he was however taken by our light horse, and on his way from Colt's Neck to Freehold, where they were conducting him, he again attempted to make his escape from the guard, who called on him several times to surrender, but he continued running, often crossed and recrossed by the light horse, and desired to stop, and finally, when leaping into a bog, impassable by the horse, he received a stroke in the head by a sword, which killed him instantly. The above facts have not only been proved by the affidavits of our friends who were present, but by the voluntary and candid testimony of one Aaron White, who was taken prisoner with the said Philip."

From Library of Pennsylvania Historical Society, in Philadelphia. Abstracts of letters from George Taylor Dennison to Jas. S. Lippincott.

February 21, 1880.

"I have gathered some further information since I wrote you last From an old draft of a petition to the Lieut. Gov. of Canada, I find that Mrs. Lippincott's father was a magistrate before the war, and died before the war commenced I may say that Mrs. Lippincott was a near relative of Philip White and Alexander White for we have an old book in our family which belonged to Alexander White brother of Philip we believe—but the tradition in our family is that Philip White was a near relative of Captain or Mrs. Lippincott—a cousin or step brother—perhaps this may aid you somewhat. . . . I have unearthed two old letters from Mrs. Lippincott to her husband when he was in England in 1787 and 1788. From these letters it appears without doubt that they came from Shrewsbury. Mrs. Lippincott speaks of having received two letters from Shrewsbury, one from Sally Wardell and one from Sally De bow—both asking her to spend the winter with them—She also refers to one J. Knight and also of Joseph Parker who had gone to Shrewsbury to spend the winter and who had promised Mrs. Lippincott to call upon her friends there. She also appears to have had a sister in Shrewsbury.

(Signed) GEORGE T. DENISON."

8th May, 1880.

"My cousin Richard Lippincott Dennison has the old family Bible which belonged to the Captain—I think in fact that the Bible was Mrs. Lippincott's. Brittain Woolley was nearly related to us. Also a Mrs. Thompson who married a Captain Van Allen who used to run a Lake Erie Steamboat. Her brother Mr. Ben Thompson, of St. Paul, Minnesota, is also a near relative.

In 1867 I met a Mr. Lippincott [this must have been Charles A. Lippincott, son of Amelia, who died very aged] who told me he had often heard his mother speaking of Captain Lippincott. I afterwards saw his mother's tombstone in Shrewsbury Churchyard which states that she died about thirty years ago aged over 90 years old."

"From letters I have of Mrs. Lippincott, it is clear that Rebekah died before 1786.

John and Rebekah Woolley married in Shrewsbury Oct. 14, 1767."

Fighting on the Loyalist side during the Revolutionary War, he afterwards went to Canada and settled at what is now St. John, New Brunswick, then called Parr Town.

In 1825, William and John White, as executors of "their brother" John's estate, obtained order from the Court in Monmouth Co., to sell some of his real estate in order to pay his debts.

It is not known who were the parents of Deborah Tilton, his wife, but some things would seem to indicate that she was a sister of the brothers, John and Clayton Tilton, Loyalists, also of New Brunswick, Canada.

The list of their children and later descendants has been taken from a History of the White Family, published for private distribution, in 1906, by Mr. James E. White, one of the grandsons of William White.

I believe that the following Robert White was a son of Robert White, 10, and grandson of Robert White, 2, and Frances (Stanley), his wife. But I have nothing to show in corroboration; and I have also under the miscellaneous notes suggested that Robert, the son of Robert White, 10, was the father of another group of children. Which of these deductions is correct it is impossible to tell.

1 ROBERT WHITE married Margaret, daughter of Hugh and Catharine (Tilton) Hartshorne. He was alive Oct. 10, 1773, when his son, Hartshorne, made his will.

1731, Sep. 2. New Jersey Archives, Vol. XI, page 257, states that an apprentice of one Robert White committed suicide.

1742, Aug. 7. Will of Hugh Hartshorne; probated Oct. 18, 1742, in which he leaves a legacy of £50., to his daughter, Margaret, the wife of Robert White.

1747, 5mo., 10. A Robert White died, and was buried in the Shrewsbury Quaker Burying ground.

1750, June 8. Robert White recorded the ear mark that was formerly Hugh Hartshorne's.

1754, July 3. Fifty-two acres and a half, strict measure, surveyed for Robert White, of the south branch of the Metetecunk River, his house being ten chains distant from the beginning point.

East Jersey Records, at Perth Amboy.

1765, 5mo., 18. Will of Catharine Hartshorne, of Middletown, widow of Hugh Hartshorne; proved Sep. 30, 1767, gave a legacy of 35 shillings a year to her granddaughter, Margaret White, the daughter of Robert White and "my daughter Margaret, deceased;" and mentioned other children of the said Margaret as Richard, Deborah and Frances.

1786, Mch. 15. Sarah Tole, widow of Richard Tole, conveys land to Robert White, "trader," which was bounded on the east by the Highway from the Church to Red Bank.

Freehold Deeds, "I.", page 190.

Freehold Deeds, "I.", page 370.

THREE UNRECORDED DEEDS.

1792, Feb. 6. Samuel Hoffmire and wife, deed four and a quarter acres of land to Robert White, situated "on the road that leads from Joel Borden's late mill to Red Bank."

1796, Aug. 4. John Borden and Lydia, his wife, convey twenty and ninety-eight hundredths of an acre to Robert White, it being a tract of woodland between Squan road and Pine Brook, about three and a half miles south of Tinton Falls.

1806, Apr. 7. Robert Hulett and Sarah, his wife, convey to Robert White eight and ninety-seven hundredths of an acre of woodland situated about three-quarters of a mile southwestward from Chestnut Plains.

1795, Apr. 24. Richard Hulitt, yeoman, of Shrewsbury, and Sarah, his wife, convey to Robert White, "merchant," ten acres of land which grantor claims by virtue of the last will and testament of his father Joseph Hulitt, deceased, dated Apr. 25, 1791, beginning at the southwest corner of lands of Joseph Price, deceased, on the east side of the Highway from the Quaker Meeting House to Red Bank, in what is usually called the Great Bog.

Freehold Deeds, "M", page 75.

1804, May 7. Thomas White and Susannah, his wife, of Gloucester Co., convey fifty acres of land to Robert White, of Freehold. Freehold Records, "O", page 922.

1 JOSEPH WHITE, son of George White and Martha Cornish, his wife, was born in Ireland, in 1748, and baptised in St. Multose Parish, Kinsale, Co. Cork, Mch. 27, 1748. In 1767, at the age of nineteen, he shipped, as an able bodied seaman, in the Royal Navy, as from Kinsale, and remained there until 1769. His name then disappears from the muster rolls until 1793, when it is again entered, as Master. He passed as Lieutenant, in 1797, and became Commander in 1800, remaining as such on the ship Princess, until 1802, after which no further notice of him could be found in the Admiralty Office.

1776, Nov. 12. Joseph White married, according to the Register of the Parish of Birr or Parsonstown, by lycence, Mary Kennedy.

1776, Nov. 18. Killaloe Marriage License Bond signed by Joseph White and Paul Palmer, both of Birr, in Kings County, gentlemen, for license for marriage of said Joseph White and Mary Kennedy, of Birr, in Kings County, Spinster. She was the daughter of Bryan Kennedy, of Clongowna, who died Nov. 9, 1787, and Margaret Keating, his wife.

1801, Sep. 16. William Henry Pike, of New York City, merchant, and Elizabeth, his wife, convey to Joseph White, of said City, "combmaker," one hundred and fourteen acres of land, in Rumson, Monmouth Co., N. J., on both sides of the road from Black Point to the Falls, which was bounded by Thomas White's fence on the south. The purchase money mortgage for this is found in Frechold Mortgages, D, page 492, dated Sep. 17, 1801.

1805, Oct. 15. Joseph White, Sr., "combmaker," and Mary, his wife, convey this same tract to Joseph White, Jr., "farmer." This was conveyed back again to Joseph White, "combmaker," Apr. 27, 1807.

1807, Apr. 28. Joseph White, "combmaker," and Mary, his wife, sell this same tract to Samuel Ivins, "farmer," describing it as being bounded in part by the line of Eseek White (56).

1815, Mch. 14. Will of Joseph White, Sr., of Trenton; proved Mch. 6, 1816, mentioned:

son, Jonathan White, to have the house he lived in, the shop and all tools, machinery and articles appertaining to the business; said son will not be twenty-one until Oct. 20, 1817; daughter, Essy White; wife, Mary White; daughter, Anne Eastburn, to have "my large silver watch my Grandfather's silver spoon and pleated tea-urn;" apprentice, Henry White, son of Joseph White, Jr., not yet twenty-one; "my two sons, George and Joseph White, Anne Eastburn and Essy White." Signed, at his house, in Trenton, in the sixty-fifth year of his age. Mary White and Joseph White, Jr., made administrators with will annexed, Mch. 6, 1816.

Henry Van Gelder made administrator on the estate of Richard White, May 4, 1717.

If it could be established that Robert White, 10, son of Robert White, 2, son of Robert White (1), of the will dated Feb. 2, 1696, 7, had a son Robert, which I am disposed to infer, but have not yet been able to prove, he would conform to the Robert White, who was the father of the children mentioned in the annexed affidavit, on record at Freehold, in Book "R." of Deeds, page 97.

Dated June 14, 1806, it reads as follows:—

Certificate of James Hankinson, Kenneth Hankinson, and Joseph Thompson, concerning the family of Robert White, deceased.

Whereas information has been received of the decease of James White, formerly of New Jersey but late of North Carolina, that said James White devised his estate to William McMurray, of New Jersey, and to his heirs on the body of Elizabeth White, sister to the said James White and wife to said William McMurray, and whereas both William and Elizabeth McMurray died leaving no issue, we the subscribers of the township of Lower Freehold, who are some of the oldest settlers of said place now living, have been applied to by Robert White, a brother of said James, for a certificate relative to his father's family with whom we were acquainted, do hereby certify that said Robert is eldest son of Robert White, deceased, who had several children, to wit, Robert, John, Bryant, William, James, Elizabeth and Catharine White, and that we believe the said Robert White to be at this time the only survivor of the said family, also that he is the sole heir at law to the estate of aforesaid brother James White.

A family that has been called at times the "Lakewood" Whites is descended from one Robert White, who had *1755, Aug. 18. Marriage license. William McMurray and Elizabeth White; both of Monmouth.

The following record was written by Benjamin White, 98, about the year 1825, and was copied for Mrs. George Hance, in October, 1865, by Henry F. Spaulding, from which copy a transcription was taken, in August, 1899, and this is a copy of such transcription. Since it was taken both the original and the copy have disappeared, and, on inquiry being made for the transcription where it was supposed to be, that also was found to have followed suit and become invisible.

Benjamin White lived in what is now the Presbyterian parsonage, in Shrewsbury, a large part of which he built, as is set forth in these papers. He was a Quaker, and was familiarly known as "Book Muslin Bennie." The record of births, marriages and deaths, subsequent to his own death, were added, it is believed, by Mr. Spaulding, from his own memoranda.

A MEMORIAL AND RECORD OF THE LIFE OF
FROM HIS CHILDHOOD TO OLD AGE, WRITTEN BY HIMSELF.

SHREWSBURY, N. J.

I have been thinking for some time of leaving for my children, a short sketch of my life from early youth until the evening of my life. That they may see the great goodness of a kind providence and how

God has preserved my life from many dangers nigh unto death which the remembrance thereof has given me great cause for thankfulness and gratitude to my preserver. I was born on the 4th day of the 12th mo. 1755. My father George White son of Thomas and Christian White, my Mother Anna daughter of John Lippincott she dying when I was young, I have but a slight remembrance of her. At her death she left in my father's care (7) seven children the youngest twins: Viz., John, Sarah, Thomas, Robert, Benjamin, Joseph and William. The last two were about nine months old. My father had a great care on his hands to provide for this family of small children. He lived a widower the remainder of his life. My dear father met with a serious accident, which I think shortened his life. He went up in the store house chamber for something and returning he fell from the top step in the stairs to the bottom across a half-bushel which hurt him very much from which he never recovered. When he was dying he requested that all his children should be at his bedside, he gave us all good advice taking one at a time by the hand, beginning at the eldest and so on down to the youngest. I can remember some of his words while hold of my hand—Benjamin, he said, farewell—be a good boy and do not run about on first days. We all then went out of the room weeping in tears for our dear father. My aunt informed me since that he requested them not to weep for him for he was going to a place of rest he said he saw the angels around him as white as snow and I believe he is now in the realms of bliss I hope I may be prepared to meet him. We were now left without either father or mother our things were sold at Vendue which last three days. I then went to live with my uncle John White, and went to school a short time after which I worked on the farm for my uncle Thomas White where I remained till I went to learn the tailors trade of Abel Middleton, Crosswicks. He also kept a store and made too free use of ardent spirits which made him neglect both trade and store. I had to come once a year to see my friends in Shrewsbury. My time was most of it spent in working on his farm and I had a small prospect of learning my trade. After a while I went to work with Jacob Cook to obtain an insight of the tailoring business. After that I applied to Edward Weaver of Jacob Town, and bound myself by an Indenture until I was twenty one years of age. I remained with him until he was taken sick with consumption which was some years—he went to live with his sister at Colestown, and I went at journey work with Thomas Bliss of Bordentown. I afterwards heard that my master was near the close of life, I went to him at Jacobstown, and found the price he asked for my time. I took the money I had earned at Bordentown and of a friend, gave my note for the balance and paid my master for my time. I then returned went to work earned enough to pay off my note and then worked with Levi Budd at the new Miles until I had an offer to go to, Philadelphia where I remained for some time—until I was taken very sick and had to leave the city and returned to West Jersey, and boarded with my old mistress Polly Middleton, where I remained for some time in very poor health—was reduced very low, My friends thought dropsy or consumption would be my end. I was recommended to drink cheese whey, which I did and made the Cheese curd my diet. In a short time thereafter through the kind providence of God my health returned. After which I returned to Philadelphia, and then went to New York to see my brothers John and Robert. I also thought I would visit my relatives and friends in Shrewsbury. I came on a boat with Capt. Wardell and Slocum, in company with Peter Parker old Joseph Allen and Thomas Seebrook the wind north east and snowed a little the sea rolled heavily and one time we thought we should all be lost. after much labor we passed safely into the River I have often admired the goodness of a kind Providence—our lives from a watery grave—the night was dark and there was ice in the river and with much labor we broke our way through the ice until we reached the shore. Soon after that I was gunning after ducks down the river in company with a boy a very cold day our boat drifted from us we were left on the sedges and came near perishing with cold. After my visit in Shrewsbury I returned to Philadelphia and worked at my trade till the sound of war. I then went to New York and worked Journey work with my brother Robert. We had a room and kept Batchelor's hall, our furniture was a bed, chest, 2 cups and 2 spoons, our provisions we kept in the chest. Brother Robert was cook and I went to market we made ourselves as happy as we could we had to depend on our labor for our living and to save time he done the cooking nights, he met with a misfortune spraint his ankle and had to lay up for some time—how long we might have continued in this way is uncertain if the war had not progressed as I shall mention hereafter. As I lay in bed one night I heard the firing of large guns. I immediately arose and went into the city and found the people in great confusion, drums beat to Arms. The ship, Asia was laying off in the river firing upon the town. The people were removing the large guns from the Battery and I had hold and helped move them nothing now but war preparations going on some moved out of town, business was on a decline, we soon broke up housekeeping and I took the stage for Crosswicks boarded with my old mistress and followed my trade. Being often fined for not doing military duty I left and came to Shrewsbury, and went to making salt by boiling seawater—did not answer—I returned to West Jersey continued my trade until the battle of Trenton when Gen. Washington with his army crossed the Delaware River, took the Hessians at the battle of Princeton, Gen. Putnam and Mifflin's head-quarters was with my old mistress where I boarded and every one must do something either go the British, to Jalle, or join the American Army. They were in want of forages for their horses and wanted some one well acquainted with the farmers, where the British had not been. I told Gen. Putnam, if he would give from under his hand that the teams should not be prized, I would procure them plenty, which he did and I bought hay, corn, cheese, &c. and sold it to the Army so when the Army moved to Princeton I was appointed Wagon Master, and remained with the Army for some time, I drew Captain's pay had my horse saddled always ready for an alarm or marching orders. Every morning I had all the brigade of Wagons drove up, and sent some for wood, some for hay, grain &c. The carters must have my written order or they could not obtain either provisions for themselves or feed for their horses. While in the army I tried to be useful both to the Army and to the farmers in returning property unlawfully taken, being at Stoney Brook Samuel Worth informed me that his team had been prized and he never expected to see it again had been gone some time in the way for Morristown. I obtained the team and sent it to the owner. I also helped Isaac Field obtain his horse. I went with him from Bristol to Burlington with a military guard. None could cross the ferry unless in the service of the Army neither the wagon or horse could have been obtained if I had not been respected by the officers in the Army. Samuel Worth above mentioned was a brother to Mary Middleton my old mistress. As soon as I could I left the Army, and presented my certificate for services as Wagon Master in the Army, and I drew Continental Money. After a short time I returned to my native soil, Shrewsbury, with but little money as to value, it being Continental and old Jersey money. I went to work at my trade. My brother Robert worked at distilling in Partnership with Robert Bown. After some time a French fleet came to anchor off Jumping Point and sent their boats ashore for water. They were cut off by the British fleet from obtaining water at the watering places. I assisted them in carting their empty casks filling them and returning them through the surf to the boats. After the fleet had sailed a large drove of cattle arrived for their use, but as they had sailed I went with the drove to Gen. Maxwell's Army then laying at Spottswood. Col. White's troop of horse and Maj. Lee were then at Brown Brook they had taken the horse "Heron" then owned by R. Bown and my uncle Thomas White. I went for the horses "Heron" and one for Nathan Justious—his answer was T. White my uncle was an old Tory and would not let me have him he delivered up Nathan Justious horse which I led home to his owner. The other after sometime was returned and my brother Robert with myself purchased a $\frac{1}{4}$ of a share for £46 and sold the same to my uncle T. White and never received a penny from him or from his estate. This is the end of old "Heron" so to return to my former memory and trials in the war. I returned to my trade. I was seldom idle, strove to make a living and lay up all I could while I had health. Robert Bowne proposed to my brother Robert that we should keep a small store, and he would assist us. We then hired Martin Mairs wife to keep house for us. We began with $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of butter, 1 lb. Pork and a few potatoes. We had no china, but it was much better than being in the army, still we were not far from them. We were so near the line, that in the fore part of the night we had British and Refugees, in the morning the American troops. My brother was called a Kings man or Refugee and myself a Rebel and friend to Jersey troops. Colonel Ford and Lee came. We had to find quarters for the army. The dwellings for some distance around were occupied by soldiers. We gave up our kitchen and cellar. Sometimes after this we commenced our store, began with a little tea, Barrel of sugar, papers, a pr. small scales with other small articles and 1 hhd. Rum. Apple spirit we had plenty as we carried on the distilling business at that time. We had gone on in this way but a short time when a large party of British and Refugees came off in order to surprise and take Col. Ford, with all his troops but they were informed just in time so as the rear of our troops passed the lanes by Wardells or where Tilee Williams now resides the whole of the British forces came on their rear shot and chased them to the Falls, but being so enraged that they had lost their prey that they set fire to the houses and burned many of them and plundered on their return. I hid most of our dry goods but they broke open the store, robbed us of what they could, filled their canteens with spirits and let it run to waste. My brother was from home. They had my mare out and going off with her. I ran and got hold of her and while I was tussling with the soldier others were plundering my house, the guns left by our troops were broken across the fence. They seemed like wild or mad men. I kept hold of my mare until some of the American troops who was in pursue fired at them he then left me and run across the graveyard, so I saved my mare and some of the plunder. I had often to go to Philadelphia to buy goods. My brother was not acquainted, and I had that to do, but when he went out to work at his trade, I staid at home to watch and when I went he did the same, so we always kept busy trying to make a living, war appeared all around us—we were constantly in danger—near the line—between two fires—through favor we were preserved. We started very early one morning to gunning at Black Point, Judiah Allen's brother and Brother Robert the weather was very cold. I shot some fowl and in going for it on the ice I broke through --lost my gun in the water and came near drowning. I was expecting every moment to sink under the ice, my mind being turned unto the Lord, I said "O Lord I am now coming unto thee—do thou have mercy on my poor soul!" at last having got my arms on the ice and with my feet as if swimming brought me to the top of the water and with great effort I gradually crawled on the ice, and as I moved I said, am I yet alive, and I praised my Maker for deliverance. John Hartshorne had been an eye witness to all my struggles in the water, but dared not come to me until I was on the strong ice, he then gave me his arm and helped me to Widow Marshes tavern at Black Point. They put me to bed, I felt as if I should perish with the cold, when the frost began to come out of me it resembled the steam from a boiling pot. In the evening I was conveyed home my agitation was so great that I found but little sleep my thoughts were on so great deliverance and at this time when I pen these lines I can say that I feel that I am a monument of his Mercies, and have great cause to bless His dear name for all his favors. The skin of my hands all peeled off like a potatoe, my gun was fished up with oyster tongs. As soon as I was able I started for Philadelphia for goods in a sleigh, at Burlington we went on the ice on the river to the city and back again which was never done before nor since to my memory—the winter was very severe. The ground froze to great depth. Joseph Lippencott died that winter and in digging his grave it was all frozen ground. We kept our store going for some time and then my brother married William Crawford's daughter, then our housekeeper left and we were much better suited. I was very fond of gunning after water fowl. I went to Little Silver and put my gun in the boat with the muzzle toward me, there was ice in the boat, the gun slipped, the lock struck the timbers and she went off—the whole load passed through the bow of the boat, I stood by the side of the boat near the bow, this I saw was another great deliverance, and I could say what shall I render unto the Lord for so many favors and benefits. We rented the house we lived in and kept store in the front part, afterwards we bought it of John Corlies and paid the cash down, we bought it in partnership. It was the lot where I now live, we strove for an honest living and we had our health and seemed to be blessed. Sometime after I married Mary Morris, the war still continued. We lived in a small way in a small house which I bought of my wifes brother John Morris. Sometimes after my brother Robert told me that he must move. I found that he was in earnest. I told my wife that we must move in as I could not leave the store. Brother R. moved where he now lives—our families increasing we divided the household goods, and began to charge each other with what we took out of the store before this we each had out of the store without charge for many years. We have now obtained our Independence. War is at an end. We have agreed to give Quit Claim to each other, and I pay him the difference I took the lot in Shrewsbury town, and he the one where he now lives—through much hard work both my wife and myself we build a new home. My cellar is 32 x 42 and 7 feet deep. I asked the mason how many stone he would want for the cellar wall he said fill the hole full just leave room enough for him to stand. I worked very hard getting the material for my cellar. The free stone in front came from Newark. The day I raised my house was a busy day. I had made up my mind not to have any rum, or spirits of any kind on the day of raising, although the expense was greater. I had a barrel of good beer with plenty of good cider and wine and eggs in the morning—it was raised without accident. The next morning as I was walking on the foundation showing my wife where the little bedroom was to be I fell with my breast on the joice hanging with both hands for some time at last fell to the bottom of the cellar. I was hurt very much was bleeding in both arms and confined to my bed for some days. As soon as I was able I went to Philadelphia for more goods by the way of Bordentown while the war continued I had to go on horseback to Philadelphia generally two teams met me at Bordentown sometimes in freezing cold winter and at other times hot scorching summer days—through all I have been preserved to the present moment and I have cause to be thankful. A law has been passed in Jersey that all goods found going towards the enemy's lines or coming out of Philadelphia should be seized and one half should go to the informer the other half to the state unless the owner was qualified that they were imported according to law—therefore all goods which I bought I presented to the Notary Public and was sworn or affirmed that what they sold me were so imported I also had the large seal of Pennsylvania when they arrived at Bordentown. One Peter Tallman came with a company of men and said the goods were contraband and he should detain them as such. I showed him my invoice all attested and according to law, after looking them over he handed them back and replied that I had acted well and hoped every one would be as careful and guarded as I had been, but very few believed him, as he had been watching for the goods and would have been better suited to have kept them and a very great disappointment to him and many others in his gang. Richard Davis was in company with me and uncle Letson drove our team and Lamon Taylor his it was a fine pass time for all of them when they saw Tallman so chop fallen and all his gang skunk away. After I had paid my bill at the tavern we started for Shrewsbury and arrived home safe. I mention this to show that we had to be as wise as serpents and ought to have been as harmless as doves. I mentioned the raising of my house which was after the war and peace proclaimed then we began to ship goods from New York.

My house was begun in the year 1789 and finished in 1792, we both my wife and myself worked very We had a family of young children and many work people to provide for but we were blessed with good health through the goodness of a kind providence. We finished the house and moved the kitchen to the east end of the house. It has served for that use ever since. My brother Robert felt dissatisfied that I had a new house and he none. I told him that I would assist him in building one. I helped him until his house was all completed and then built his barn. Dr. Johnson was much in debt and had to sell his corner house and land—we bought it and found it very much encumbered with mortgages &c. It cost us a great deal of money and trouble. He owed some in New Brunswick, some above New York. I had to go to all who had claims on the estate and pay them off, so we still own all except what we sold to Corlies and Allen, the stone hill out southward is a part of the bargain. Then I bought in company with Brother Robert 20 acres of woodland of James Williams—50 acres of Daniel Williams, out by Bill Crafts. I claimed a right on 100 acres near Natts Hill—I let Brother Robert have one half, bought 40 acres of John Morris. I bought the old Sand field adjoining it and the new ground more or less which makes the land square. I built a small house on it and planted 2 orchards and fenced it. I also bought a lot adjoining the above built a small house and repaired the barn. Bought of James R. Holmes Vandue 3 Lots of Woodland at Chestnut plains, also at the same time two lots of Woodland of John Holmes, one near the Falls 67 acres the other by Polly Britons 58 18 100 acres, which I paid for in Silver Money, and all the rest has been paid for which the deeds will show. I mention the above lots to let my children know how they came to be mine as well as the dwelling houses and out houses they came by industry and hard labor, with the great goodness of the All wise Providence. He can bless a little and blast a great deal. I hope I may ever be truly thankful for all his favors and say what shall I render unto thee O Lord for all thy benefits and favors. This brings to my mind another favor. I went to New York with my wife Mary to buy goods she went Westchester to visit brother John White. I sent my goods on board of a Boat lying at the foot of Peck Slip, to sail next day for Shrewsbury. My wife had returned to Robert Bowns. I went to the boat in the evening to put something on Board, it being dark I fell into the water from the dock and put my shoulder out of joint. I found a ring and cable in the corner of the dock which I held unto and cried for help. and the Mounts on board heard me and helped out of the water to R. Bowns house. Dr. Simmons came and set my shoulder. It made a loud report when replaced. They bound me with silk handkerchiefs in my chair when he bled me, I fainted away. I went on board next day and arrived safely at home. This I mention as another narrow escape from death. My brother R. seldom went from home I often thought he did not know the dangers and hardships I had to pass through, but his health would not permit him, and not being so much in the store his judgment was not so good in buying or selling. I was very fond of fishing and gunning whenever I had an opportunity. It gave me new life. I often caught Sheepshead, Barb, Bass and other fish with hook and line. I owned a large fishing seine, but of late I found it did not answer and I sold the seine boat and ropes to Dr. Longstreet. He broke so I lost all. I then had John King's boat and his son Benjamin a small lad we fished in the channel near Tallman's Creek. We concluded to hoist sail and run down to the Beech. In doing so the Skiff upset. The boy and myself got on to the bottom of the boat. I lost my hat—it sunk to the bottom. We remained there for sometime. At last William Pichard and Samuel Lain came from Rumson to our deliverance they refused receiving anything for their services but I think I have since rewarded them. I came to John Kings without a hat and glad to get home alive. This was just before my daughter Betsey was married to Amos Tilton. They had passed meeting. I hardly expected to see it accomplished when on the bottom of the boat in the channel, but blessed be his Holy Name I am still a monument of his Mercies. My brother John proposed to join us in partnership, he to purchase all the goods and I to take charge of the store and share the profits equally. We purchased a boat, after a while business declined our boat did not pay ware and tare. The hands run away with all the profits. We mutually dissolved partnership and I had to buy all the goods, and have ever since. When we dissolved partnership with Brother John it was agreed that we should pay him a commission for purchasing goods we wrote for, but when we settled he wanted pay for all goods bought. I thought hard in his so doing but I let it pass. I had a large family to support. My wife and myself had to rise early and work hard to support them. I had an old unsettled account with Brother John for lumber from Ludlow's Yard. After his death his son George (was not a member of the Friends) became much embarrassed. I concluded to let it go with the rest, but it gave me some consolation that they all allowed it to be my just due. From inability my brother Robert was seldom in the store he was very fond of setting up different mechanics, but not to see to any part of selling or carrying them on. He in company with Joseph Parker built a saw mill—Betsey Parker's husband. He was a poor tool for his works proved him to be so—he had the worst work in building the mill done in cold show days—men worked with mittens. At last he began sawing we were to have mill.

When we sent for our half we found that he had carted it all to our store and we had been buying our own boards. We also bought of Job Morris a plantation near the sawmill a man and his wife was on the place we were to have one half of the butter and cheese it served for country seat at Squancom—in a short time all seemed to be going to decay and we sold both the plantation and the saw mill and took horses and so on for pay and bid farewell to Squancom. We next set up a blacksmith and cooper shop furnished each with tools. The blacksmith turned horseeler and the cooper lazy and the shop and tools all fell on our hands. We next set up John Winans in a hat factory—found him fur. He spoiled all the hats and came out of the little end of the horn. After that old Molly DeCamp started a store in Turkeytown. We supplied her with goods. At first it looked like doing well. She got in debt and moved off to Brunswick we lost all the debt with costs. Then Thomas Tilton proposed for us to supply him with goods at Squan and give us half the profits—he might have done very well had he not trusted so much, also his son William lived in New York whom he supplied with lumber paid for out of the store which caused its ruin. I believe Thomas Tilton to be an honest upright man—omitted many things not having learning. We had all matters settled by Arbitration after his death. Now all the above I mention to show my children that all our schemes failed where we had to trust to other persons to do our business and found but little dependance to be placed in any one when it was not under my eye and examine the accounts myself and not trust it to others. I then drew all my business into a small compass and found it not so much perplexity. The corner house we rented for a tavern to a man named Joseph Vimk. It was attended with so much trouble to collect the rent and keep the house in repair which all fell on me. The house was on fire several times and would have burned down if I had not obtained help speedily. He was a bad man and I had many long law suits to get him out so I had it fixed in my mind to sell when a chance offered and I sold it to Corlies and Allen they have paid me in full, and to return my daughter Caroline who had all the charge of the store when I was away from [home] was taken from me by death. She was much esteemed by all who knew her and was company for both young and old. She departed with praise to her Maker, and I believe she is now in the realms of Bliss. My dear wife began to complain. She was a very stirring woman and would never give up unless very Bad. I have observed her cheerfulness when in her bodily weakness, yet with a composed mind. She would entertain company as though nothing ailed her. She had a sweet temper—good disposition and kind to the poor and her steps will long be remembered. I believe she is now with the dear children in the blessed abode singing her Maker's praise, the loss I felt more than this pen can mention, but I said the Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away blessed be forever the name of the Lord. I hope I may so live and end my days that we may both again meet never to part. When we were first married we had to use great economy. I began life with very little property. I had a small store had been plundered by the Refugees, I was called a Rebel having always taken an active part in the American cause and had been a wagon-master under General Putnam, but had an acquittal from him—honorably and had retired to the land of my nativity in order to settle in life more agreeable to my mind—and this the Refugees and Tories knew as I had informed them that I half left the army. I would also say just before we were married, the tories robbed my wife of her last bed. She sat on it until they dragged both her and the bed into the street, it is our duty to forgive but we cannot forget them. And it was my opinion—is now—that none but true Americans should be at the head of Government affairs and it is duty to keep all Foreigners from Public office, but use them well while they behave well keep them from office as much as possible. We have obtained our Independence and we ought to be very thankful to Him for the same and the way for us to keep it is to live in love for all but trust none to conduct the affairs of the Nation but true Americans. This much I thought might not be amiss to pen at this time. There is one thing I omitted on the first part of this paper. When making arrangements to pay my Master who lay sick at Cooperstown I took what money I earned at Bordentown, and borrowed the balance of Jonathan Chesar. I had seen him at my fathers and also at my uncles Thomas White while I lived with him and had the care of his horse. I was a poor lad and he was the only one I could think of who would trust me for the money and he did. I was very bare for shirts at the time my master paid me back two bills for that purpose, but I kept the very bills untill I earned money enough to pay off my note—but I sold a pair of new boots to help raise the money. I paid him so soon he threw off the interest, for which I thanked him. I was advised not to pay for my time—I was only bound to him he could not sell it but this came to my mind—he will soon leave this world, and if I don't pay him his full demand when I meet him in the World of Spirits he would look angry at me—so I made up my mind to pay him in full of all demands and I am very glad I did and it may be one cause and a great cause why I have been so blest in basket and in store when I paid him, he bid me farewell and requested me to be nice and keep good company, not any low company but such as might improve me. I thanked him for his good advise he died soon after. I mention this to show my children how good it is to attend to inward Monitor at all times in youth as well as in old age. William Penn's advice to his son William is good he says:—"No cross, no crown, let nothing in the world tempt you to wrong your conscience." I mention this to show how good it is and how will be to attend to the blessed Monitor within us. I have great cause to be thankful that in some measure I have attended to it which has kept me in early life from many grave evils. After the departure of my loving wife in a reasonable time I was inclined to marry my second wife judging it far better than to hire a housekeeper for generally they have no interest in the family but their wages and there would be great waste of property in and about the house what come in at the door flew out at the window for they have friends and relations they wish to help. I have had a trial of both and would choose to support a good wife and many children than one housekeeper hired by the week. But this is a task for a widower to perform first the age—temper—religion—virtue—economy and agreeable to your family to study all this and consider it well and ask in secret that you may be blest in your undertaking with the Presence of Divine Providence, all this I think I tried to do in my second choice for a wife which as yet I have no cause to regret and I hope I never shall. I had known her from childhood and her father and mother had both been kind to me when a stranger in a strange land. It is not my intention to mention our marriage as my children by my first wife all remember her. We had three children viz.—Stacy—William and Sarah. We have great cause to be thankful for so many favors and blessings having health and the means to entertain both friends and stranger at our house. We have had the company of many from different parts of the world. I will mention of a great deliverance and recovery from a bed of sickness. I had been in the sea and had taken cold and concluded to take a dose of Calomel which proved to be very severe. I was in great distress of body the Doctor had no hopes of my recovery. I was greatly reduced and was obliged to lie very low for nine or ten months. I was taken sick in the summer and remained so until late the next spring, when I gave over all hopes of ever recovering my health. My heart beat so that strong that you could see my waistcoat move at every motion. I had recourse to everything I could think of but none seemed to help me. At last one Doctor Perkins came to get some Medicines and told me that it was a nerve that led to my heart which was out of order and said if I would [take] some conserve (or sweet meat) with port wine and solid food it would help me. I did so and had not used it more than two days before it began to amend and the blessing of health returned. I mention this as another great Mercy and favor to be remembered. This conserve is made of the real rose and leaf sugar or good broken lump sugar will answer 2 lbs. of sugar to one pound of buds and leaves pound the buds and leaves first then add the sugar and pound them all together—as I was in a very weak state it seemed to brace me up and give me strength—I mention this that if any of my children or friends or any one else should ever be in the same way that they might [employ] the same remedy which through divine favor helped me, and be a benefit to some one else in a weak state of health.

MONMOUTH COUNTY

THOMAS WHITLOCK, an early settler in Gravesend and Westchester, New York, and later a resident of Middletown, New Jersey, was, I infer, the son of Thomas Whitlock, of Rappahannock County, Virginia, who made his will Oct. 9, 1659, mentioning his wife Mary and his son Thomas. Virginia Magazine of History, Vol. V., p. 285.

There is no evidence to support this inference; it is simply based upon the general harmony of dates, similarity of family names and the absence in 1655, of Thomas Whitlock from Gravesend during which time his wife acted as his attorney. It is undoubtedly this Thomas Whitlock who is mentioned in the following paragraph: 1638, March 2. Richard Bennett, of Isle of Wight County, Virginia, (page 626), had a grant of 300 acres of land, upon the bay behind Ambrose Meders point and near Thomas Davis, in right of 6 persons by John Myles: John Myles, Tho Whitlock, Silvester Focher (changed), Robert Willey, William Harrison, Andrew Blackwell.

Thomas Whitlock while in old England, tradition says, married a young woman under the following romantic circumstances: A party of lads and maidens were strolling over the fields on a bright Sunday afternoon when, coming to a hedge, one of the girls, Susanna Stock, threw her glove across it, and jestingly said she would give her hand to the one who could vault it. Athletic young Whitlock accomplished it and claimed the reward, saying it was fit that the Stock should go with the Lock. Certain it is that Whitlock had a daughter Susanna.

Miss Harriet Bray, a student of Whitlock genealogy, wrote me: "I have heard many times the statement that Thomas Whitlock married, for a first wife, Susanna Stock, and though I have searched diligently I have never found any evidence that such a person as Susanna Stock ever existed. Of course I cant prove that she did not, but not a scrap of proof could I ever unearth."

During his residence in Gravesend, Long Island, he sold, Aug. [2] 25, 1655, through his wife, Mary,* acting as his attorney, a house and lot to John George Baldwin [Balden], and we know that he married, after 1675, Mary, the widow of Thomas Seabrook, of Westchester town, Westchester Co., N. Y. So that it is fair to suppose that he had three wives. His apparent absence in 1655, and the action of his wife in disposing of his property at the time, suggests that he was away, closing up his affairs in an earlier home.

In 1654, he bought a farm of Nicholas Stillwell in Gravesend.

In October, 1663, he was one of the men, "armed and well mounted," who joined the English troops at Jamaica.

In December, 1663, he was a member of the Gravesend scouting expedition to Navising region, later Monmouth Co., N. J., who, in defiance of the Dutch, intended to buy and settle thereon.

Judged by these last two actions he belonged to the discontented English contingent who had sought a home among the Dutch, but who desired to renounce their allegiance with the Connecticut settlements.

1666, Oct. 24, he bought from Christianson Jacobson [Wolf], lot 34 in Gravesend.

1670. He had Guisbert Island rights assigned to him.

1670, Apr. 11. Nicholas Stillwell sold him lot 29 in Gravesend.

1671, Nov. 6. Whereas the quorum was pleased to order Will Wilkinse to pay tenn pounds towards the relefe of Hanna Aplegate and her childe this sheweth that Thomas Whitlock received of Mr. Delavall five pounds of the above said soume of the which the said Thomas delivered five pounds to the Constable and overseers of Gravesend in red cloth which by them was delivered to Bartholomew Applegate the husband of the said Hanna for the use above said and the other twenty shilings, the remainder of the five pounds was deducted off to defray other charges and labor that Thomas Whitlock has been at for the use of Hanna Applegate. [Not strictly verbatim et literatim.]

Received of the Constable of Gravesend five pounds in red cloth upon the amount of ten pounds received of William Wilkins according to the Governor's order towards the release of Hanna Applegate and her child, by me Bartholomew Applegate. Attest: Will Goulding, Clarke. Gravesend Records.

1672, Apr. 10. Thomas Whitlock, of Gravesend, sold lots 29 and 34, to Barent Johnson, of Amersford, which were to be delivered May 1, 1673. On the same paper is endorsed:

During his residence in Gravesend, 1664, New Netherlands was surrendered to the English, and immediately Thomas Whitlock with his own and four other families, settled upon the unbroken soil of Middletown, in Monmouth Co., N. J.

In 1667, the settlement of this village was effected by a patent, granted in April, 1665, by Governor Nicholls to the Monmouth Patentees and their Associates, and Thomas Whitlock received lots 4 and 34.

In 1670, he was among the purchasers of land called Newasink, Narumsunk and Pootapeck.

In 1673, Thomas Whitlock and his three sons, took the Oath of Allegiance to the Dutch, who had recently and temporarily re-entered New York, and at the same time the Dutch Governor, Calve, appointed him, (Thomas Whitlock, Sr.), ensign of the Middletown militia company.

In 1675, under his claim for the "Rights of Land due according to the Concessions" six hundred acres:

Thomas Whitlock, of Middleton, brings for his Rights from the Yeare 1664 for himselfe his Wife & 3 sonns Thomas William & John In all five persons at 120 acres a head Is 600 acres.
East Jersey Grants, Vol. 3, B side, page 1.

1676, Jan. 10. He patented two hundred and seventeen acres of land at Middletown for the Proprietors.

In 1675, Thomas Seabrook died leaving his widow, Mary, residing in Westchester, whither Thomas Whitlock soon betook himself, and where he must soon have married her, for he was sued under the following circumstances:

Roger Townsend, in October, 1672, had sold land in Westchester to Morgan Bedient, singleman, who, the following year, 1673, sold it to Thomas Seabrook. Both Bedient and Seabrook shortly died and the latter was succeeded in his property by his brother, Thomas Bedient, who threatened an action against Thomas Whitlock, who had apparently married Mary, the widow of Seabrook, and who, in 1688, secured a release from all claims owned by the said Bedient.

There was also seemingly some confusion about other lands owned by Thomas Seabrook, for the town of Westchester decreed, April 22, 1692, that:

Whereas there is a Twenty ffive pound priviledge of Comonage belonging to the Orphant of Thomas Seabrook late freeholder of this Town Deceased the said Priviledge being in Possession of Thomas Whitlock wee the Trustees do declare that the said twenty five pound priviledge do belong to the orphant of Thomas Seabrook & no more intended for the said Thomas Whitlock.

The relations between Thomas Whitlock and Daniel Seabrook, who was the "orphant" referred to, continued amicable, for Nov. 9, 1688, the latter was a witness in Middletown, N. J., whither he had removed, to a deed of Whitlock to John Ruckman, and, June 10, 1696, Thomas Whitlock, of Middletown, carpenter, for £80, sold to "Daniel Seabrook, my son in law," of Middletown, planter, two hundred and two acres of land, in Middletown, at Shoal Harbor, which included his proprietary grant of Jan. 10, 1676; land from John Bowne, Mch. 26, 1689; land from John Pierce, Sep. 4, 1693, and more, by deed Feb. 12, 1691, for which Seabrook paid £80.

1676, Jan. 10. Thomas Whitlock received a Carteret grant of eight parcels of land, containing two hundred and seventeen acres of upland and meadow.

1686, June 8. Thomas Whitlock and Mary, his wife, living at Middletown, N. J., for £5, conveyed to Samuel Vail, of Westchester Town and County, three shares of meadow in Westchester, formerly belonging to Timothy Winter, Joseph Hunt and Mordicah Bedient.

1686, June 9. Thomas Whitlock and Mary, his wife, "Liveing at Middle Towne in the Province of New East Jarzey," for £4, conveyed an acre of meadow, more or less, in Westchester, formerly belonging to John Woolley, to Henry Gardner.

1687, May 3. There was a further division of the undivided lands and Thomas Whitlock received two allotments.

Daniel Seabrook, a witness.

1689, Mch. 26. Thomas Whitlock bought of John Bowne, of Middletown, planter, six acres of meadow and salt marsh lying at "Shoale Harbour," in Middletown.

1691, Feb. 12. Thomas Whitlock, Sr., of Middletown, for £11, sold to his son, John Whitlock, ninety acres of land lying on the west side of Mohorus brook, the boundaries of which were Garret's bridge, Garret's brook, "which is the small brook coming from the hill and running south thirty four chains to the line of William Whitlock's land," Garret Wall's land, John Whitlock's land and William Whitlock's land. This was the land Thomas Whitlock received from the Proprietors March 10, 1676.

1692. Thomas Whitlock was a Grand Juryman in Monmouth Co.

1693, June 10. Thomas Whitlock, of Middletown, sold land, in Westchester, to John Bugbee.

1693, Sep. 4. Thomas Whitlock bought of John Pearce, of Middletown, cordwainer, for £5, six acres of land at Shoal Harbor.

1695, Mch. 26. Thomas Whitlock, yeoman, of Middletown, for £10, sold to John Whitlock, yeoman, of same place, nine acres of meadow or pasture land.

Thomas Whitlock's residences in the villages of Gravesend, Middletown and Westchester were overlapping. Before he abandoned one he apparently ventured upon another, and, holding lands in each, was confusingly spoken of as a resident of each, and as undivided lands were apportioned to non-resident holders he frequently was granted lands though absent. He also apparently bought and sold property in these settlements as a speculation.

A study of the records gives his residences as follows:

1655, and earlier, at Gravesend.

1664, at Middletown.

1666, at Gravesend, where he probably remained until 1672.

1673 to 1678, at Middletown.

1678 to 1686, at Westchester.

1686 to 1703, at Middletown.

The parentage of his children is unascertained, but it seems that the boys may have been, by reason of their age, by his first wife, as well as his daughter, Susanna, while the other children were probably the issue by one of his later wives. So far as the deduction concerning Susanna goes, I realize it is faulty, for to have been the daughter of a Susanna, she must have been born prior to 1655, when Thomas Whitlock had a wife, Mary, and we know that Susanna Pew, his daughter, was living in 1760, which would have made her one hundred and five years and upwards. It is also worthy of note that Thomas Whitlock left no daughter, Mary, though he had two wives by that name. It may be, of course, that he had such a child, and that she died young.

Thomas Whitlock was an energetic and aggressive man, of restricted education, but endowed with a strong, clear mind, which, coupled with integrity, placed him high in the esteem of his fellow townsmen, who selected him to fill the positions of constable, grand juror, foreman of jury, town surveyor, etc.

"Carelessness, physical bravery and unlimited hospitality are Whitlock traits."

The walking stick of the first Thomas Whitlock, marked "Thomas Whitlock, 1692," is owned by Joseph Whitlock, of New York City.

His widow, Mary, was a communicant of the Middletown Baptist Church, in 1712, as also another of like name, Mary Whitlock, who was likely the wife of John Whitlock, 4. The latter is again mentioned in the Church list of 1731.

Mary, wife of Thomas Whitlock, the first, is further alluded to under the Seabrook family.

The original will of Thomas Whitlock is on file as well as of record at Trenton, N. J. A copy of it is as follows:

I Thomass Whitelock of Shole harbor in midletowne in east newjersey yeoman being weake of body but of sound and perfect mind and memory, do make and ordaine this my present Last will and testament in manner and forme following, first I will that that ali my debts and funerall Charges be paid and discharged. William H. Stillwell, Esq., in a written pedigree of his ancestry, gave to John, son of George Griggs, the Immigrant, a son John Griggs, who married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Whitlock, the First. Whence he obtained this information I know not and it is unsupported by any evidence that I know of.

2 THOMAS WHITLOCK, JR., son of Thomas Whitlock, 1, came, with his father and brothers, from Gravesend to the Monmouth tract in 1664, but was of Gravesend in 1671.

In 1673, he took the Oath of Allegiance to the Dutch.

He was included in his father's application for lands, in 1675, but as no patent was issued to him, and no further allusion is made to him, it is conjectured that he died between 1675 and 1676, without issue.

3 WILLIAM WHITLOCK, son of Thomas Whitlock, 1, was a settler on the Monmouth tract as early as 1664, to which he had come with his father and brothers from Gravesend.

In 1669, he married, in the village of Gravesend, Katrine Dorcet.

In 1673, he took the Oath of Allegiance to the Dutch.

1676, Jan. 10. He received from the Proprietors a grant of one hundred and thirty-two acres of land, at Strawberry Hill, adjacent to his brother John.

1677, Mch. 21. William Whitlock and John Whitlock were owners of a pair of oxen which ate Benjamin Devall's wheat. Devall took up the oxen and John Whitlock took them away privately, etc., Freehold, N. J., Records.

1683. William Whitlock agreed with his father to use the latter's cattle-mark in Middletown.

1684. William Whitlock was bondsman for Mordecai Gibbons, administrator of the estate of Richard Gibbons.

1685. William Whitlock was a Juror.

1689. William Whitlock, of Middletown, planter, was bondsman for Mary Masters, widow, and administratrix of Francis Masters, of Shrewsbury.

1690, Mch. 30. William Whitlock, of Middletown, bought fifty acres of land, lying at Shoal Harbor, from Daniel Estell.

1693, Sep. 23. William Whitlock, of Middletown, bought of John Gibbonson and Danill Hendrickson, of Flatbush, Kings Co., Long Island, for £100, a tract of land of one hundred and four acres, at Strawberry Field, twenty-four acres of marsh and upland lying at the "bogg meadow," and fifty acres of land lying at the bogg meadow joining to it, all of which said land said John and Daniell have leased of said William Whitlock by deed, bearing date Sep. 22, 1682, but if they pay to said Whitlock within four years after the 10th of March next £20, a year till March 1697, then the deed is to be void.

Freehold Records.

1698, May 16. John and William Whitlock sold adjoining farms, at Middletown, to Daniel Hendrickson. In the deed they are mentioned as "late of Middletown, now of Freehold," and John was joined in the conveyance by his wife, Mary, who made her mark. What had become of Kattrine Doreet, wife of William, is unexplained, but he signed alone.

He removed to Cape May, where, Sep. 30, 1707, his lands were sold by his brother, John Whitlock, of Freehold, to Jonathan Swain and his wife, Ruth Swain, of Cape May. While resident there, he recorded his cattle-mark, Feb. 27, 1693/4; was a Juryman the same year, and an appraiser of an estate in 1696, and debtor to the estate of John Stubbs in 1704.

4 JOHN WHITLOCK, son of Thomas Whitlock, 1, came, with his father and brothers, from Gravesend to the Monmouth tract in 1664.

In 1673, he took the Oath of Allegiance to the Dutch.

1676, Jan. 10. He had granted to him by the Proprietors one hundred and four acres at Mahmoras Brook, and twenty-six acres of meadow and wood at Strawberry Hill, in Middletown. This land he sold, May 16, 1698, to Daniel Hendrickson, and moved thence to Freehold, where he settled on lands purchased this same year, Apr. 2, 1698, of Thomas Boels, of Budshill, in Freehold, and which remained in the possession of his descendants till 1895. This tract is located at Mount Pleasant, near Morganville, and originally contained one hundred and ten acres.

1683, Nov. 30. He recorded his cattle-mark.

1692/3. He was a Grand Juryman.

1693, Aug. 22. John Whitlock, carpenter, of Middletown, bought of John Crafford, of the same place, thirteen acres of meadow lying at Shoal Harbor, bounded by the meadows of William Whitlock, Thomas Cox and Sarah Reape.

The Proprietors records show that at one time he was apparently interested in the Whale Fisheries.

1715, Oct. 14. John Whitlock and John Whitlock, Jr., were debtors to the estate of Peter Watson, merchant, of Freehold.

1716, June 12. John Whitlock, of Freehold, yeoman, conveyed to Peter Watson, in exchange by his deed of even date, a small tract of land lying between their properties, on Baker's bog, for a piece of the land of said John Whitlock.

1721, Aug. 23. John Whitlock, of Freehold, yeoman, sold, for £40, land which he had from Humphrey and John Wall, to Joseph Morgan. The land was near Thomas Warne's and Peter Watson's. Baker's brook, and Baker's bog, and the lands of Dr. Johnston and Company, and Thomas Warne are on the boundaries. Witnesses to the deed were Gideon Crawford, Richard Saltar, Jr., Charles Morgan.

1725/6, Jan. 10. John Whitlock, yeoman, of Freehold, conveyed to his son, Thomas Whitlock, of Freehold, one-half of all his lands upon his decease, reserving one third thereof to his mother, if she outlives the donor. The deed includes the Boels purchase of 1698.

1726, May 1. John Whitlock, Junior, and John Whitlock, Senior, both of Freehold, carpenters, sold to Walter Wall, of Middletown, for £15, part of the land on which the said John Whitlock now liveth, which he had from Thomas Boels, 1698, and more from Peter Watson. "Wiquatunk Lots" and "Baker's Bogg" on the boundaries. Each of the grantors signed his name.

In 1713, John Pew and his wife, both agreed to the articles of doctrine and government drawn up by the Middletown Baptist Church, he making his mark, she signing her name.

1731/2, Mch. 1. The names of both John Pew and his wife appear again as members; John Pew being deacon.

1736, Oct. 4. Richard Mount was appointed by the Church to visit Susanna Pew, "to know reason for entertaining Elinor White prisoner under sentence of death, and Mary Bowman servant, not known by her husband."

7 ABIGAIL WHITLOCK, daughter of Thomas Whitlock, 1.

Some years ago Miss Harriet Bray, a most conscientious, painstaking genealogist, wrote me: "I am quite disappointed that you have not yet located Abigail, wife of Samuel Ogborne, Second. Abigail Whitlock, daughter of the original Thomas, lacks an husband and I have been tempted to marry her to Samuel Ogborne and defy the interested to prove that she was not. She is the only Abigail at large I can find whose dates are suitable." This conjecture is entitled to consideration but it is well to recollect that Samuel Ogborne, the Second, came from West Jersey, and may have brought his wife with him.

There was a Thaddeus Whitlock, school master, of Norwalk, Conn., who came to Shrewsbury, N. J., where he married June 3, 1803, Mary, daughter of Benjamin and Mary (Morris) White, born Apr. 1, 1785; died Oct. 21, 1861. WOODWARD

NEW JERSEY

1 ANTHONY WOODWARD was born, near Ashford-in-the-water, Derbyshire, England, in 1657. He was still there, 12mo., 22, 1682, when his sister Alice was married to Edward Booth, in Ashford Friends' Meeting. He emigrated to America and was for a long time on Long Island, whence he removed to New Jersey, bringing with him a certificate of removal to Chesterfield Monthly Meeting, which described him as a young man in good standing. He married, in Chesterfield Meeting, 12mo., 14, 1686, Hannah, daughter of Thomas Foulkes, whom he appears to have previously known in England. The Friends appointed to ascertain their "clearness on account of marriage," etc., reported they were "not satisfied concerning her and John Hooten," and requested them to "stay one month longer, but contrary to their desire they Proseeded in their marriage, which was some trouble to Friends."

Anthony Woodward became a large land owner, and was held in high esteem by both the East and West Jersey Proprietors, who, in their travels from Burlington to Shrewsbury, made his house a stopping place. He was prominent in Chesterfield Meeting; held many township offices, and was a Member of the General Assembly of East Jersey, during the administration of Lord Cornbury.

He died, and was buried Mch. 16, 1730, leaving a will dated Dec. 29, 1718, and proved Mch. 26, 1730, in which he mentioned:

his wife, Hannah; sons, Thomas, John, Anthony, William, Joseph and Samuel, and daughters, Elizabeth King, Mary Maltsby, Clement Woodward and Sarah Woodward.

Issue

- 2 Mary Woodward born 1, 20, 1688; died 7, 13, 1688. Chesterfield Meeting Records. Woodward's History of Burlington says: Mary Woodward buried 1, 13, 1686.

- 4 John Woodward
- 5 Anthony Woodward
- 6 William Woodward
- 7 Joseph Woodward
- 8 Samuel Woodward

- 9 Elizabeth Woodward married, 9, 13, 1706, John King, intentions being dated, at Chesterfield, 8, 3, 1706.
- 10 Mary Woodward was the wife of Mr. Maltsby, in the will of her father, in 1718.
- 11 Clement Woodward unmarried, in 1718, as per her father's will.
- 12 Sarah Woodward unmarried, in 1718, as per her father's will.

3 THOMAS WOODWARD, son of Anthony Woodward, 1, was probably he, who, May 21, 1777, was called before the Council of Safety and interrogated as to his disaffection and suspicious conduct, and the cause of his late "elopement" from the guard in Haddonfield, and for whom a warrant of commitment was directed to the Sheriff of the County of Gloucester, June 6, 1777, in which he was charged "with maliciously and advisedly saying and doing Things encouraging Disaffection and manifestly tending towards Tumults & Disorders in the State aforesaid, and with maliciously & advisedly spreading such false Rumours concerning the American Forces, and the Forces of the Enemy as tend to alienate the Affections of the people from the Government, and to terrify & discourage the good subjects of this State, and to dispose them to favour the Pretensions of the Enemies of the State."

Minutes—Council of Safety of New Jersey, 1777, p. 60.

If this Thomas Woodward is the son of Anthony Woodward, 1, which I believe to be the case, he was advanced in years. Whether he is identical with, or perhaps a father to, Thomas Lewis Woodward, I do not know. Thomas Lewis Woodward is alluded to under Anthony Woodward, 14, and Aug. 20, 1776, he was fined, by the Council of Safety, in the sum of sixteen pounds, proclamation money.

5 ANTHONY WOODWARD, son of Anthony Wood, 1, is first met with in 1725, when he bought the farm, ("Rural Park"), of John Thorn, Jr., and built the present mansion, lately occupied by Thomas Howard, in which he lived until his death in October, 1784. He was a man of great enterprise and business, and held various township offices. He married, 10, 2, 1718, Constance, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Allen) Williams, of Shrewsbury, N. J.

13 ISRAEL WOODWARD, son of Anthony Woodward, 5.

In the Freehold, County Clerk's Office, may be found recorded a power of attorney given by John E. Woodward, of Northampton Township, Burlington County, Edw. Black and Elizabeth, (late Woodward), his wife, Axsah Heulings, Alice Woodward, Samuel R. Lippincott and Mary, (late Heulings), his wife, Israel W. Heulings (Edw. Chester, Burlington County, Samuel Woodward, Israel Woodward, of Nottingham, Burlington County, and Isaac Huling, as heirs-at-law of Robert Evelman, deceased, and Robert Woodward, of Upper Freehold. If there were any date connected with this, as there probably was, it was overlooked. But from the occurrence of the name Israel Woodward in it, I am inclined to think it may belong to this line.

14 ANTHONY WOODWARD, son of Anthony Woodward, 5, is proven a son, as he names in his will a brother, George Woodward. The name, George, is a Williams' name. Constance, the wife of Anthony Woodward, 5, had a brother, George Williams, after whom she, apparently, named her son, George Woodward, and Anthony and Constance Woodward named a daughter, Constant, after her grandmother, Constant Williams, who, it happened, married, for her second husband, not only a Williams, but an Israel Williams.

Anthony Woodward resided, at the date his will was made, at Upper Freehold. He was of Chesterfield when he married, between Apr. 5 and May 3, 1756, Deborah Tilton, who was born in 1734, as two of his children, at least, name a child Deborah. Further, his son, Nimrod, signed, as a witness, to the marriage of his cousin, Phebe Williams, immediately after two Tiltons, who were uncles of this same Phebe Williams. See Stillwell's Hist. Miscellany, Vol. ii, p. 318.

Anthony Woodward, son of Anthony Woodward, was dealt with by the Chesterfield Friends' Meeting for bearing arms, 1777-8.

He was a Royalist, for in the Memorial of Samuel Stillwell, of Upper Freehold, he, Samuel Stillwell, states that he joined the Royal Army in 1776, and was attainted in 1777; that he has a wife and family; that he had a farm of about one hundred and fifty acres, and that he was born in Monmouth County. Further he produced a copy of the last will and testament of his father, Samuel Stillwell, dated Nov. 2, 1753, which left claimant, as soon as he arrived at the age of twenty-one years, his property. The testimony of Anthony Woodward was taken in favor of the claimant, and he swore that he was uncle to said claimant. The American Loyalists, Audit Office. MS in 16 volumes, Lenox Library, New York City, Vol. 16, p. 101.

"Woodward, Anthony. Of New Jersey. Petition in his behalf, (May, 1776), to the Provincial Congress, setting forth the distressed condition of his wife and children; that, hunted by bands of armed men, he had been driven, contrary to his intention, to the King's troops for shelter; and praying for leave to "return to his rank and station in the community." "At the peace he settled at Pennfield, New Brunswick." Sabine's Loyalists, Vol. ii, p. 455.

1776, June 26. An order was issued, by the Council of Safety, to apprehend and deliver to the keeper of the common goal, of the County of Gloucester, Anthony Woodward, Jr., and Thomas Lewis Woodward. July 1, following, Thomas Lewis Woodward executed a bond, in the penalty of five hundred pounds, to "in no wise knowingly or willingly to act inimically or unfriendly to the cause of the United Colonies."

1776, July 17. "The petition of George Woodward, setting forth the distressed situation of the wife and children of Anthony Woodward, who has been hunted by bands of armed men, and driven, contrary to his intention, to the King's troops, for shelter and protection; was read and ordered a second reading."

1777, Aug. 10. Inventory of the estate of Anthony Woodward, of Monmouth County, a person who has absconded from his home and joined the enemy, was read and filed.

1778, June 26. "Anthony Woodward, who went over to the enemy two years ago and lately taken by a party of Militia, was brought before the Board; his case being considered of, Agreed that he be committed for the present to Morristown Gaol."

At a meeting of the Council of Safety, at Morristown, Aug. 4, 1778, it was "Agreed that Uriah West and Anthony Woodward, alias little Anthony, be committed to the Gaol, in this place, for high Treason."

1778, Sept. 1. At the meeting of the Council of Safety, at Princeton, it was "Agreed that Anthony Woodward be offered in exchange for Mr. Peter Imlay."

Anthony Woodward was a fuller by trade.

1809, Sept. 9. He made his will; proved Feb. 14, 1810, in which he mentioned:

his brothers, Israel and George; his children; and Valariah Smith, daughter of John Smith, whom I cannot place.

19 JESSE WOODWARD, son of William Woodward, 6, married

In 1777-8, Chesterfield Friends' Meeting dealt with Jesse Woodward and his son, John, for bearing arms.

"Woodward, Jesse. Of Monmouth County, New Jersey. His ancestor came to America three years after William Penn, and built a stone house, which is (1847) still standing. He was a man of consequence in his neighborhood, and was employed by Lord Cornwallis to contract for stores and forage for the Royal Army. When his Lordship left that part of the country, considerable sums were due to persons of whom Mr. Woodward had made purchases, for which he was held accountable; and unable to make payment, he was imprisoned by the Whig authorities, and remained in confinement three years."

"In 1783, he removed to Beaver Harbor, New Brunswick, and thence to St. John, where he died. He belonged to the religious Society of the Friends, or Quakers."

At the time of the Revolution, there were so many Anthonys that it is difficult to identify them." Chas. R. Hutchinson, Esq., of Allentown, N. J.

1778, Aug. 20. Nathaniel Woodward was subpoenaed to testify before the Council of Safety, at Morristown.

Scudder J. Woodward, of Jerseyville, born 1833; died, June 6, 1906, leaving two daughters, Mrs. Hulett, of Trenton, and another who married Edward Fielder, of Adelphia, N. J.

Horatio Woodward married, Mch. 3, 1824, Clementina Lloyd.

Nimrod Woodward, of Upper Freehold, made his will May 26, 1863; proved Mch. 17, 1871, and mentioned:

wife, Catharine, and left his estate to the following: son, Charles E. Woodward; son, Ferdinand Woodward; daughter, Elizabeth E., wife of William H. Hendrickson; son, Clarkson Woodward; grand-daughter, Catharine Satterthwaite, "the daughter of my deceased daughter, Sarah Ann; son, Reading Woodward; daughter, Emily, wife of Alfred Schenck; son, Benjamin Woodward, and son, Nimrod Woodward."

WOOLLEY OF MONMOUTH COUNTY

Tradition, and it is a most unlikely one, says that Thomas and Geoffrey Woolley came from England or Wales, (about 1620?), and settled in New Jersey. One of the brothers went to Cuba or the west, and never was heard from. While from the other brother the family has been supposed to descend.

The Documentary History of New York, Albany, 1850, gives the following information concerning persons of the name of Woolley: In 1683, there lived at Southampton, L. I., Robert and John Wooley, spelling the name with only one "l." In 1698, the census of Southampton shows Robert, John and Joseph Wooley; also Ann, Elizabeth, Hannah, Phebe, and Mary Woolley. Vol. 1, page 248, makes mention of John Woolley, in 1673, and H. Onderdonk's History of Roslyn and Hempstead, L. I., speaks of John Woolley, Sr., as marshal and constable, Apr. 1, 1686. He probably was father of the John Woolley who married July 6, 1728, Hannah Allen, both being of Great Neck or Hempstead, L. I.

Robert Woolley, first of Fairfield, Mass., and from 1653 to 1683, of Southampton, L. I., was son of Robert Woolley and Theckla Pemberton, his wife, of Hertfordshire, England. Baptised at St. Albans, Aug. 2, 1615, he emigrated to this country, in 1639, and was the ancestor of the Woolleys of Springfield, Essex (now Union) Co., N. J. His sister, Ellen Woolley, baptised Oct. 15, 1611, was mentioned in the will of James Williams, citizen and merchant tailor, London, Sep. 7, 1620, as his god-daughter, while in the will of Roger Pemberton, of St. Albans, Hertfordshire, she is called his grand-daughter, Robert Woolley is called his son-in-law, and Theckla, his daughter, is spoken of as the wife of Robert Woolley. This is seen from Genealogical Gleanings in England, by Henry F. Waters, as published in the New England Register, volume 43.

From Progress and Public Processions of Queen Elizabeth, Vol. 3, page 81, is derived the following: Sir John Woolley, born Shropshire, graduated Oxford 1553; traveled beyond the seas 1557; became Secretary to Queen Elizabeth 1568; made Prebendary of the Church of Welles 1569; died 1595; buried in St. Paul's, London. His son, Francis Woolley, died 1611. Sir John married, second, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir William More.

Whether there is any relationship between any of the foregoing Woolleys and Emmanuel Woolley, of Newport, Rhode Island, has yet to be discovered. Thus far the only thing we know is that the names are the same.

From Austin's Genealogical Dictionary we learn that Emmanuel Woolley was made freeman of Newport, May 17, 1653; May 13, 1667, he and others skilled therein were ordered to repair all arms brought to them by the Captain or Lieutenant of the Trade Band of Newport; taxed in 1680, £1-7-11; and May 4, 1681, the Assembly remitted the forfeiture of a bond of recognizance for good behavior and appearance at the last General Court of Trials, he not appearing.

The statement has been made that he came to Shrewsbury, N. J., in 1660, but the sole evidence of that, if true, lies in the fact that, to the extent of three pounds, he was one of the contributors for the purchasing of lands from the Indians. No land was patented to him; there is no warrant for any survey of land in his name; and no deed is of record in which he appears as grantor. It is, therefore, likely that the share of land he purchased was given or sold to one of his sons.

Of his children, nine in number, all except the oldest and youngest sons came to Monmouth Co., N. J., Edward settling at Manasquan, John, at Poplar, where he had many acres of lands adjoining those of his father-in-law, Thomas Potter, and William Woolley, at Shark River.

3 EDWARD WOOLLEY, son of Emmanuel Woolley, 1, would appear to have been of Rhode Island when his first child was born, and not to have come to Monmouth Co., N. J., until about 1687, when his name is first mentioned there in a deed from William Chamberlain, Nov. 19, 1687, for his one-half interest in a tract of one hundred acres of land that had been patented to himself and Robert West, and for which a patent was duly issued, in their rights, Mch. 22, 1687-8, to Edward Woolley, of Shrewsbury. He married Lydia, daughter of George and Hannah Allen, born June, 1666; described himself as a "hatter," in deeds given in 1690, and as a "feltmaker," in deeds of 1701; and signed his will Jan. 3, 1728-9, which is without date of probate. While in the township of Shrewsbury, he seems to have owned land at Passequenequa, on Rumson Neck, and to have lived at Manasquan.

After living for a time at Shrewsbury, he must have gone back to Rhode Island, where two more of his children were born, in 1692 and 1694, and then have returned to New Jersey, where the balance of his children were born. At least that is the idea to be derived from deeds and from the records of the Quaker Meeting at Shrewsbury.

1692, Oct. 31. John Bowne, of Middletown, owner of one twentieth of one twenty-fourth share of the Province, gave a deed for sixty acres of upland and meadow, at Barnegat, to Edward Woolley, late of Shrewsbury, now of Rhode Island.

1696, Dec. 3. Lydia Woolley signs as a witness at the marriage of her niece, Mary Allen to Thomas French, Jr.

1699, Apr. 7. Both Edward and Lydia Allen are witnesses at the marriage of Joseph Parker to Elizabeth Lippincott.

1699/1700, Mch. 4. Samuel Webb, of the Island of Barbadoes, and wife, Lucy, convey to Edward Woolley, of Shrewsbury, various tracts of land in Shrewsbury township.

1727/8, Jan. 31. He was one of those to take the inventory of the personal estate of Nicholas Mills.

1728/9, Jan. 3. Will of Edward Wooley, of Shrewsbury, yeoman, mentioned:

4 ELIZABETH WOOLLEY, daughter of Emmanuel Woolley, 1, born November, 1657; married Daniel, son of Robert and Avis Stanton, born 1648, of Newport, R. I. Absolute proof of this connection is shown in the Journal of Daniel Stanton, the distinguished Quaker preacher, where, under the date of "Six month, 1674," he wrote:

"Attended yearly meeting at Flushing . . . crossed the Narrows to Staten Island, and then, with Joseph Shotwell to his home, and after having meetings at Rahway, Woodbridge and Plainfield, accompanied by him and his wife over Amboy ferry, we went to Nathan Tilton's and from thence to Shrewsbury, where I attended two large meetings: after the last I went home with James Tucker, my father's cousin."

James Tucker was the son of John and Ruth (Woolley) Tucker, and his mother must have been own sister to the grandmother of the writer of the above extract.

1685, Oct. 26. Memorandum of a deed from Daniel Stanton, of Rhode Island, mariner, to Ralph Trenoweth, of Burlington, for all the former's right, title and interest in one hundred acres of land. [West Jersey Records, Liber B, Part 1, page 79.]

1695, Sep. 2. Elizabeth Stanton* was a witness at the marriage of James Adams, of Burlington Co., to Esther Allen, of Shrewsbury, at Friends' Meeting House, in Shrewsbury.

1695, May 24. The original marriage license of Thomas Foreman and Mary Allen is in the New Jersey Historical Society's Library. The record of their marriage, May 27, 1695, before L. Morris, is found in Book C, of Deeds, at Freehold.

1717. Nov. 9. John Woolley, of Shrewsbury, yeoman, and Mercy, his wife, convey to "my son William Woolley," land at Poplar Swamp, that is described as being the Northwest corner of the said John Woolley's land, and as having been conveyed to him by Thomas Potter, Feb. 9, 1697. Witnesses: Gabriel Stelle, Benjamin Woolley and Robert Allen.

1719/20, Mch. 17. John Lippincott, of Shrewsbury, in his will of this date left a legacy to the Friends' Meeting, in Shrewsbury, which was to be paid to John Woolley and John Tilton.

He was granted a certificate to marry, by Salem Meeting, Jan. 28, 1722; and they were granted a certificate to remove to Shrewsbury, by Salem Meeting, Feb. 26, 1727.

7 WILLIAM WOOLLEY, son of Emmanuel Woolley, 1, born Sep. 15, 1662; married Anne, daughter of Bartholomew and Catherine (Almy) West. He apparently came to Shrewsbury at or about the same time his brother John did, and before the coming of his brother Edward. And it would seem as though he made his residence in that part of the township which was at Shark River.

1685, July 9. William Woolley and his brother, John, with others had warrant to purchase land of the Indians.

1685/6, Feb. 20. He is mentioned as owning land on the South side of the Manasquan River, and Mch. 22, 1687/8, as bounding lands patented to Frances, the wife of Edmund Lafetra, on the North side of the same River.

1687, Oct. 28. He was a witness at the marriage of Ephraim Allen and Margaret Wardell.

1690, June 20. Nicholas Brown, planter, of Shrewsbury, conveyed land at Shark River to William Woolley, of Shrewsbury.

1690, Oct. 7. Nicholas Brown, yeoman, of Shrewsbury, conveyed land to William Woolley, of Shark River, that was bounded on the Northeast by land of Edward Woolley, and this land also was deeded seemingly to William Woolley by Edward Woolley, hatter, on the 27th of the same month.

1691, May 23. William Woolley, planter, and Anne, his wife, deed land to Stephen Cook, planter, part of which was their's by patent dated Dec. 10, 1681, and part of it conveyed by deed of Remembrance Lippincott, dated Feb. 17, 1684.

1691, September. William Woolley was on a Petit Jury in Monmouth County.

1691, Sep. 23. William Woolley and Anne, his wife, of Shrewsbury, convey to Joseph Lawrence, of Middletown, fifty acres of land, at Manasquan, that had been granted to him July 9, 1685.

1692, Nov. 2. Confirmation made to Gavine Drummond of one hundred acres of land, "in the barrens, where William Woolley and W. West mowed their hay."

1694/5, Feb. 13. John West and William Woolly were fellow bondsmen with William West, of Shrewsbury, and his wife, Margaret, formerly the widow of Ephraim Allen, as executors of the last will of the said Ephraim Allen.

1698/9, Jan. 10. William Woolley, John Tilton, Johanna Grant [Gaunt?] and Abiah Edwards were witnesses to the will of Thomas Webley, of Shrewsbury.

bury, swore to the (undated) inventory of his personal estate, made by William Woolley, Gavin Drummond and Thomas Chambers.

1718, Oct. 11. Richard Stout, Jr., as heir to his brother, David, deceased, with Eve, his wife, convey land to William Woolley, the son of William Woolley.

1720, 5, Jan. 11. Will of Priscilla Hearse, of Shrewsbury, widow of Thomas Hearse; proved Mch. 1, 1729/30, left legacies to:

her brother, Joseph Hiecke; her sister, Elizabeth Williams, who has as children Mary and Gabriel Williams; her sister, Patience, who has three children; to Mary, Audrey and John, children of Audrey Webley; to Elizabeth Webley, Ann and Audrey Chambers; and to Elizabeth and Audrey, daughters of William and Anne Woolley.

Witnesses: Edward Faulkner, John Chambers and William Brinley.

The Shrewsbury Quaker Record give the names and dates of birth of all the children of Edward Woolley and Lydia, his wife, and of John Woolley and Mercy, his wife, but have no corresponding entry for the children of William Woolley. It is natural, therefore, to ascribe to all the males of this line of the third generation, whose names have been found, as his children. They are four in number, viz.: Bartholomew, Emmanuel, Peter and Ezekiel.

James Woolley taxed in 1764, as the son of Ezekiel Woolley.

Perhaps it was he who married, by license dated Dec. 8, 1761, Sarah Kelley; Tunis Aumack being surety.

36 Elizabeth Woolley left a legacy as "daughter of William and Anne Woolley," Jan. 11, 1720, by Priscilla Hearse. Perhaps she is the same individual as the Elizabeth Webley, also mentioned by Priscilla Hearse; if so, then she married John, son of Thomas and Audrey (West) Webley, her own cousin, both of whom lie buried in Christ Churchyard, Shrewsbury.

37 Audrey Woolley called "daughter of William and Anne Woolley," Jan. 11, 1720; witness to the will of Eliakim Wardell, Jan. 16, 1737.

8 RUTH WOOLLEY, daughter of Emmanuel Woolley, 1, born Ct. 12, 1664; died Dec. 23, 1759; married, at the house of Judah Allen, Apr. 25, 1688, John, son of Henry and Martha Tucker, both being called of Shrewsbury, born, according to the Friends' Records, at Newport, Aug. 18, 1656; died Sep. 2, 1751.

In 1685, Thomas Potter and John Tucker were charged with the quit rents on one thousand acres of land, in Shrewsbury.

1687, June 14. Peter Easton, of Newport, R. I., conveyed to John Tucker, of East Jersey, all his rights of land in Monmouth Co.

1687, Aug. 18. John Tucker, of Deale, Monmouth Co., conveyed the preceding rights to Thomas Hilborn, of Shrewsbury.

1688, Dec. 12. John Tucker and Ruth Tucker were witnesses at the marriage of Thomas Hilborn and Elizabeth Hutton; and again, Mch. 5, 1739, when George Nicholson, of Chesterfield, married Hannah Woolley, in Shrewsbury.

1690/1, Jan. 7. John Tucker is mentioned in the will of Jonas Hall, of Shrewsbury, and is made residuary legatee and executor.

1692, Nov. 2. John Tucker is named as one of those bounding property that was confirmed to Gavine Drummond, on Poplar Swamp Brook.

The Tucker family, of Dartmouth, has in its possession a paper given by Patience, the daughter of Abraham and Mary (Slocum) Tucker, and wife of Thomas Woolley, 20, that reads as follows:

"Shrosbury ye 10th 11m. 1710.

This receipt may have been the basis for the statement that has been made that "Nathaniel Slocum, brother-in-law of John Tucker, is the progenitor of the Slocum family in this [Monmouth] county."

But whether the assertion was founded on it or not, it forms a material aid in disclosing the relationship between the Tucker and Slocum families, and, taken in connection with the signatures of witnesses on the Shrewsbury Quaker Records, indicates, with sufficient certainty for it to be relied upon, that Abraham Tucker, brother to the above mentioned John Tucker, married, Oct. 30, 1679, Mary, daughter of Giles and Joan Slocum; and that their sister, Hannah Tucker, married Nathaniel Slocum, a son of the same Giles and Joan Slocum.

11 ELIZABETH WOOLLEY, daughter of Edward Woolley, 3, born May 28, 1685; died July 29, 1723; married Gabriel, son of Poncet and Eugenie (Legerau) Stelle, born 1685, and baptised in the early days of the French Church in New York City. His parents were French Huguenots who emigrated from the Southwestern part of France, about 1665, settling first on Staten Island, from which they removed to New York. His oldest brother, Benjamin Stelle, removed to Middlesex County, and settled at Piscataway, while Gabriel came to Monmouth County, where he remained until after the death of his first wife, and, about 1728, removed to Middlesex County, where he received a patent for a ferry that should run from South Amboy to Staten Island, stopping at Perth Amboy.

Gabriel Stelle married, for his second wife, Margaret, daughter of Thomas* and Janet (Mudie) Gordon, and widow of Lewis Carré, and by her had a son, Thomas Gordon Stelle, who was baptised, as shown on the Records of Christ Church, Shrewsbury, Oct. 24, 1734, and a daughter, Margaret Stelle, who married about 1755, Andrew Hamersly.

His first wife and two of their children are buried in Christ Churchyard, the stones erected to their memory being placed in the yard close against the building line of the Church, as is also another stone, to the memory of Elizabeth Stelle, which is in such a condition that the epitaph has been completely lost; it probably was that of the daughter, Elizabeth, who was baptised as an adult, at Allentown.

*1689, Sep. 24. The name of George Woolley or 'Woolley' appears in Court proceedings versus Thomas Wainwright, in Freehold Deeds, "B," page 92. But seemingly this must be a mistake in the recording, for there does not appear to have been another one of the name otherwise. Perhaps, it was George Woolson, for such a man is referred to, in 1694, as bounding property sold to the agent of the West Jersey Society, above the half of the Denward.

His name appears on the index of the old Holmes' account book 1759. He was taxed in Shrewsbury.

No Thomas is mentioned in the will of Jonathan as one of his sons, and it looks as though, except for the matter of the dates of license and of birth, these twins were the same as Thomas and Hannah (Woolley) Borden, and named, one after the two grand-fathers, Thomas Woolley and Thomas Borden, the other after his paternal uncle, Amos Borden.

53 BENJAMIN WOOLLEY, son of John Woolley, 23, born 1718; died May 23, 1798; married, first, by license dated Apr. 2, 1750, Catharine Husbands, William Lewes, surety; born 1720; died Nov. 18, 1784; second, Oct. 5, 1789, Hannah, daughter of Gershon and Sarah (Gardner) Bills, and widow of William Jackson, Jr.

Possibly they are buried in the Friends' Burying ground at Shrewsbury. But one has to be careful as regards any positive statement thereto, on account of the unauthorized action of a loyal descendant of the family, himself bearing the name of Woolley, and being one of the few living members of the Meeting. He saw the distressing and objectionable way in which the Burying ground had been allowed to stand, and, obtaining funds for the purpose, had it put in proper order, and granite stones erected as marks of respect to his ancestors, viz.:

John, son of Emanuel Wooley, 1659-1714
 Mary Potter, his wife, 1664-1735
 John Woolley, Jr., 1690-1772
 Patience Lippitt, his wife, 1698-1775
 Benjamin, son of John Woolley, Jr., 1718-1798
 Catharine Cook, his wife, 1720-1784
 Jacob, son of Benjamin Woolley, 1760-1826
 Elizabeth Tucker, his wife, 1767-1854

There was not the slightest scrap of evidence existing to indicate that any one of the first six persons mentioned above had been buried in the yard. He has given erroneous dates in some instances. He calls John's wife Mary, when she was generally known as Mercy. And he was absolutely wrong in asserting that Catharine Cook was the wife of Benjamin Woolley, 53, the son of John, Jr., 23. The dates of birth and death of that Catharine, who married this Benjamin, are given correctly, but it was not Catharine Cook, rather was it Catharine Husbands. Catharine Cook became the third wife of Benjamin Woolley, 25, in 1744, and probably had no issue by him, while it was Catharine Husbands, "spinster," who had marriage license dated Apr. 2, 1750, with Benjamin Woolley, Jr., 53, and called "junior" for the very purpose of distinguishing him from his uncle, the husband at that time of Catharine Cook. As proof of the correctness of this position there are the positive facts, first, that the oldest child of this marriage was born in 1752, or not until eight years after the marriage of Catharine Cook, took place; and secondly, that in the Parker family descended from Benjamin Woolley, 53, there is a small book with the dates of death of the parents, and of birth and death of their children, and this reads:

Benjamin Woolley, died 5mo., 23, 1798.

Catharine Husbands, died 11mo., 18, 1784.

1791, May 3. Will of Benjamin Woolley, of Shrewsbury; proved July 25, 1798, mentioned:

56 BENJAMIN WOOLLEY,† son of Benjamin Woolley, 25, married, by license dated Jan. 13, 1759, Elizabeth Ribbet; Daniel Woolley being surety on the bond.

*The date of their marriage does not agree with the other records of the Shrewsbury Meeting, for those records show that the first intentions were published in 4th month, the second in 5th month, and that the Committee reported them to have been married in orderly way, 6th month.

†There was a Benjamin Woolley, at present unplaced, among those who had their property confiscated and advertised for sale, Feb. 17, 1779.

The three separate signatures of Benjamin Woolley to be seen attached (a) as surety on the bond of Daniel Woolley, Aug. 8, 1758; (b) as surety on the bond of Stephen Woolley, June 18, 1760, and (c) on the bond for his own license to marry Elizabeth Ribbet, Jan. 13, 1759, show that they were made by the same individual.

Executors: Friend, William Green, son, Daniel Woolley.

Witnesses: Noah Taber, Peter Wolcott, Benj. Jackson, minor.

*The calling of one of his sons, perhaps the oldest, Jedediah, suggests that the first wife of Daniel Woolley may have been a daughter of Jedediah, son of Ephraim Allen, born Apr. 5, 1695.

Monmouth Co. Orphans' Court. A division of the real estate of Daniel Woolley, deceased, was made to Montilion Woolley, a son; to the heirs-at-law of Jedidiah Woolley, a son and devisee of the said Daniel Woolley, his heirs, some of whom were under the age of twenty-one, being Joseph, Jedediah, Daniel and Hugh Woolley, Abigail, the wife of Brittain White, and Elizabeth, the wife of Benjamin West; and to Daniel Woolley, a son of said Daniel.

"REDEMPTIONERS"

IN

NEW JERSEY

The great dissatisfaction existing among the lowly and not infrequently in the middle and higher classes throughout Great Britain, especially where the moral sentiment was opposed to the licentiousness of the day and where many were the subjects of religious oppression, turned the thoughts and steps of many towards the New World, where, from kinsmen and friends, glowing accounts had been written home of the equality of man, his religious freedom and his landed betterment.

How to reach this Mecca was a problem difficult of solution. Shortly a way arose and there was a strange intermingling of the poor and the rich in the emigration. With the development of this country, laborers, of all kinds, were needed and the distressed at home, without funds, sold their services for a term of years, at the end of which, they redeemed themselves by reason of their labor and were discharged, with a modest equipment, from their late employers.

The speculative sea captain, the extensive landholder and merchant, alike, saw the chance for gain and imported this element, indenting each individual in written or printed contracts, of which today a number exist, and which they transferred or "sold" as opportunity arose. The majority of the emigrants were laborers, others came qualified with a knowledge of trades, glaziers, carpenters, blacksmiths, bricklayers, painters, joiners, etc., etc., and the whole were spoken of as "servants."

In addition to the laboring clement there were many who did not scruple, though of gentle birth and refinement, to hire themselves out for domestic purposes. Often one who was reasonably prosperous in the Old World, and whose estates had been confiscated, was left with so little that it barely sufficed to "import himself," while his wife and children would come in the same ship as "indented servants." The Redemptioner frequently rose with such rapidity that he was able to purchase the unexpired contracts of the various members of his family and assemble them about him in his own home. Not infrequently the master married his "servant," or the "servant" would marry his mistress.

Hardship was the inevitable lot of all the early settlers and the Redemptioner either suffered or enjoyed according to the worldly prosperity and the gentleness of his employer. There were hard taskmasters, but the slavery was not akin to that of the negro in our South, for the populated portion of the country was small and kindred were not divorced from each other and the term of servitude was often short.

The Redemptioner frequently filled official positions under the government and was conspicuous in organized church work. His social distinction regulated itself promptly, and he likely assumed in this community the same position that he held in his former home. Today, the blood of the Redemptioner is mingled with every good strain that crossed to the New Jersey shore and his descendants can look with pride to his ambition, courage and moral force.

After the first great exodus, 1682-1685, made up entirely of Scotch Protestants, there was apparently some diminution in the numbers which came to this country, and little by little the character of the individual changed, so that in the first quarter of the 16th century, the Redemptioner was an ordinary case of "contract labor," fired by no lofty religious enthusiasm and probably of no social cast. At what time this type of importation ceased I have not ascertained.

The recording of "indentured persons" protected all concerned from infractions of the contract. It was not conceived, however, for this reason, but for the object of securing from the Proprietors such lands as were allotted under the Laws of Concessions, to each settler, male and female, master or servant. Thus it is that the following lists include both.

JOHN E. STILLWELL.

WODROW'S HISTORY OF THE SUFFERINGS OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND FROM THE RESTORATION TO THE REVOLUTION

REV. ROBERT WODROW, MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL AT
SECT. XII P. 331

Of the hardships of the prisoners transported to America, with Pitlochry, in September, particularly those of the laird of Barmagechan.

Having in the former section given the history of the sufferings of these good people who were taken to Dunnotter this summer, I am now to follow a good many of them to America.

Argyle's invasion being now over, and no more fears from that airt,[?] the council began to weary of the prisoners at Dunnotter, and brought them back to Leith, as we have seen, where another essay was made to bring them to comply with the impositions now put on people in their circumstances; and upon their refusal, they resolved to send good numbers of them to the plantations, and so rid themselves of any more trouble about them. Accordingly, after near three months' severe treatment at Dunnotter, they come to Leith, two of them were left behind as dying men, of which Quintin Dick, so frequently mentioned, was one, and in his remarks formerly cited, he hath some sweet observations upon providence timing his sickness at this juncture. He recovered in some time, and was overlooked, and got safe home to his own house, and lived some years to reflect with pleasure, and record the Lord's wonderful steps of kindness to him, and his goodness under, and after all those sore troubles he underwent. Not a few who were in the great vault were sick, and allowed horses upon their own charges. The Reverend Mr. Frazer was very infirm and weak, and yet the captain by no means would permit him to have the benefit of a hired horse, as several others had. The foot had sixty-six miles to travel, and their hands tied behind their back with small cords. From Dunnotter they were carried to Montrose tolbooth the first night, from thence to Arbroath, from thence to Dundee, from thence, upon the Sabbath, to the Cowpar of Fife, from thence to Burntisland, and thence to Leith.

The council were pleased to come down to Leith, and sit in the tolbooth there, and spent some time in the re-examination of the prisoners. It was but very few complied with their impositions, and they were dismissed. Others, who were very weakly, and had some friends to intercede, got off upon a bond of compearance when called, as Mr. William M'Millan, who gave bond as above, under the penalty of five thousand merks. The most part of them refusing the oaths, and to satisfy in other particulars, were perpetually banished to America, and many of them were gifted to the laird of Pitlochry, to be carried thither. William Hannah, formerly mentioned, in the parish of Tunnergarth, when brought before the lords, and refusing the oath of allegiance with the supremacy, was threatened with banishment. He told them, that he was now too old to work, or go to war, and he reckoned he would be useless there. Old general Dalziel took him up very bitterly, and replied, he was not too old then to be hanged, and he would hang well enough. That same day, as my information bears, August 22d, the general died suddenly, and William's age and sickness prevented his being carried away with the rest. In a few weeks he fell very ill in prison, and appearing to be in a dying condition, he was liberate, and got home, after very hard sufferings for three years and more.

The names of as many as are come to my hand, who were banished, shall be insert just now. Let me only remark, that such who had not to pay their freight, were gifted to George Scot laird of Pitlochry, who freighted a Newcastle ship, Richard Hutton master, bound for New-Jersey; and all the persons now banished were committed to his care. I cannot give an account of all the names of such as were banished with Pitlochry; Several of their testimonies and letters they wrote to their friends toward the end of August are before me; and particularly an original letter, from about twenty-eight of them, dated Leith Road, August 28th, 1685, directed to their friends, too long to be here insert. In short they signify, "That now being to leave their own native and covenanted land by an unjust sentence of banishment, for owning truth, and holding by duty, and studying to keep by their covenant engagements and baptismal vows, whereby they stand obliged to resist, and testify against all that is contrary to the word of God and their covenants; and that their sentence of banishment ran chiefly because they refused the oath of allegiance, which in conscience they could not take, because in so doing, they thought they utterly declined the Lord Jesus Christ from having any power in his own house, and practically would, by taking it, say he was not King and head of his church, and over their consciences; and on the contrary, this was to take and put in his room a man whose breath is in his nostrils, yea, a man that is a sworn enemy to religion, an avowed papist, whom by our covenants we are bound to withstand, and disown, and that agreeably to the scripture, Deut. XVII. 14, 15." They go on to leave their testimony against the evils of the times, and for the preaching of the gospel in the fields and houses, and sign as follows.

"John Kincaid,
George Johnston,
Thomas Jackson,
John Harvey,
Christopher Strang,
Peter Russel,

Besides those I have before me letters of John Arbuckle, John M'Queen, a letter signed I. D. and K. G. and another signed Janet Symington, all of them banished at this time, with many others whose names are not come to me; we shall just now find some of them among those who died at sea in the voyage. In the same ship likewise were Mr. John Frazer, and that excellent gentleman Robert M'Lellan of Barmagechan, of whom more just now, William Niven in Pollockshaws, with a good many others who had endured Dunnotter cruelties. And it is mostly from Mr. Frazer and Barmagechan's account of this voyage, that I am to frame the following narrative of it. Several others were likewise in the vessel, who retired from their native country to settle in America, as the reverend Mr. Archibald Riddel, whom we had in the former part of this history, and his wife, and several of the relations of such who went over.

The prisoners lay some time in the road of Leith, before all was ready, and sailed the 5th of September. Informations before me bear, that Pitlochry tampered with some of them, particularly James Forsyth, to get money before they sailed, offering for five pounds sterling paid now, to set him at liberty as soon as they came to land. But James answered, he would give him no money to carry him out of his native land, adding he had done nothing worthy of banishment. After they had turned the land-end, the fever began to rage in the ship, especially among such who had been in the great vault of Dannotter. Not a few of them were sick when they came aboard, and no wonder, considering the barbarous treatment they had met with; besides, much of the flesh which the captain of the ship had provided for the prisoners began to stink before they sailed out of Leith road, and in a few days it was not eatable. In a month's time the fever turned malignant, and few or none in the ship escaped it, in so much that it was usual to cast over board three or four dead bodies in one day. Most of the ship's crew, except the captain and boat-swain, died. Pitlochrie who had freighted the ship, with his excellent lady, died likewise, and so enjoyed nothing of the produce of near a hundred prisoners gifted him by the council; and near seventy persons died at sea. I have before me a list of the passengers and prisoners who died at sea. It concerns the design of this history only to record the names of the prisoners, and they are as follows;

"Thomas Graham,	Gilbert Monorgan,
John Smith,	William Cunningham,
John Muirhead,	Thomas Jackson,
Kathrine Kellie,	Andrew M'Lellan,
Thomas Russel,	John Hodge,
Thomas Gray,	John Ramm,
John Swinton,	John Kippen,
William Sprat,	James Wardrope,
John M'Kenman,	Thomas Finlater,
John Hutchison of Wardlaw,	William M'Millan,
Agnes Cohalh,	John Kirkland."

Perhaps several of the passengers might be likewise sufferers, but able to pay their freights; but I have not set them down, for shortness. I find further in the list, Mr. John Vernor and his wife, Pitlochry and his lady, and the lady Aitherny, Mrs. Riddel, Mrs. Eupham Rigg, lady Aitherny's daughter, William Rigg, her son, Mr. William Ged, and Mr. William Aisdale, minister. Notwithstanding of this raging sickness, and great death, much severity was used toward the prisoners, at sea, by the master of the ship and others: those under deck were not allowed to go about worship by themselves, and when they essayed it, the captain would throw down great planks of timber upon them to disturb them, and sometimes to the danger of their lives. We have heard of the badness of their provisions already.

Many were the disasters of this voyage. The ship was at the utmost hazard by the breaking up of a leak at two several times. They had several calms, and some pretty severe storms. The captain, after Pitlochys' death, began to tamper with Mr. Johnston his son-in-law, who now had the disposal of the prisoners; and it was projected to carry them into Jamaica or Virginia, and the master offered to take all the prisoners there from him, and pay him in bulk. It was urged for this, that the markets were much better there for servants than at New Jersey. When they are thus treating, and near an issue, very much for the advantage of the passengers and prisoners, the wind turns straight for New Jersey, and they were forced to sail with it. There they arrived about the middle of December, after they had been about fifteen weeks at sea. At their landing many of them were sick; and Mr. Frazer observes, that a worthy gentleman from the west of Scotland died among their hands as they were carrying him ashore. The same person observes, that "partly of such who voluntarily offered themselves to go abroad from the Kingdom of Scotland, and partly of such who were persecuted by banishment, there were upwards of 60 died at sea, whose blood (adds he) will be found in the skirts of enemies, as really, as if they had died at the cross and Grass-market of Edinburgh." Before the prisoners came ashore, it was once intended by Mr. Johnston, to whom Pitlochy had made them over, to stop their getting out of the ship, till they should all of them, under their hand, sign a voluntary declaration, as it was called, that they offered four years' service at that place. But this they would not yield unto; yea, a considerable number of them joined in a protestation against their banishment, with a large narrative of the hardships they endured during their voyage, and formerly, for conscience sake.

When the prisoner's came ashore, the people who lived on the coastside, and had not the gospel settled among them, were harsh enough to them, and showed them no kindness. A little way up the country there was a town where there was a minister settled, and the inhabitants there were very kind to them. When they had information of the prisoners' circumstances, they invited all who were able to travel, to come and live with them, and sent horses for such as were not, and entertained them that winter freely, and with much kindness. In the following spring, Mr. Johnston, upon his father-in-law's gift of the prisoners, pursued them, and got them all cited before the court of that province. After hearing both sides, the governor called a jury to sit and cognosce upon the affair. They found that the pannels had not of their own accord come to that ship, nor bargained with Pitlochy for money or service, and therefore, according to the laws of the country, they were assailed; upon which most of the prisoners retired to New England, where they were very kindly entertained, and employed according to their different stations and capacities. Pitlochy proposed to be enriched by the prisoners, and yet he and his lady died at sea in the voyage. He sold what remained of the estate to pay the freight, and much of the money remaining was spent upon the law-suit in New Jersey. Thus it appears to be but a hazardous venture to make merchandise of the suffering people of God. A good many of the passengers and prisoners died in the plantations, the rest returned to their native country at the happy revolution,—Mr. Riddel, William Niven and others, and particularly the laird of Barmagechan

In Stillwell's Historical Miscellany, Vol. II, page 380, is an item:—"JOHN WILLSON, JR. ONE TRACT E. BY GROVER'S BROOK; N. BY MAHORAS BROOK; W. BY R. STOUT, SEN^R.; S. BY JN^O: WILSON, SEN^R. (this tract of land is still in possession of a lineal descendant of this Wilson Patentee).

Another item on the same page: "THO^S. HARBOUR:—D. 191, CONVEYS ONE OF STEPH. ARNELS 2 SHARES, TO JOHN THROGMORTON, IN MIDDLETOWN, FORMERLY SURVEY'D, NOW RESURVEY'D. N. E. PART BY BAY & MEADOWS OF SUNDRIES. S. E. BY BEN: DEVELL; S. JOHN JOB & S. W: JAM^S: ASHTON. W. UNSURVEY'D & P^T: OF J: GROVER'S" (this tract is now known as the Old Cherry-tree farm; these descriptions contained in these old deeds confirm the traditional location of the Grover mill; this mill in later years was owned and operated by a man named IRWIN and it was called IRWIN'S MILL prior to its destruction by fire.

Judge Geo. C. Beckman in his book "Dutch Settlers in Old Monmouth" gives the location of Grover's Mill as on Mahoras Brook.

Yours truly

EMILY L. (MRS. W^M MARTIN) THOMPSON.

Incidentally, I trace my descent from Jas. Grover three times, twice on the paternal side, once on maternal side, also am a descendant of John Loofbourrow [sic] who built and operated the second mill in the township at the head of McClees' Creek about 1688, A.D.

Letter to Dr. Harrison McNear, Atlantic Highlands, dated Middletown, N. J., August 29, 1931.

Dr. Stillwell never spared himself time nor trouble in his endeavor to make his statements accurate and for years was close to the old settlers of Monmouth County and their families, by letter and personal contact. The above correction is much appreciated and graciously accepted. Harrison McNear.
